Leshnock does it all for Heels; baseball tops Mountaineers, 5-3

By Jason Bates
Staff Writer

Every team needs a go-to guy. That one player that can carry a team on his shoulders through the rough times. North Carolina's baseball team has found its man — junior catcher/pitcher Donnie Leshnock.

UNC had dropped five of its last six games and returned to Boshamer Stadium Monday needing a win.

"Right now Donnie is the one who is picking up the whole team," said UNC head coach Mike Roberts. "He's really aggressive behind the plate. He's really aggressive hitting. He's aggressive on the mound."

Leshnock played behind the plate for five innings in Monday's matchup with Appalachian State. He then took the mound in the top of the sixth and led UNC to a 5-3 win, improving the Tar Heels' season record to 8-7.

Appalachian starter Jim Epler held UNC in check through the first five innings, retiring 14 of the 18 batters he faced. The Tar Heels found themselves trailing 3-0 in the bottom of the sixth.

Then the Mountaineer defense fell apart. Manny DaSilva received a walk to open the inning. Chad Holbrook followed with a single, putting men on first and second. The runners advanced on a wild pitch. Leshnock then reached first on an error. DaSilva scored on the play, and Holbrook moved to third.

After Chris Cox struck out, Mark Kingston reached on an error, scoring Holbrook. With men on first and third and one out, Bo Durak laid down a sacrifice bunt to score Leshnock, and UNC had knotted the score at 3-3.

The Tar Heels won the game in the bottom of the seventh. Scott Hughes started off the inning with a walk and scored on Keith Grunewald's double. Grunewald moved to third on the throw to the plate, and scored the final run of the game on a sacrifice fly by DaSilva.

UNC starting pitcher Jay MacMillan pitched five solid innings. He recorded seven strikeouts, including the first three batters he faced, but left the game trailing 3-0. MacMillan received little help from his defense. Two Tar Heel errors led to two of the Mountaineer runs. Of the 11 runs MacMillan has given up this season, seven have been unearned.

"This is a non-conference game against ASU, but mentally, this is a huge win," Leshnock said. "It may end up being one of the biggest wins of the season. This might pick us up."

Tennis falls to Irish in tourney; Cavs win ACC women's crown

Staff and wire reports

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas — North Carolina's 16th-ranked men's tennis team fell 5-3 to No. 10 Notre Dame Monday in the finals of the H.E. Butt Collegiate Tournament.

UNC's record dropped to 7-3 as its six-game win streak was halted. The Fighting Irish moved to 12-1.

After UNC's Roland Thornqvist, ranked No. 9 nationally, dropped his match to second-ranked David DiLucia in the No. 1 singles slot, Tar Heels Woody Webb and Bryan Jones followed with wins at No. 2 and 3 singles.

It was not enough, though, as Notre Dame won four of the last five matches.

Cavs squeak by Georgia Tech

ROCK HILL, S.C. — Dawn Staley scored 22 points to lead top-ranked Virginia to a 70-69 victory against Georgia Tech in the ACC women's championship game Monday night.

Staley, who was named the tournament's most valuable player, scored only seven points in the first 20 minutes. The senior guard came back to shoot 7 of 12 from the field in the second period to key the Cavaliers, now 29-1, 15-1 in the ACC.

Georgia Tech, 18-12 overall and 6-10 in the ACC, led by as much as 11 in the second half.

Georgia Tech was able to hold off the Cavaliers until the 5:20 mark when Virginia guard Tammi Reiss cut the Yellow Jackets' lead to 63-62 with a 3-point basket. Staley followed up on the Cavs' next trip down the court with a matching shot to give Virginia its first lead of the half.

The Jackets battled back in front on a jumper by Allison Echols. Devony Caldwell made a long jumper at 2:04 to give Tech a 69-68 advantage.

Staley responded with a jumper from the top of the key at the 1:26 mark to put UVA. ahead by the final margin.
