By Phyllis Fair
Sports Editor

The Intra-mural Recreational Sports Program offers a wide range of activities over the summer. It provides aerobics classes, softball, volleyball, tennis, racquetball, two-on-two basketball and match play golf.

Aerobics: classes have a warmup, 20-minute cardiovascular workout and spot exercises.

First session classes Monday through Friday are:

Aerobics for beginners — 5:10 to 6:10 — Studio B
Intermediate level — 5:30 to 6:30

— Studio A
Second session classes Monday through Friday are:

Aerobics for beginners — 5:10 to 6:10 — Studio A
Intermediate level — 5:30 to 6:30 — Studio B

The universal weight room will be opened the entire summer.

Softball: consists of an open league and a co-rec league (men and women playing together). The teams schedule themselves when they enter for the entire regular season, followed by a single-elimination playoff. All teams not forfeiting a regular season game advance to the playoffs. Teams with a .500 or better record go into the competitive playoffs, teams under .500 go to the recreational playoff (only one playoff for co-rec). Games are played Monday — Thursday 4 — 8 p.m.

Volleyball Triples: Triples play (3-person teams) will be scheduled in a round robin format using regular volleyball rules.

Tennis and Racquetball: Competition is offered in men's and women's singles and doubles and in mixed doubles. Players/teams schedule their own matches and must play a certain number of opponents to advance into a single-elimination playoff.

Two-on-two Basketball: Self-scheduled, unofficiated games will be held on the Cobb-Joyner Court (unless it rains). Format will be determined by the number of entries.

Match Play Golf: This single elimination tournament will be self-scheduled with players arranging matches at mutually convenient times. All play must be at Finley Golf Course. Tee-off times and greens' fees must be arranged with golf course.

Those people interested in playing need to go to the IM Office, 203 Woollen and fill out an entry form before July 3.

Currently enrolled students may participate in all IM-Rec programs free of charge. Faculty and staff personnel need to purchase a privilege card at the Cashier's Office, Bynum Hall. Students not enrolled, but pre-registered for 1985, may also purchase privilege cards.

A six-week summer term costs $9 with pool passes also available for children. Fees go towards the care of the physical facilities.

For more information about programs and facilities, individuals should drop by 203 Woollen Gym or call 962-1153.

Surhoff: Year contract with Milwaukee Brewers

By Lara Gibbs
Staff Writer

Last May, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill catcher B.J. Surhoff was the first player chosen in baseball's free agent draft and he signed a one-year contract with the Milwaukee Brewers. According to teammate Doug Torborg, Surhoff got $150,000 as a signing bonus.

Surhoff finished his three-year college career with a .392 batting average, 32 home runs in 167 games and 84 stolen bases. He struck out five times in 267 times at bat and played every position but pitcher.

Though a Pan Am, All-America, and Olympic team player who was drafted out of high school by the N.Y. Yankees, Surhoff is reluctant to talk about his natural talent and skill.

Assistant coach Howard McCullough said that Surhoff is known for his clutch hits and ability to pounce on the ball and fire it back to the pitcher in one motion.

"B.J. is an awesome talent," Torborg said. "He is really fun to watch. He deserves his success because he made it happen. He was hard on himself."

"He always gave 100 percent," Torborg said. "I guess that's what makes him great. He got so many infield hits that just zipped through with a lot of topspin."

Head coach Mike Roberts said that although Surhoff came from a family of successful athletes, he used his instinct and competitiveness to become a polished player not unlike his teammate, Walt Weiss.

ACC loses 11 to NBA

In Tuesday's National Basketball Association draft the Atlantic Coast Conference had 11 of its players drafted.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill lost guard, Buzz Peterson to the Cleveland Cavaliers.

Other ACC draft picks and the teams to which they were drafted are as follows: Lorenzo Charles, North Carolina State, Atlanta Hawks; Adrian Branch, Maryland, Chicago Bulls; Dan Meagher, Duke, Chicago Bulls; Jeff Adkins, Maryland, Chicago Bulls; Anthony "Spud" Webb, North Carolina State, Detroit Pistons; Vince Hamilton, Clemson, Indiana Pacers; Cozell McQueen, North Carolina State, Milwaukee Bucks; Yvon Joseph, Georgia Tech, New Jersey Nets; Delaney Rudd, Wake Forest, Utah Jazz; and Kenny Green, Wake Forest, Washington Bullets.

As expected the number one draft pick was 7'0" center Patrick Ewing of Georgetown went to the New York Knicks, who won the right to draft him in a May 12 lottery.

The draft had seven foreign-born players were drafted among the first 36, four of them in the first round.

Five underclassmen were picked in the first round. They include Wayman Tisdale of Oklahoma, Benoit Benjamin of Creighton, Kenny Green of Wake Forest, Karl Malone of Louisiana Tech and Jerry Reynolds.

Basketball clinic

Dean Smith, head varsity men's basketball coach, is holding his 24th annual summer basketball clinic for boys ages 10 through 17; no high school graduates. The clinic is in two-one week stages. The first week's clinic will conclude this week and the second one will begin next week.

The clinic teaches the boys a variety of basketball skills. The boys begin playing basketball early in the morning and they play through the evening.

"You can only teach so much," Roberts said. "The rest comes from inside the player. B.J. can lay down an unexpected bunt or steal a base when no one else would try. He knows what to do."

Things weren't always perfect in the game for Surhoff, according to McCullough. "Spring season got off to a horrible start for him," he said. "B.J. was under a great amount of pressure and just like anything else, when you stop pressing or trying too hard, the natural skills take over. It took 15 or 16 games for things to smooth out," he said.

Surhoff has eight-to-10 hour bus rides, reunions with fellow Olympic players, financial security and the dream factor to look forward to as he works his way up to the major leagues, McCullough said. "He's competitive — why he'd fight a rattlesnake — you're going to see him in the major leagues, and soon."

McCullough said Surhoff didn't chew tobacco. "It's hard to get Yankees introduced into the finer aspects of Southern life," he said.

Surhoff intends to get his degree from UNC-CH but not soon. When asked if he was ready for the hero worship from baseball fans he was embarrassed and said, "I want people to base their opinions of me on what they see me do — how I play."

Boys, who have indicated an interest in the clinic, receive application forms through the mail in January. Selection is based on a first come first serve basis.

There is a waiting list for those who did not get their application in on time.

The boys come from everywhere in the nation and in some instances have come from Europe.

The cost of the clinic is $280 the boys are staying in Granville Towers West for the duration of the week.
