

Alexander Is Appointed to Town's Board Of Aldermen

At its meeting Monday evening at the Town Hall the Board of Aldermen appointed William Alexander to the Board to replace Rogers Wade, who resigned last week because he had not been a qualified candidate when elected June 3. Mr. Alexander received a unanimous vote from the Aldermen and was sworn in by William S. Stewart, judge of the Chapel Hill Recorder's Court. Mr. Wade had been disqualified as a candidate when it was discovered on election day that he was not a registered voter. Mr. Alexander, who placed fourth in the May 3 contest for the three vacant seats on the Board, was the only person nominated to fill Mr. Wade's vacancy for the four-year term.

Following the installation of Mr. Alexander, Alderman Obie Davis was elected Mayor or Pro Tem. He succeeds P. L. Burch, who retired from the Board this month.

Mayor O. K. Cornwell reappointed the Board's committees, which are as follows: Finance, properties, and utilities, Paul Wager, chairman; Davis and Gene Strowd, Streets, safety, and health, Davis, chairman; Alexander and Hubert Robinson, Recreation, parks, and playgrounds, Kenneth Putnam, Alexander, and Robinson, Cemeteries, Strowd, Alexander, and Wager.

Other action taken by the Board included:

2. Voted to install pipe in ditch on Vance street in front of Jones and Hartshorn properties, if funds are available.

3. Said that it would not be advisable to extend sewer line into another county, thus disallowing a request by R. G. Windsor.

Roanoke Rapids Is Beaten by Neville

Gordon Neville, above, pitched Chapel Hill to a 4-2 victory over Roanoke Rapids Wednesday afternoon on Emerson field in the first game of an Eastern Class AA high school baseball play-off. He gave up six hits. The second game of the series will be played this (Friday) afternoon in Roanoke Rapids. A third game, if needed, will be played tomorrow afternoon on a neutral field, probably at Wake Forest.

The winner of the series will play the winner of the Clinton-Laurensburg series next week for the Eastern title. The East-West championship round will be played the following week.

In Wednesday's game Chapel Hill scored one in the first inning when Dan Carroll tripled and scored on an error on the throw-in. In the fifth the Wildcats added two more runs on hits by Clyde Campbell and Carroll and another error in the Roanoke Rapids infield. The final Chapel Hill tally came in the seventh when Hayward Pendergrass walked and Dan Fowler and Campbell got hits. Both of Roanoke Rapids' runs came in the sixth on a walk, an error, and two hits.

Sophomore Neville, pitching his first full nine-inning game, allowed six hits, gave up only three walks, and struck out 11, many at crucial points. He pitched hitless ball for five innings. The Wildcat battery collected eight hits. Fowler, Campbell, and Carroll each got two hits.

In the game in Roanoke Rapids this afternoon Coach Bill Grice is expecting to pitch Phil Rigdon, who has lost only one game all season. If a third game is required Coach Grice will probably start Neville again.

Chapel Hill Chaff

L. G. This is the time of year when people who are fearful of snakes begin to think and talk about them, for warm weather is what brings snakes out into the open. But the chance of anybody's being bitten by a snake is so small that, compared with other bad things that may happen to you—for example, being struck down by an automobile—there is not much reason to be worried about it.

No other people are in as good a position to hear about snakebites as people who work in drugstores, and yesterday I questioned Rupert Jernigan, at Eubanks', on the subject. "Snakebite is very, very rare," he said. "It's been several years since I've heard of a case. We used to keep anti-venin, the serum that counteracts the poison, but it loses its strength and becomes worthless after a few months. Since we never had but one call for it in several years, and a dose of it cost us about $10, we quit keeping it. Other druggists have done the same. Now, when snakebites do occur, they are taken care of at hospitals."

"We have a little package called a snakebite kit, containing a safety razor blade, a suction pump, and some crystals of potassium-permanganate as an antiseptic. In case of a bite you make a little incision with the blade, draw the blood out by suction, and put the antiseptic on the wound. We sell about one of these kits a year to somebody who takes it out on a camping trip. Nobody has ever told me of having to use one."

Controversy Develops Over Lloyd Gardner's Request for Re-Zoning of His Property At the Bypass Intersection

Gets $500 Grant The first major zoning controversy since the adopting of the new zoning ordinance by the Chapel Hill Board of Aldermen in March seemed to be developing this week over the re-zoning of land belonging to Lloyd Gardner in the vicinity of the bypass intersection on the Durham highway. Mr. Gardner has requested that this area be re-zoned from a strictly residential RA-20 to suburban commercial, so that he can continue with plans to build a service station, which he hopes will be followed by the building of a restaurant and motel.

The matter was discussed for some time at a public hearing, attended by a large number of people, which preceded the Monday night meeting of the Board of Aldermen. The Board approved a motion by Alderman Paul Wager that action on the issue be postponed. It was requested that Mr. Gardner present a detailed sketch showing measurement, design and plans, and show ability to establish good faith for the betterment of the community involved.

Spring Luncheon Is Planned by League

The Junior Service League will close out this year's activities with its annual spring luncheon meeting at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 31, at the Ranch House. Members may bring guests. Reservations should be made immediately with Mrs. Robert Britell of 64 Maxwell road.

The program will include the election of officers and a talk by Mrs. Charles Doak of Raleigh on "Woman's Part in Our World Today." Mrs. Doak, an accomplished and entertaining speaker, was formerly executive secretary of the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

In announcing the meeting, Mrs. L. C. Neville, the organization's secretary, said that intensive efforts are being made to revise the League's cookbook, "Carolina Cooking," for reprinting in the fall. Plans call for new sections in the book and the improvement of existing sections. Mrs. William Joyner has charge of this project. Members are urged to send her their recipes and suggestions as soon as possible.
