

High School Slates First Home Game This Evening

The Chapel Hill high school football team will meet Dunn at 8 o'clock this (Friday) evening in the Carrboro Lions Park in its first home game of the season.

In their one previous game the Chapel Hill Wildcats were defeated 6-0 by Sanford last Friday at Sanford. Dunn has already won one and lost one.

Bob Culton, the new Chapel Hill coach, says the Wildcats have shown a lot of spirit and drive this week on the practice field and seem to think they are going to beat Dunn.

The team lost two members this week because of injuries. End Wayne Poe broke his nose in Tuesday's scrimmage and will be out a week or so. Back Jimmy Freeland fractured his ankle in scrimmage and will be out for the season. Center Richard Gunter, sidelined by a virus several days ago, is expected to be able to play tonight.

Coach Culton has been working the boys hard, especially on offense. He has been specializing on pass patterns and has also been setting up a stronger pass defense.

Recorder's Court Moved to Monday

If you're docketed for trial in Recorder's Court next week, don't show up on Tuesday. There might be repercussions.

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night voted to change the convening day of the local court from Tuesday to Monday morning at 10 a.m. The change is to be permanent, unless too many conflicts arise because of the Monday date.

The reason behind the switch is that statistics show Tuesday to be the day when the least number of automobile accidents occur. As a result of this fact, the state highway patrol has selected Tuesday as the day when most of its patrolmen will be off duty. And patrolmen are needed as witnesses for many Recorder's Court cases.

The only apparent conflict which might arise from the switch would involve lawyers who have cases to try both here and in the county Recorder's Court in Hillsboro. However, Judge William Stewart said he believed any such conflicts could be resolved without too much trouble.

Community Chest Date to Be Set

The dates for the annual Community Chest drive in Chapel Hill will be set at the next meeting of the Community Council on September 27, Chairman William S. Stewart said yesterday.

He believed the town-wide campaign for funds for cooperating agencies would be held sometime during the latter part of October.

Meantime, sub-committees of the chest's evaluation group are going over requests which have been submitted by agencies which participate in the chest. Roy Cole, chairman of the evaluation committee, said his group would get together in about a week or ten days and make a recommendation for the campaign goal.

Proof

Like any good businessman, Marvin Saunders thinks his Nu-Way Dry Cleaners is the best dry cleaning outfit in the world. But he said yesterday that he had some proof of that contention.

He received an airmail letter from a lady in Japan who said she thought his company was the "best in the world" and she was sending him a shipment of clothing to be cleaned and returned to her on the other side of the world.

The long-distance customer is Miss June Lamb, a former graduate student at the University from Asheville. She is now doing missionary work in Kobe, Japan.

Court Refuses Stay of Judgement; Negroes Will Be Admitted to UNC

A special three-judge federal court yesterday refused a University request for a stay of judgement in its Saturday ruling that the University must process the applications of three Negro high school graduates from Durham without regard to their race.

Acting University President J. Harris Purks and Chancellor Robert B. House immediately issued a statement saying that the Negroes had been found academically qualified, and that the University "will now proceed to admit them."

The announcement that the court had refused to stay its judgement was made by Attorney-General William B. Rodman in Raleigh at noon yesterday.

Mr. Rodman said he had advised the University that it should proceed to admit the Negroes if they are educationally qualified. However, he said such an action "does not have a bearing on the appeal. We will prosecute the appeal as diligently and effectively as we possibly can."

The three Negroes involved in the suit are two brothers, Leroy and Ralph Frasier, and John Brandon. The judges who handed down the decision Saturday were Circuit Judge Morris A. Soper of Baltimore, Circuit Judge Armistead M. Dobie of Charlottesville, Va., and District Judge Johnson J. Hayes of North Wilkesboro.

Tom Rosemond Nominated for Lieutenant Governor of Kiwanis In Fifth District

Tom Rosemond, charter member and past president of the Chapel Hill Kiwanis club, was nominated for lieutenant governor of the Imperial Kiwanis Fifth district at a caucus in Durham Wednesday night.

There was no opposition to the popular local businessman as representatives from Kiwanis clubs in Durham, Orange, Vance, Granville, Wake, Alamance and Caswell counties gathered to select a nominee. He will be presented for election at the Carolinas District convention in Winston-Salem October 2-4, and his term of office will run through the calendar year 1956.

Mr. Rosemond is head of Electric Construction Co. of Chapel Hill.

