closures is at night," he said. "Paving... and earth moving will have to take place at night."

Johnson said he was concerned lane closures would clog the Beltline during the Thanksgiving and Christmas seasons. Shoppers traditionally flood Crabtree Valley Mall and surrounding outlets during the holiday season.

The Beltline was built during the 1960s to help motorists drive across Raleigh without having to go through the traffic of downtown. A section in southern Raleigh was added to the Beltline in 1980 to complete the loop.

The Beltline, recently upgraded to Interstate status as I-440, acts as a connector for a number of state and U.S. roads, including U.S. 64, U.S. 1, N.C. 70, N.C. 50 and Interstate 40. The various state and U.S. routes have been detoured through the city to avoid congestion on the Beltline, Johnson said.

"The area is kind of a regional crossroads," he said. "We do have to contend with a lot of regional and statewide traffic."
