

Community's Inducements Described in New Booklet

According to Jake Trexler, executive director of the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Merchants Association, and Raymond Andrews, chairman of the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Industrial Committee, every passing day brings the town closer to the time when industry will take its rightful place in the community.

The need for more industry in Orange county has long been recognized. The county's present tax income does not bring enough revenue to meet the steadily increasing demand for additional school funds, a larger police force, and various other improvements. The University is tax exempt, and personal taxes cannot very well be increased. Hence the need for the establishment of taxable industries within the town and county.

The Industrial Committee has been working for several months with the State Conservation and Development Department to persuade a particular industry, as yet unidentified, to come to Chapel Hill.

If this industry comes it will bring with it a minimum of 700 employees, possibly as many as a thousand. The industry, actually a well known electronics firm, would involve no smoke, and its factory would look, according to Mr. Trexler, much like a large hotel. The tangible effect would be an increase of 2,072 people, 184 more houses, 357 more school children, $4,130,000 more income per year, $1,890,000 more bank deposits, 749 more cars, 1,218 more workers employed (that is employees of the factory workers), 28 more retail establishments, and 2,520,000 more retail sales per year. This is only on a basis of seven hundred new factory employees, and would, of course, increase should the factory employ more people.

The important thing at the moment seems to be that the industry must be con-

Chapel Hill Tennis Club Beats Durham

The Chapel Hill Tennis Club stroked its way to a 7-2 victory over Durham here Sunday, while two of its team members were capturing the senior crown in the Charlotte Country Club Invitation Doubles Tournament.

The doubles champions, H. S. McGinty and Dudley Cowden, defeated Capt. Dozier and Joe Lee of Charlotte, 7-5 6-1, to take the final round of the senior tournament on the Charlotte Country Club courts. Mr. McGinty and Mr. Cowden had lost to the same pair in a three-set match last year.

In the first round, played on Friday, the Chapel Hill duo defeated Fitzjohn and Field, both of Charlotte, 6-2 6-1. Their semifinal round was rained out Saturday, and they played it Sunday, defeating Cordle and Jones, both of Charlotte, 6-0 6-2.

Here is the summary of the match between Chapel Hill and Durham on Sunday:

Singles:
Whit Cobb (D) defeated Jason Xenakis (CH) 6-1 2-6 6-0.
John Tapley (CH) defeated Bob Fairley (D) 7-5 6-4.
Norman Jarrard (CH) defeated Tom Southerland (D) 6-4 6-4.
Henry Clark (CH) defeated Carl Meltzer (D) 6-1 6-2.
Ken Rockwell (CH) defeated Billy Weaver (D) 6-3 6-1.
Billy Lee (CH) defeated John West (D) 1-6 6-4 6-4.
Doubles:
Cobb and Fairley (D) defeated Xenakis and Tapley (CH) 4-6 6-4 6-2.
Jarrard and Clark (CH) defeated Southerland and Meltzer (D) 6-1 6-0.
Rockwell and Jordan (CH) defeated West and Weaver (D) 6-2 6-1.

Officers of Legion Post and Auxiliary Are Installed

These are the new officers of Chapel Hill Post 6 of the American Legion. They were installed in ceremonies in the Naval Armory on Sunday. From left to right: Norman F. Jackson, commander; D. M. Horner, first vice-commander; Charles Johnston, second vice-

Shown here are principals in the installation of the officers of the Women's Auxiliary of the Chapel Hill American Legion, held here Sunday afternoon at the Naval Armory in conjunction with the installation of State and Chapel Hill officers of the Legion. They are (left to right) Mrs. W. W. Carawan of Columbia, State president of the Auxiliary, who conducted the installation of the Chapel Hill Auxiliary officers; Mrs. John W. Hearne of Monroe, State president-elect, and the following Chapel Hill officers: Mrs. Paul H. Robert-

Tour of Chapel Hill's Filter Plant to Be Televised Tonight by Local Station

Why is it safe to drink water? North Carolina viewers will be given the answer at 8:30 this (Tuesday) evening when WUNC-TV telecasts a guided tour of the University's filter plant. The full-hour remote telecast will be the fourth in Channel Four's "Project: Health" series. This week's remote will be "The Story of Formula H20," a joint presentation of WUNC-TV and the University's Division of Health Affairs in cooperation with the filter plant, which serves the entire Chapel Hill community.