A native of Hillsboro, Mr. Rosemond came to Chapel Hill in 1924 to work with the University utilities division. He started his own business in 1935. He is past president and now a director of the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Merchants Association, and a past master of University Lodge, A.F. & A.M.

His nomination by some 35 representatives of 13 clubs in the district was by acclamation. Past Lieutenant Governor J. M. Saunders of Chapel Hill presented his name. Other members of the local club present were President Dick Jamerson and Gray Culbreth.

Play Tryouts Slated

Tryouts for roles in the Carolina Playmakers' production of "Ondine," Giraudoux's charming fantasy of "man meets mermaid," will be held at 4 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Monday, September 19, in the Playmakers theatre. All residents of Chapel Hill, as well as University students, are eligible to try for parts in the cast, which requires 26 actors and actresses.

Church Supper Tomorrow

A benefit church supper will be held tomorrow (Saturday) evening at the Carrboro Methodist church, beginning at 5:30. The menu will include Brunswick stew, chicken stew, and homemade pies. Everybody is invited.

Greulach Twins and Evelyn McKnight Are Winners of Doll Making Contest

Vickie and Susan Greulach, 15-year-old twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Victor A. Greulach of 304 Laurel Hill Road, were two of the three first-place winners in the doll-making contest sponsored here by the Belk-Leggett-Horton Department Store as part of a nation-wide contest, it was announced yesterday by Carlton Byrd, manager of the store.

Vickie won first place in the fashion category with her doll named Susan. Other winners in that category were Nancy Butler, second place, and Alice Faye Piper, third.

Susan Greulach's doll, Denise the Menace, was first in the baby doll category, while Evelyn McKnight, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McKnight of 503 Cameron avenue, took first place in the character doll category with her doll, Little Bo Peep. Other winners in the character category were Mildred Blakely, second, and Susan Doak, third.

Judges of the contest were Bill Alexander, Miss Sarah Umstead, and Mrs. Nancy Winborne. The names of the three Chapel Hill winners have been wired to New York as contestants in the national contest, which is sponsored by the magazine, "Seventeen." Their prize-winning dolls will be on display in the Belk-Leggett-Horton show window till Monday, after which they will be sent to New York for judging in the national contest.

All dolls in the national contest will be displayed in New York in the United Nations Building prior to the judging. The

Chapel Hill Might Hire Policewomen For School Work

Appointment of four policewomen for school safety patrolling is being considered by the Town of Chapel Hill so that regular male members of the police force would be free for other activity.

Police Chief W. T. Sloan said the practice is common in a number of towns and cities. The women would be deputized and given an appropriate uniform. In some towns they wear colorful capes.

Alderman Pokey Alexander proposed the appointment of the special women officers. They would serve at schools to assist children crossing the streets and to direct traffic as schools open and close five days weekly. City Manager Tom Rose was quoted as saying the town might be able to find some money to pay the women for their services. Arnold King, president of the Parent-Teacher Association, said his organization might help.

Annexation Hearing Slated for Oct. 24

A public hearing has been scheduled for Oct. 24 on the question of whether "Ridgefield," a new real estate development northeast of Chapel Hill, should be annexed as part of the town.

No one lives in Ridgefield yet. The property is being developed by Herb Wentworth and others who want it to be taken into Chapel Hill as soon as possible.

The Board of Aldermen was in session over the matter Monday night. The finance committee, headed by Paul Wager, recommended that Ridgefield not be annexed, for financial reasons.

Mr. Wentworth proposed that after annexation, the town pay back the developers for the sewer lines which they are installing, if and when 25 houses are built in the development with an approximate tax value of $250,000. The cost of the sewer system was estimated at $15,000.

After the public hearing, the aldermen may vote to approve or disapprove the annexation request, unless a petition by 15 per cent of Chapel Hill voters is presented to demand a referendum on the matter.

'Eddie' Registers for High School

Eddie registered for classes at Chapel Hill high school Wednesday morning.

Eddie is the adopted American first name of Minoru Osawa, young Japanese student from Tokyo who is attending high school here under the auspices of the Chapel Hill Kiwanis club.

He was assigned to a senior home room, although he is not working toward a diploma. However, he hopes to get all the information he can on American history and literature as taught in the high schools. Therefore, he has registered for history, junior English, typing, journalism and physical education, according to Principal Wesley Noble.

