

'Boss' makes surprise appearance in Arizona bar

From Associated Press reports
PRESCOTT, Ariz. — Patrons at Matt's Saloon couldn't believe their luck when rock superstar Bruce Springsteen arrived by motorcycle unannounced, ordered a beer and wound up in a one-hour jam session with the house band.

Springsteen drove up to the country-western bar in northwest Arizona on Friday after traveling from Los Angeles.

Denny Orr, rhythm guitarist for The Mile High Band, said he noticed Springsteen enter the bar and "the next thing I knew, he said, 'Come on, boys. Let's jam.'"

Springsteen played "I'm On Fire" from his 1984 multi-platinum Born in the USA album plus several covers of oldies such as "Don't Be Cruel," "Sweet Sixteen" and "Route 66," Orr said.

The band asked him to play "Pink Cadillac," but Springsteen said he couldn't remember the words to his hit song.

Springsteen, wearing a leather vest and a bandana around his neck, "was having a good time, talking to the regulars and drinking beer before word spread and the bar's attendance swelled from 7 or 8 people to 80 or 90 in 10 minutes," Orr said. "It went nuts."

Jeff Casserly, a reporter for the Prescott Courier who attended the impromptu show, said Springsteen declined to be interviewed after the jam session, but posed for photographers with a local biker before heading out of town.

Springsteen ran from autograph-seekers, jumped on his motorcycle and roared up U.S. Highway 89 trailed by his four bodyguards — three on cycles and another in a van.

First lady named honorary patron

COLUMBUS, Ohio — First lady Barbara Bush has agreed to serve as "honorary patron" for Ameriflora '92, a floral and garden exposition.

Ameriflora Executive Director John Peterson said Saturday the White House had notified him that Mrs. Bush accepted the role for the internationally sanctioned event.

Ameriflora '92 has been designated by the U.S. Christopher Columbus Quintenary Jubilee Commission as the premier exposition during 1992.

"It is fitting that the modern-day Columbian Exposition be held here in Columbus, the largest city in the world named after the great navigator," Peterson said.

Ameriflora '92 will open April 3, 1992, with a 17-day exposition followed by a six-month outdoor festival April 20 through Columbus Day, Oct. 12.

Former L.A. mayor turns 80

LOS ANGELES — Sam Yorty, who served three terms as mayor of Los Angeles, turned 80 Sunday, retired but certainly not shy and retiring.

The Lincoln, Neb., native who still pronounces Los Angeles with a hard "G" said he has slowed down in his post-mayoral activities, which included occasional political speeches.

"I still do some, but not too much anymore. I don't run myself ragged," said Yorty, who was in city hall from 1961 to 1973. He said he also keeps in touch with friends and former members of his administration.

Those friends don't include the current mayor, Tom Bradley, whom Yorty says has "no ethics," or the Los Angeles Times, with which Yorty feuded regularly as mayor. He gets it delivered only on Sundays, and then only because "my wife likes the travel section."

Yorty said he did not plan a party for his 80th birthday.

Burl Ives sells West Coast villa

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. — Folk singer Burl Ives and his wife, Dorothy, have sold their Mediterranean-style villa here and moved to Washington state.

Ives, 80, has said he wanted to move away from the crowds and dry climate of Southern California.

Ives said he could get more for his money in Washington, where he recently paid a little more than $2 million for a shore front residence in Anacortes on Puget Sound, the Los Angeles Times reported Sunday.

The Ives owned the 50-year-old Santa Barbara house since 1974, when they bought it for $290,000. The couple reportedly sold it to a foreign buyer for $3.9 million.

Milton Berle's home up for grabs

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. — Entertainer Milton Berle is selling the home he shared for 20 years with his wife, Ruth, who died in April.

Berle is asking $4.39 million for the 60-year-old home, which is built on a large lot and has a cabana.

The 5,200-square-foot house includes four bedrooms, a 60-foot-long living room, a library with a fireplace, and maids' quarters.

Soviet boy awaits surgery in U.S.