Dr. William Demeritt, Assistant Dean of the University School of Dentistry and narrator of the weekly "Project: Health" series, will lead the way into the filter plant as the program gets underway. Then "TV Tourists" will be

League-Leading Indians Have Won Five Straight Games Without a Single Loss

The Indians continued their winning ways in the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Little League baseball series Friday when they defeated the Yankees, 6-3, and the second-place Dodgers made their position more secure by defeating the Giants, 9-3. The Giants and the Yankees remained in a tie for third place in the league.

The Indians ran their win streak to five straight as Larry Crabtree pitched and batted his team to the victory over the Yankees. He held the Yankees to five hits, and hit two homers himself, one in the third with one man on base, and one in the fourth with two on. Catcher Elmer Ottenger was the leading hitter for the Indians with three hits in four official trips.

For the Yankees, Pete Woods pitched a seven-hit game, but walks and Crabtree's two homers kept him in trouble. The Indians played errorless ball, and the Yankees committed only two errors, neither of which contributed to the scoring.

DODGERS 9; GIANTS 3
The Dodger-Giant game Friday was one of the finest Little League games played this season, excepting a bad first-inning when the Dodgers scored six runs on two hits, two walks, an error and a fielder's choice.

The Dodger pitchers, starter Skippy Snyder, and Billy Goodrich, limited the Giant batters to only one hit, which was a double by George Simpson, in the fifth inning. Tom Prillman led the commander; D. M. Horner, Jr., adjutant; J. C. Williams, chaplain; L. J. Phipps, historian, and Bob Rush, sergeant-at-arms. Mrs. Frances Keller, service officer, was not available for the picture. (Photo by Brinkhaus)

son, second vice-president (wife of the new State Commander); Mrs. D. M. Horner, retiring first vice-president; Mrs. John Heitman, president; Mrs. Franklin Delano Horner, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Fanny Hineshaw, who was standing in for Mrs. D. M. Horner, Jr., the recording secretary; Mrs. Fred Varley, chaplain; Mrs. Arthur Ward, treasurer; Mrs. Ruby Mellette, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Lorene Pendergraft, standing in for Mrs. Jean Kelly, historian, who was absent. (Photo by Brinkhaus).

Red Cross Meeting Scheduled July 8

The annual meeting of the Chapel Hill chapter of the American Red Cross will be held at 8 p.m. Friday, July 8, in the Institute of Pharmacy building on church street, it is announced by Roland McClamroch, chairman of the chapter.

Reports will be given by committee chairmen, and officers will be elected for the coming year. Every member (any adult who contributed as much as one dollar to the 1955 Red Cross drive) is urged to attend, Mr. McClamroch said.

Calendar of Events

Tuesday, June 28
1 p.m. Talk by Harold Adams of University of Kentucky, public luncheon meeting, Le Noir hall.
8 p.m. George C. Bennette piano recital, Graham Memorial.
Wednesday, June 29
8 p.m. Showing of color slides of Ceylon by Erwin Daxziger, Roland Parker lounge of Graham Memorial.

Thursday, June 30
7:30 p.m. Bait-casting contest, Kessing pool.

Graham Will Deliver Independence Day Address
Frank P. Graham, former president of the University here and former United States Senator, will deliver on Monday afternoon the Independence Day address at the opening of the 82nd annual assembly of the Chautauque Institution at Chautauque, N. Y. His topic will be "The Spirit of the Declaration of Independence and the United Nations."

extra copies of the June 6 issue of Newsweek magazine, which carried an article about the school. If you have a copy of that issue to spare please mail it to the School of Business Administration or call the school's office at 4481.

Attend Kiwanis Convention
Chapel Hillians who went to Cleveland, Ohio, for the annual convention of Kiwanis International were Dick Jamerson, president of the Chapel Hill Kiwanis Club, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Umstead. Mr. Jamerson attended the trip by air. The Umsteads drove. Mr. Jamerson attended a special breakfast honoring clubs that had taken in at least five new members this year.

Summer Bargains New Being Offered At the Thrift Shop

The P.T.A. Thrift Shop, which is open from Tuesday through Saturday each week, is having a special sale of summer merchandise, including reduced prices on cotton blouses, summer dresses, men's summer suit coats, and women's shoes in sizes under 7.

