Raleigh lawyer named 1984-85 BOT chairman

The UNC Board of Trustees Friday unanimously elected its chairman for the 1984-85 academic year.

George R. Ragsdale, a Raleigh lawyer, was elected to replace Durham lawyer W. Travis Porter, 1983-84 chairman.

Ragsdale, a native of Raleigh, was elected to the 13-member BOT in 1979. He was reappointed by the UNC Board of Governors last year to serve until 1987. Eight members of the board are appointed by the BOG and four are appointed by the governor. The student body president is a nonvoting member.

Ragsdale said he believed in the one-year term for BOT chairman because as many people as possible should be able to hold the position.

The board elected J. Clint Newton Jr. of Shelby vice chairman and Walter S. Tucker of Charlotte secretary.

Ragsdale is a partner in the law firm of Moore, Ragsdale, Liggett, Ray and Foley. He is a 1958 graduate of UNC, where he was president of the senior class.

He graduated from the UNC School of Law in 1961.

Maine family scores $25,000 in one day

AUBURN, Maine (AP) — Rosemary Corkum says she's "not very lucky" — but don't try to convince her family of that.

She became an instant state lottery winner this weekend, collecting the $25,000 top prize in the Maine State Lottery's Match 2 Instant Game drawing Saturday.

Mrs. Corkum, 31, said the money will go toward a down payment on a house for herself, her husband, Michael, and their three children.

After her name was pulled from thousands in a big drum, she said, "I'm usually not very lucky, not at all."

Detroit begins high-tech 'Hail Marys'

DETROIT (AP) — High-tech has caught up with Our Lady of Lourdes grotto at the century-old St. Mary's Catholic Church in Detroit's Greektown, as evidenced by the new instructions for candle-lighting.

- "1. Insert donation in slot.
- "2. Pick up magic wand and place tip inside top of any unlit candle.
- "3. Hold until candle lites."

The electric vigil candles, made by a Canadian firm, are being tested at the Detroit church.

The "magic wand" is activated when money touches a computerized sensor in the donation box. The wand turns on the electric candles when the wick is touched.

"It's terrible," said one woman as she left the church. "I went to light a candle for my grandmother, and when I saw they were plastic, I said forget it."

Campus Calendar

In an attempt to provide the maximum exposure for the events of campus organizations, the Carolina Student Fund/Daily Tar Heel Campus Calendar will appear as a daily feature in the newspaper.

The Monday and Thursday editions will be expanded versions of the Calendar, with Monday's edition containing the events for Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, and Thursday's edition containing the events for Thursday, Friday, and the weekend. The editions for Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday will contain only the events for that day.

The deadline for all editions is 3 p.m. one business day prior to the day the announcement is to run. Monday's deadline is 3 p.m. Friday. Any officially recognized student or organization may submit an announcement to the Calendar at the Carolina Student Fund office on the third floor of South Building.

Since the events published in the expanded Monday-Thursday editions will re-appear in the Calendar on the date they are scheduled, we strongly encourage organizations to submit their announcements far enough in advance to take advantage of this double-billing. Announcements not submitted in time for the expanded editions will appear in the Calendar only on the day they occur.

The Carolina Student Fund greatly appreciates the DTH's generous support with the Campus Calendar, and we hope that through the Calendar and other efforts, the Carolina Student Fund can help to expand student awareness of the events of campus organizations. Feel free to direct any inquiries to the Carolina Student Fund office on the third floor of South Bldg.
