

Committee to Evaluate the Request for Chest Funds

Roy Cole, chairman of the Community Chest's evaluation committee, has announced that the following men have been appointed to the committee:

Gordon Perry, the Rev. W. E. Wilson, Roy Holsten, Paul A. Johnston, Crowell Little, F. E. Strowd, John T. Manning, and Oliver K. Cornwell.

"The purpose of the committee," Mr. Cole said, "is to receive and evaluate the requests for funds made by agencies that want to draw support from the Community Chest in the coming year. The committee will receive written requests for funds and will hold hearings at which representatives of the agencies will present their cases and answer questions. After the hearings the committee will prepare a report for the executive committee of the Community Council, which sponsors the Community Chest, recommending the total Community Chest quota for the coming year and quotas for the individual participating agencies."

"Standardized forms for use by the agencies are now available and are being mailed to the groups that have already indicated a desire to receive support from the Community Chest."

Organizations that have expressed such a desire are the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Negro Community Center, White Recreation Center, Y-Teens, Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory, Peter Garvin Memorial Library, Florence Crittenton Home, Golden Age Project, Holmes Day Nursery, Mary Bayley Pratt Children's Library, Humane Society, and Carolinas United.

Other agencies wishing to be considered by the Community Chest are asked to get in touch with Mr. Cole.

Chapel Hill Woman At Sorority School

Mrs. William P. Richardson has been attending the Delta Delta Delta Leadership School this week at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. The purpose of the school, the first of its kind to be held by a sorority, is to provide instruction in campus and chapter leadership. Mrs. Richardson is a national director of the sorority.

Delta Delta Delta is a collegiate sorority with 99 chapters in universities in the United States and Canada. More than 250 alumnae groups assist in the organization's programs. The sorority has 55,000 members and has given about $200,000 in scholarships to promising women students. One of its chapters is at the University here.

Appointed Production Head

R. S. Dicks of Charlotte, son of Mrs. R. Stanley Dicks of Chapel Hill, has been appointed production manager of the cellulose company for which he works. Mrs. Dicks recently visited him in Charlotte. Before coming home she also visited her sister, Mrs. K. Keeter, in Morganton, and Mrs. Frank Strowd in Granite Falls.

Barbara Sirvis in Hospital

Barbara Sirvis, eight-year-old granddaughter of Mrs. A. A. Pickard, underwent an appendectomy last Wednesday at Watts hospital. She and her mother, Mrs. G. S. Sirvis, the former Miss Margaret Pickard, have been here visiting Mrs. Pickard and had planned to leave last Saturday for their home in Playa del Rey, California.

Landau Move Here

Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Landau and their children, Charles and Richard, have moved here from New Haven, Conn., and are living at 14 Audley Lane. Dr. Landau studied at the Yale Medical School and is now an intern here at Memorial hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Landau, who are of the Jewish faith, say they like Chapel Hill very much.

Marvin Fowler, Tony Gobel, and Tom Rosemond Thank Mike Ronman for Teaching Them to Swim

Horse Chase Starts in Carrboro, Goes Through Chapel Hill, Ends at Wilson Farm on Hollow Rock Road