The Thrift Shop, located next to the Hospital Saving building on West Franklin street, is operated by the Chapel Hill and Glenwood P.T.A. organizations for the convenience of the entire community. It offers all kinds of clothing and household items at prices ranging from 25 cents. Those willing to contribute articles to be sold in the shop are asked to bring them there or to call Sloan's Drugstore if they wish them picked up.

Mrs. Oscar Ray is manager of the shop. She said yesterday she wished to thank the many people who contributed goods and equipment to the shop during their spring housecleaning. "Many excellent winter garments were sent in," she said, "and are being carefully stored for sale in the fall."

Girls' Camp Opens With Sixty Present

Camp Tiny Tar Heel, Chapel Hill's day camp for girls, opened yesterday at the Recreation Center with a full enrollment of 60 and will continue through July 8. It is directed by Mrs. Martha McGuire and sponsored by the Junior Service League and the Girl Scout Council.

The camp program includes dancing and singing games planned and organized by Mrs. English Bagby and directed by Miss Ka Smith; arts and crafts directed and organized by Mrs. W. W. Alexander with the assistance of Mrs. Joe Robinson, Mrs. L. L. Vine, Mrs. W. D. Harrison, Mrs. W. G. Fields, Jr., Mrs. Reid Suggs, Mrs. P. W. Britnell, and Mrs. Mark Hanna of the Junior Service League, and camp crafts planned and directed by Mrs. McGuire with the assistance of the junior counselors, who are as follows:

Linda Haggis, Vickie Greulich, Susan Greulich, Virginia Hardison, Mary Frances Davis, Elizabeth Green, Julie Demerath, Sharon Sullivan, Mary Bahansen, and Elizabeth Carlisle.

The music counselor is Miss Fran Smith, who is majoring in music at Duke University.

Phillips Russell on TV

Phillips Russell will be O. V. Cook's guest on the University Library's television show on WUNC-TV at 6:30 p.m. Friday, July 1.

Paul H. Robertson of Chapel Hill (right) was installed as Commander of the North Carolina Department of the American Legion at ceremonies held here Sunday afternoon in the Naval Armory on South Columbia street. The installation was conducted by the Rev. Milton E. Faust of Raleigh (left), State Chaplain of the Legion. Other state officers and Chapel Hill officers of the Legion and its Women's Auxiliary were also installed.

Leaders of Legion posts and Auxiliary chapters from all over the state were here for the installation and for the banquet that was given at the Carolina Inn that evening by Chapel Hill Post No. 6 in honor of Mr. Robertson. Judge L. J. Phipps of Chapel Hill was master of ceremonies at the banquet, and U. S. Congressman Carl Durham of Chapel Hill was the chief speak-

Watermelon Festival Attracts Big Crowd

The noise of the Watermelon Festival could be heard even from Franklin street.

When we got there the entire area of campus between Alumni building and Person hall was crawling with students, Chapel Hillians and countless other unidentified people all eating watermelon just as fast as it would go in.

Families were there en masse, students were there in groups of two or three, and in numberless battalions. Every step one took one had to take care not to walk on a child; we hadn't seen so many rampant children in one spot since our camp counseling days.

People sat under the trees, stood under the trees, sat on benches, walked around, clustered around the improvised stage on

(Continued on page 12)

Building Boom Continues as Bob Windsor Lays Plans for New 50-Home Development North of University Airport

Chapel Hill Chaff

L. G.

At the Faculty Club's recent meeting Guy B. Phillips gave an interesting talk about the University Summer School, of which he has been director for many years. One thing he said was that the school had originally been exclusively for the training of teachers but that its courses had become increasingly important as part of the regular academic program. Hundreds of men and women attend the school to take courses for credit toward their degrees just as they attend the two regular semesters.

Incidentally, Mr. Phillips recalled that the University here had the first summer normal school in the United States. It was established by President Kemp P. Battle in the 1870's.

There was a question-and-answer period when Mr. Phillips finished and I asked him if he knew why the word, normal, was applied to institutions for the training of teachers. He said he didn't. There were about forty faculty members present and I asked if any of them could give the answer. Nobody could.

I thought maybe some of my books could tell me. The first one I looked at when I got home was the Oxford...

Gordon Blackwell To Sail Tomorrow

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Blackwell will sail from New York tomorrow for England aboard the Queen Elizabeth. They will spend a week in London and will then settle down for five weeks at University College in Oxford, where Mr. Blackwell will give a series of lectures on American Social Institutions at a Fulbright sponsored conference on American studies.