ROCHESTER, Minn. — At 7, Igor Ladan is already about 6 feet tall and weighs 200 pounds. He's come thousands of miles from his native Soviet Union in hopes doctors can remove a dangerous tumor from his skull and stop his abnormal growth.

Mayo Clinic surgeons plan to remove a rare pituitary gland tumor from the boy doctors call a "pituitary giant."

Igor and his mother, Svitlana Ladan, arrived here three weeks ago after she waged a worldwide letter-writing campaign from her native city of Kiev to find treatment for her son. The costs of the boy's care are being donated.

"I was so happy, I nearly died," Ladan said last week through a translator.

"People think 6 feet, not 6 years," said Nina Sahulenko, a relative from Phoenix who is translating for the Ladans. "But he's still a child. He likes to play. When there are children around, he will find those his own age."

Like other kids, Igor loves apple juice and gum and bananas and ice cream, she said. And like other kids, he reveled in the surprise birthday party his new friends in Rochester had when he turned 7 recently.

Igor is taking drugs to shrink the tumor from its tennis-ball dimensions to a size that doctors hope will allow surgical removal in about three months.

The benign but still dangerous tumor at the base of his brain, as well as his unusual size, are caused by an overproduction of growth hormone by the pituitary gland.

Igor seemed normal at birth, according to the family, but by six months, he was the size of a 1-year-old. At one year, he was equivalent to a 3-year-old.

When doctors in Kiev and Moscow had no treatment, Igor's mother wrote to the Red Cross in Switzerland, which advised her to write to doctors and hospitals in countries such as England and the United States.

"There were times she thought it was the end of the world," said Sahulenko, who is staying with the Ladans in special housing for children undergoing treatment at the clinic.

But letter followed letter, inquiry after inquiry.

"She is a mother," said Sahulenko. "What else could she do?" The glasnost-era easing of travel and other restrictions on Soviet citizens also helped, she said. "Otherwise he'd never be here."

The family eventually was referred to the Mayo Clinic and Dr. Donald Zimmerman, a pediatric endocrinologist they now call "the miracle doctor."

Because the family lacks money and insurance, Zimmerman asked the clinic to absorb the costs of Igor's care, and a pharmaceutical house agreed to donate medicine.

"People have been so good since the moment she stepped from the airplane," Sahulenko said. "That is something wonderful in America."

After the operation, radiation and follow-up drug therapy should complete the removal of the tumor and stop the excess production of growth hormone, a Mayo Clinic spokeswoman said Sunday.

Zimmerman said last week that the boy's overall health is good.

Million-dollar wedding present

BRAINTREE, Mass. — The wedding present Linda Baldwin is getting from the state lottery isn't just another coffee-maker.

Baldwin, 31, of Braintree was one of three winners in Saturday's Megabucks drawing. Her winning ticket will be good for $1,065,960, or $53,298 each year before taxes, lottery spokesman Dave Ellis said.

The total jackpot was $3,197,880. "This is really going to make a big difference in our lives," Ellis quoted Baldwin as saying. She is to be married next Sunday.

She told Ellis her husband-to-be was traveling in Maine and she could not immediately reach him with the good news.

Taking a chance on cow-pies

UNION, Ill. — It was banned as bad taste in Marengo, but organizers determined to let the chips fall where they may did just that in a cow-pie contest complete with cheerleaders urging on the bovine contestants.

The idea of people wagering on the wanderings — and droppings — of a cow was too much for Marengo Mayor Richard Baker, who vetoed plans to hold the contest in the northern Illinois town as a fund-raiser for Marengo's annual Settlers' Days.

Organizer Bob Begora was undaunted — "Every party has its pooper," he said. So he got permission to absorb the costs of Igor's care, and a pharmaceutical house agreed to donate medicine.

There were no party poopers at the contest, where about 250 people watched from bleachers as one cow at a time wandered a grid marked off in 100 3-foot-by-3-foot squares, Begora said.

"You put the names (of the ticket-holders) on the square and if the cow poops on your square you win $1,250," Begora said. "On the third drop it landed on a line, so we split the prize."
