Five Opera Stars Will Sing Here; Directed by Famous Conductor

The Wagnerian Festival Singers will give a concert at 8:30 Monday evening in Memorial hall. The concert is in the student entertainment series. The admission fee will be $1 for a person not holding a season ticket.

The ensemble of five prominent operatic and concert stars is directed by Richard Hageman, composer, pianist, and conductor of the Metropolitan and Chicago Operas.

The concert will include trios and duets; the early Wagner operas, which lend themselves so well to concert presentation, have been drawn upon as a basis for the program. Excerpts from "The Flying Dutchman," "Lohengrin," "Tannhauser," and "Rienzi" will be sung by these five artists who have been singing them at the State Opera in Vienna for the last two seasons.

The singers are Alexander Kipnis, Hilda Konetzni, Henk Noort, Joel Berglund, and Marta Krasova.

Negro School Activities

Home Economics and Manual Training Commended by Supt. Honeycutt

The Orange County Training School Parent-Teacher Association met Monday evening with Superintendent Honeycutt as the guest speaker.

During a brief business session a report was made on the drive, sponsored by this group, for the purchase of machinery for the manual training department of the school.

Mr. Honeycutt commended the efficiency displayed in the two new departments, home economics and manual training, and the school program in general. He stressed a more diversified school program for the schools of Chapel Hill.

His advice to parents was to create, within the home life of the child, a spirit of happiness rather than one of discord; this, he said, would go far in the development of desirable home makers and citizens.

Fire Drill in Hillsboro

Behavior of Children Reflects High Quality of Discipline

At 10 o'clock on a recent morning Hillsboro's new fire engine roared to the front of the school and blew a long blast on its siren.

In about twenty seconds boys and girls were coming rapidly, but not running and with no sign of nervousness, out of the five large doors, every grade followed by its teacher. In two minutes the pupils were lined in double rank a hundred feet from the building. Perfect order was maintained.

Five minutes later the school gong sounded, and the boys moved in orderly procession back to the classrooms.

The whole performance reflected the high quality of the school discipline. It is hoped that other schools in the state can make as good a showing.—H.D.C.

Bagby, in Crisis, Deserts Fishing

English Bagby, psychology professor, once president and still a leading member of the local Izaak Walton league, has always been known as a superlatively enthusiastic fisherman. Tomorrow afternoon will bring him his last chance to engage in his beloved sport until next spring, since the season at the University lake ends at sunset. Knowing what a momentous decision Mr. Bagby had to make, the editor called him on the phone yesterday and asked: "Will you fish tomorrow afternoon or go to the Carolina-Fordham football game?" He replied: "I am going to the game."

Class Goes to White Lake

Medal for Capt. Smith

Given to Him by Knights of Pythias Lodge in Goldsboro

Captain Fred Smith received a gold medal and a certificate of life membership this week from the Goldsboro lodge of the Knights of Pythias in celebration of his 50 years' membership in the organization. The medal and the certificate were presented to him Wednesday evening at a special meeting of the lodge in Goldsboro.

Born in Fayetteville in 1858, Captain Smith went with his family to Goldsboro the same year and lived there until he came to Chapel Hill in 1888. In 1897 he organized a Knights of Pythias lodge here, but he has never given up his membership in the Goldsboro lodge, whose roster includes the name of only one older member, Charles G. Smith, Captain Smith's brother.