The conference will be attended by 60 British professors. Other American lecturers will include Barry Bingham of the Louisville, Ky., Courier and Van Woodward, a member of the faculty of Johns Hopkins University.

Mr. and Mrs. Blackwell plan weekend trips from Oxford to Stratford, Wales, and Scotland. They will spend several days at Cambridge, where Mr. Blackwell will give one lecture. Then their trip will conclude with a week in Paris.

They will return from Chateaubourg, France, on the Queen Elizabeth, arriving in New York on August 30. Mrs. Blackwell's mother, Mrs. J. B. Lyles of Spartanburg, will take care of the four children while their parents are away. Gordon and Randy will be at Camp Pinnacle for the next month, and Blair has just returned from a month at the same camp.

Robert Downs in Turkey

Robert B. Downs, Librarian at the University of Illinois and former Librarian here at the University of North Carolina, has been in Turkey since March organizing a new library at the University of Ankara and serving as adviser to the Turkish government on library development in that country. He will travel extensively in Turkey before returning to the United States in September.

Jacob Todd to Be Married

Jacob Winston Todd, son of Mrs. Pat Todd, the former Miss Betty Winston, and grandson of Mrs. P. H. Winston, will be married to Miss Joanne Maier Lewis Saturday, July 2, in Glenburn, Pennsylvania.

Endorsement Operation

Mrs. Roy Barham, former Chapel Hillian who is now director of recreation at the state hospital at Butler, recently underwent an operation at Watts hospital in Durham.

Chapel Hill's building boom received new impetus yesterday as Bob Windsor, formerly connected with the Harris-Windsor Real Estate Company, revealed plans for a new 50-home development north of town.

Mr. Windsor resigned from the Harris-Windsor outfit late last week to go into business for himself. With his old company, he had helped establish the Sherwood Forest development on the Raleigh road.

The new Windsor development, to be known as Glenn Heights, will be about a mile and a half from Chapel Hill beyond the University airport. The property was formerly owned by Walter Crowe.

"There will be about 50 large wooded lots in the development," Mr. Windsor said. "Almost all the lots will have a variety of fruit trees on them. The tract has about 2,000 fruit trees, which will be left—apple, pear, plum, and cherry, and several varieties of grapes on arbors."

The houses will range in cost from $15,000 to $25,000, and will be four-bedroom size or larger. Mr. Windsor has contracted with the Monarch Construction Company of Durham to start building the first two houses within the next 30 days. Buyers will have the choice of purchasing ready-built houses or of handling the own construction.

The development will be in the Chapel Hill school district. It will have 60-foot all-weather roads. The first houses are expected to be ready for occupancy in about three months.

The section is zoned as residential (RA-20), and Mr. Windsor said he had no plans for requesting a change of zoning status.

Mr. Windsor, who will continue to hold his stock in the Harris-Windsor Company, was enrolled in the University Law School until the end of the past spring semester, when he left school to go into the real estate business.

Cordon Broadcast Set for Tomorrow

At 8 o'clock tomorrow (Wednesday) evening Norman Cordon will broadcast over WUNC-FM the second half of his "Concert Opera," which is a presentation of the collector's item album recently released by Victor and known as "Fifty Years of Great Operatic Singing." His guest commentator will be Mack Pruslar, chief recording engineer of the University's Communication Center, who will describe the advances made in recording techniques during the last fifty years.

"This second broadcast," Mr. Cordon said yesterday, "will include recordings ranging from Rosa Ponselle and Giovanni Martinelli through Rise Stevens and Jan Peerce. At the end of the program a record made in 1923 by Francesco Tamagno will be played, and it will be followed by the album's only Hi-Fi record, 'Non so piu' from Mozart's 'Marriage of Figaro,' sung by Rise Stevens and pointing up with great accuracy the new perfection of the recording art."

On Honor Roll at Watts
Three Hillsboro girls, Miss Helen Mohler, Miss Joan Reinhardt, and Miss Dorothy Dabbs, were among the 24 students at the Watts Hospital School of Nursing who were on the honor roll for maintaining scholastic averages of 80 or above during the 1954-55 school year. Miss Mohler, a senior, with an average of 94, tied for third place with Miss Mary Mauer of Hillsboro, a junior. Miss Dabbs is a sophomore and Miss Reinhardt is a

June 6 Newsweek Wanted
The University's School of Business Administration desires