And then there's ...

RALEIGH-BASED BAND CONFESSOR will play at Cat's Cradle tomorrow night in support of their debut LP, Condemned. The five-member band, formed back in '86, categorize themselves as progressive, but "most people would probably call us doom," says vocalist Scott Jeffreys. Ya'll have plenty of doom coming up in final exams, but a little more couldn't hurt.

HEAVEN TUCKS WITH HELL SOUNDING is how East Coast Rocker describes Cop Shoot Cop, the four-member crew headed for the Cradle Saturday night. Angry young men from New York City, Cop Shoot Cop released their second LP, White Noise, last October on Big Cat Records, who brought you Carter, the Unstoppable Sex Machine. 'Nuf said.

LOLLAPALOOZA, the alternative music festival that rocked Walnut Creek last August, will return to venues across America this summer. The 30-city tour will kick off July 18. The Red Hot Chili Peppers will headline, along with Ice Cube, the Jesus and Mary Chain, Lush, Ministry, Pearl Jam and Soundgarden. No word yet on whether this fest will head our way.
