This Week:

- 3 "A thing of beauty is a joy forever. . ."
Wendell Williamson takes us to Hillsborough, where Barbara Yoder of Crone's Pottery and Crafts creates objects that are pleasing to the eye and highly popular.
- 4 The man of Steele
Jim Steele, manager of the independent Varsity Theatre, is clearly a man who enjoys his job. James Dean and Richard Smith take a look at an individual who has found his place in the sun.
- 5 Music for (most of) the masses
Allison Pike previews a concert next Tuesday night at the Cat's Cradle featuring SST recording artists Sylvia Juncosa and Soundgarden.
- 6 COVER STORY: Finishing on a high note
Poetry, films and music highlight the weekend as the 1989 Fine Arts Festival draws to a close. Billy Stockard and Lesley Bartlett take a look at upcoming events.
- 8 A taste of Spain, flavored with Pepa
James Dean reviews the comedy movie "Women on the Verge of a Nervous Breakdown," produced by Spain's Pedro Almodovar.
- 9 Vietnam comes home to television
In "Edited for Television," Winston Lloyd looks at CBS' movie-inspired "Tour of Duty."
- 12 WXYC Top 20 Album Chart
That's right, the ALBUM chart. And in case no one ever told you, the performers are in the left column and the albums are in the right.