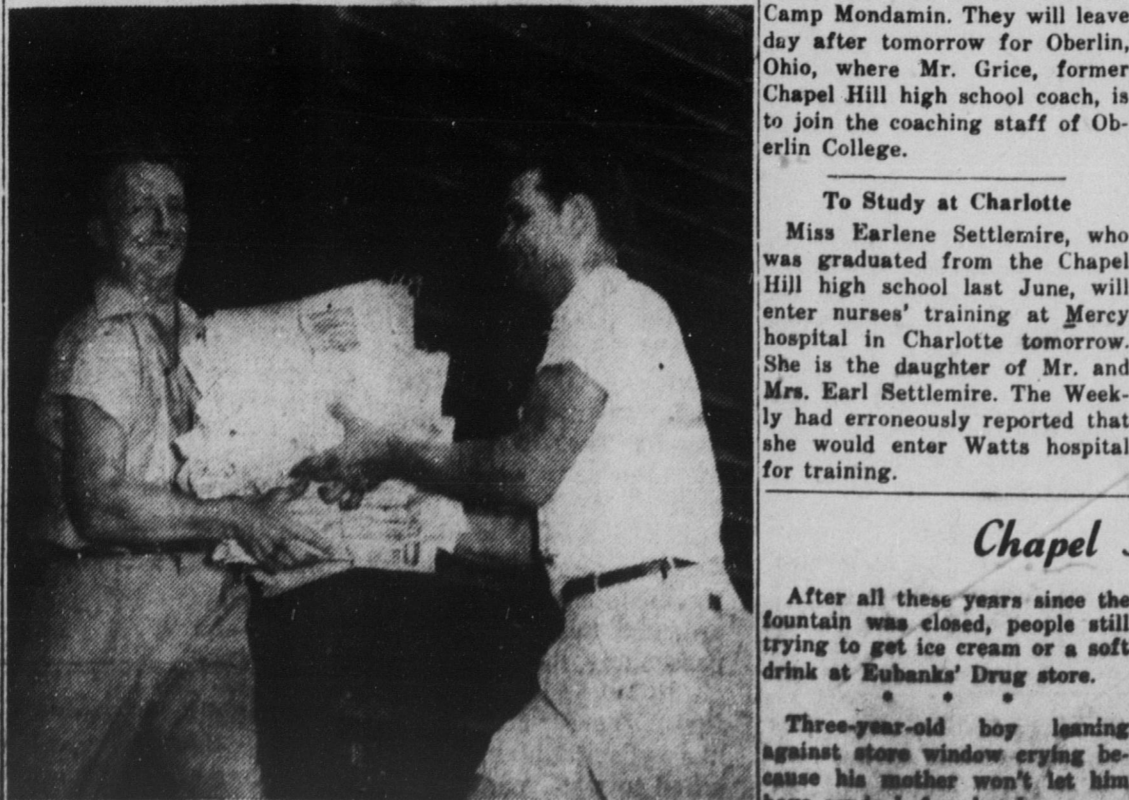

By J. A. C. Dunn
On Sunday afternoon at about two o'clock we were out in Carrboro and we happened to see a horse go by. Quite unattended, she was trotting placidly down the street trailed by a long line of cars and looking as if she were bent on a pressing and important errand. We hopped in our car and followed.

The horse continued down Rosemary Street, and soon we realized that all was not well with this horse. She was being closely followed by Billy Hewitt, her owner, riding in Dr. John S. Hooker's car. Billy was frantically wielding a lasso. Every so often Dr. Hooker would get ahead of the horse, and Billy would jump out and try and rope her, but to no avail. The horse neatly dodged all attempts to recapture her, and went right on trotting down Rosemary Street, breaking into an exuberant canter every so often.

She caused something of a stir in the crowd of churchgoers outside the Negro church; she went through someone's back yard (a startled housewife looked out to see a large black mare dart under the clothesline, hotly followed by a panting boy); she took to the sidewalk for a while; mostly she stuck to the road. Billy was getting desperate. He tried to rope his horse from the moving car and failed. He tried to rope her while running and failed at that. He talked to her, he pleaded with her, he uttered sharp commands. No results. The mare went right on down Rosemary Street.

She was still going strong at North Columbia Street. She went through the intersection with her head held high (fortunately the light was green) and trotted spir-

Jaycees Stage Successful Paper Drive

Preston Hogan (left) and John Hooley are shown leading paper collected Sunday afternoon in the Jaycees' infant waste paper collection, proceeds from which are used by the Jaycees to help finance their civic projects. Linda Spencer, the Jaycees' paper drive chairman, said yesterday that people were very responsive in Sunday's drive and that the Jaycees appreciate it.

