

BYOB at free jam today in Great Hall

By MARY PARADESES
Staff Writer

A free back-to-school bash will be held in the Great Hall from 8 to 11 p.m. today by the Carolina Union Activities Board.

Under the new alcohol policy, students 21 years old or older can bring one six-pack of beer or wine coolers with proof of age, said Alex Dickey, social chairman of the activities board. Students will be wear wristbands to show proof of their age.

Otherwise, students may buy soft drinks in the fast-break area, and popcorn will be provided. Two local bands, Satellite Boyfriend and Other Bright Colors, will each perform a 75-minute set, with a 20-minute intermission between the gigs. According to Rick Maechling, activities board current issues chairman, the bands play good, fun rock-and-roll. Most members of the bands are either students or alumni.

"Our purpose is to basically provide a free concert with local talent, which several students have requested," Dickey said.

The activities board hopes to fill Great Hall with 450 to 500 students.

Desperately seeking staff; apply DTH

The Daily Tar Heel is looking for a few good people. Actually we're looking for number of good people.

The DTH will hold a meeting at 4:30 p.m. Monday, Jan. 12, in 224 Union to recruit new staff members. Positions are open for staff writers on the following desks: University, City, State and National, Business, Features, Arts, Sports and Omnibus. The DTH also needs copy editors. All interested students are invited.

Union

Appelbaum said the Union staff and activities board, as well as the Department of Student Affairs staff, would aid the search committee in narrowing the applicant field.

After interviews, the search committee will then recommend approximately three names to Boulton, who then will make the final decision this spring, he said.

The position of director has increased in scope over the years, Wiggins said, from when the Union originally occupied Graham Memorial.

The director should also continue to provide various Union programs and services in addition to having administrative expertise, Wiggins said.

Wiggins said the current director, Howard Henry, will probably retire by the end of June, making way for the newly appointed director to begin work around the first of July.