Swimmers Score High in Junior Olympics

Chapel Hill swimmers made a creditable and commendable showing in the recent Carolinas AAU Junior Olympics at Charlotte. Competing with 600 swimmers from North and South Carolina, the Chapel Hillians won seven events and set four records, placed second in six, and third in eight. All the relay teams placed. Actually, 16 of the 17 swimmers making the trip placed. Howard Stepp coached the entries.

Terry Stapleton himself set three records when he came in first in the junior boys 50-meter butterfly, backstroke, and free style in 39.9, 38.5, and 32.2 seconds respectively.

The junior girls 200-meter medley relay team took first place and set a new record of 3 minutes 12.9 seconds for the event. The team was composed of Kitty Calhoun, Virginia Ellis, Pat Gallagher, and B. Davis.

Susan Calhoun came in second in the peewee girls 50-meter breast stroke and 50-meter butterfly, and placed third in the 50-meter backstroke.

Minor Davis placed first, second and third in the 200-meter medley, 50-meter free stroke, and 100-meter breaststroke respectively.

Virginia Ellis was first in the junior girls 50-meter breast stroke and third in the 50-meter butterfly.

Lee Milner was first in the peewee girls one meter dive, and Monte Milner was third in the intermediate boys 100-meter backstroke.

Other places were taken by Bob Varley, Bob Butler, and Bob Gibson in the senior girls 100-meter backstroke, intermediate boys free style, and peewee boys backstroke.

The junior boys 200-meter relay team came in second. It was composed of Terry Stapleton, Joe Twam-

Chapel Hill Chaff

Before our Contributing Editor left for Europe he promised to send us some notes for his Chapel Hill Chaff column. The first such communication arrived by air mail last Thursday morning, August 25, having been postmarked in Southampton, England on Tuesday, August 23. It follows:

Dear Joe,

I meant to write you some sort of shipboard story, but as soon as the Queen Elizabeth left the pier I was enveloped in a profound lassitude and throughout the voyage have not been able to shake it off.

A daily newspaper, "The Ocean Times," is slipped under our cabin door early every morning. Although the vast majority of the passengers on board are Americans, the paper is almost entirely made up of news from Great Britain and far-off dominions and colonies. There has been only a meagre little 3- or 4-inch piece in each of the last two issues about the frightful storm in the United States, about which all of us are so eager to hear. On the first or second day out, before the floods in the Northeast, I saw a tiny note about the flooding of Washington, North Carolina. I am hoping eagerly that when we get to Cherbourg, to take a boat train to Paris, we will find on sale the Paris edition of the New York Herald Tribune.

I observe that in one respect life on a transatlantic ship is exactly the same now as when I made my first trip across in 1908, forty-seven years ago. That is, they try to feed you to death. Including coffee, bouillon, and tea, there are six or seven meals a day. I gorged myself the first day. I can't

Real Building Boom 'Is Going On in Town and Its Suburbs; Almost Half-Million Dollars Worth of Work Is Under Way

From January 1 through August 26, building permits issued by the Town of Chapel Hill were for an estimated $579,000 in new construction, alterations, and repairs. But the figure is in no way indicative of the total dollar volume building and repair program now underway or completed during the same period.

A Chapel Hill building supply man "guessed" yesterday that there is now more than $400,000 in building and repairs being done in Chapel Hill and its immediate vicinity.

The reason the total dollar volume does not show altogether in the town building permits is that work outside the town limits requires only a minimum fee permit, while for that within town the owner or builder must give the approximate cost.

For instance, during the first 26 days of August permits to erect 21 new residences were issued by Building Inspector P. L. Burch. Only one of those is within the town, and the approximate cost of that one is $19,500. The other 20 are outside the town but within the suburbs covered by the town's zoning and planning law. They might reasonably average $10,000 per unit. If so, some $200,000 in new home construction was started this month.

The August permits carry a total of $51,175 for construction, repairs and alterations to both residential and commercial property. Except for the $19,500 new home on Westwood Drive, the remainder was about equally divided between commercial and residential property for alterations and repairs.

The repairs and alterations to commercial property included cooling system towers for Town and Campus, Huggins Hardware, the Little Shop, and the Carl Smith building, new fronts for the N. C. Cafeteria, the Carolina Coffee Shop and Ledbetter-Pickard, doubling of sales floor at Lacock's

Four Families Are Changing Domiciles

Four families are changing residences in Chapel Hill this week, and if one of them gets delayed or something happens to the moving van there might have to be a bit of doubling up.

On account of contractual agreements, the Bernice Wards must move to their new home on Greenwood Road to make way for the Harold Harrises who will move into where the Wards have been living at 307 Pritchard Avenue.

The Harold Harrises have got to move from 305 North Columbia Street to make way for the John Crawfords to move in. And the John Crawfords have got to vacate their apartment at 106 Carr Street so that the Willard Ranges can move in.

The Ranges? No need to go chasing after their apartment. They came here from Georgia so Mr. Range can do graduate work.

At Isle of Palms

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Allen and their children, Beverly, 11, and Buddy, 5, are at the Isle of Palms in South Carolina. Beverly will come home next week to be here in time for the opening of school, and the rest of the family will come a few days later.

New Home Almost Ready

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Peele plan to get into their new home in Dogwood Acres by September 1. They were married last month. Mrs. Peele was formerly Miss Carolyn Ellis.

Dick Hartung Here

Dick Hartung, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hartung, is now in Chapel Hill after being discharged from the Army. He is planning to leave soon to do graduate work in physics at the University of Michigan.

Chapel Hill Is Doing Fine In Campaign To Provide Assistance to Flood Victims

Contributions to the Chapel Hill-Carrboro $1,500 Red Cross disaster relief goal are coming in at a fast clip, and officials hope to wind up the speedy campaign this week, according to Miss Elizabeth Branson, co-chairman of the disaster relief committee.

She pointed out yesterday that all contributions would go to a special fund to be expended by the Red Cross for strictly personal needs of families not only in the flooded areas of the northeastern states but also in the hurricane damaged areas of the Carolinas.

Contributions may be mailed to or left at the Red Cross office on West Franklin street or the Bank of Chapel Hill and the University National Bank.

The Red Cross office announced yesterday that Mrs. Mabel Brittain, who left last week for emergency work in the stricken areas, had been assigned

Mattis Gives Talk

Norman Mattis of the University's English department addressed the August meeting of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority at the University Library. He spoke on "Fundamentals in Making a Good Speech." Members of the sorority report that his was a good one.

Woodhouse Family Leaving

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Woodhouse, their son, and Mrs. Woodhouse's mother, Mrs. Kinsman, will leave this week to return to their home in Conway, S. C.

Chapel Hillnotes

After all these years since the fountain was closed, people still trying to get ice cream or a soft drink at Eubanks' Drug store.

Three-year-old boy leaning against store window crying because his mother won't let him have candy before lunch.

Nursemaid running across busy street with little girl dangling by one arm.

Vance Hogan coming down town for breakfast soon after 6:20.

The painting of Kenan Stadium, gift of Jack Hazard conditional upon it being hung directly in front of the door so everyone can see it, in Lawyer Jim Phipps' office.

Exchangites Perform Valuable Service at Glenwood School

The Chapel Hill Exchange club hauled an estimated 50 more loads of dirt and dumped it on the playground back of the Glenwood school in Glen Lenoax Saturday afternoon. Club President Pat Pope is shown above standing on the running-board of a dump-truck watching Don Scott, local grading contractor who is contributing his time and equipment to the project, fill it up with dirt. The dirt is being given by Charlie Stancell who is building a house west of Chapel Hill, near Glen Lenoax. This was the second afternoon this month that members of the Exchange Club have worked on the playground. They have agreed to spread any dirt that is dumped on the playground, and any person who has dirt is asked to haul it out to the playground, which is directly behind the Glenwood school.