The youngster is residing at the home of the Arthur Bennetts. Kiwanians Bennett, Frank Umstead and Rogers Wade are on the club committee to secure financing for his stay and studies this year. Other civic organizations in the community and on the campus are cooperating. The student was recommended by the American Friends Service Committee.

Two New Sets of Twins Add to the University Scenery This Fall

Two new sets of twins have entered the University this fall, where they are adding to the scenery and pleasing photographers and fellow students alike. The blondes on the left are (left and right) Shirlee and Barbara Frostwood of Lenoir. They are juniors in music, and went to Woman's College. The other set

Chapel Hill Chaff

When I left last week for a vacation in Albany, Georgia, I didn't know that a movie-making outfit was there filming "Good-Bye, My Lady," the last book by James Street, beloved Chapel Hill writer who died a year ago this month. When I heard about it I went out to see what was going on, and at the end of a dirt road in the depths of a moss-draped swamp found 75 actors and technicians who had come all the way from Hollywood to film Street's haunting story of a boy and his dog.

It was a strange layout for the Georgia backwoods. The mossy water-oaks and cypresses seemed an unlikely setting for the hardbitten Hollywood crew working there in a welter of wires, lights, cameras, and other equipment brought across the continent in three gigantic trailer-trucks ranged nearby on the solid land.

One figure, though, looked right at home. It was that of a tow-headed long-haired boy dressed in shabby denim pants and an old dirty gray shirt streaked with dried sweat. When I first saw him he was talking with two barefooted country boys his age, about 12 or 13. The two local boys had come in from a nearby farm to talk arrowheads with the movie boy. They had brought their trophies in an old brown paper sack, and they took them out one by one to show them to the other boy, who was properly impressed. Engrossed in the arrowheads and oblivious of the milling confusion around them, the three boys made a natural, unaffected scene hard for any movie to duplicate.

The yellow-haired youngster, who was killing time while awaiting his turn before the cameras, was of (Continued on Page 2)

Psychologist Returns

W. Grant Dahlstrom, director of Psychological Services at N.C. Memorial Hospital, has returned from the National Training Conference in Clinical Psychology, sponsored by the U.S. Public Health Service, in Palo Alto, Calif.

Students and Townspeople . . .

Warrants to Be Served on Persons Who Have Collected Three or More Parking Tickets; 80 Are Involved

Warrants are now being prepared by the Town of Chapel Hill for service upon all persons against whom three or more parking violation tickets have been issued this year.

"Just as soon as we get a sufficient number prepared to justify service by officers and prosecution, we'll begin serving them," Town Recorder's Court prosecutor Emory Denny Jr., said yesterday.

There are said to be more than 80 persons involved with the traffic department this year. They are both students and townspeople. One of the individuals has ignored 44 tickets, the police department said.

Since word got out that court action may be instituted, several persons have voluntarily gone to the police department and paid for their tickets. "That's what we would prefer they do," said Mr. Denny. "But if they fail to, we intend to prosecute, and will do so just as soon as we get enough warrants prepared to justify service."

Plans to Be Made For UN Birthday

Plans for Chapel Hill's observance of the tenth anniversary of the United Nations will be discussed at a public meeting at 8 o'clock this (Friday) evening in the Aldermen's room at the Town Hall, it is announced by John Riebel, chairman of Chapel Hill's committee on United Nations Day observance. Everybody willing to help or offer suggestions is invited.

The meeting will be presided over by Dwight Rhyne, who was appointed by U. N. Day activities in the Chapel Hill-Carrboro community. The 10th anniversary observance will be held on October 24, which is United Nations Day.

"Mr. Rhyne and I would like to hear from anybody who is interested in helping but will be unable to attend the Friday evening meeting," Mr. Riebel said yesterday.

Half-Price Grid Tickets on Sale

The University athletic offices today issued information to students concerning football tickets for Carolina's games with N. C. State and South Carolina.

The game with State is being played this year at Raleigh on Oct. 1. Arrangements have been made for University students to buy tickets for this game at half price. They are now on sale at Woolen Gymnasium and will be available at half price until 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, Sept. 28. Students must present their passbooks.

A very limited number of tickets have been reserved for University students for the South Carolina-North Carolina Oyster Bowl game at Norfolk, Va., on Nov. 5.

New Bans on Parking Are Being Studied

The Board of Aldermen this week had under consideration important new parking restrictions for the village.

The new bans, originally proposed by traffic engineer W. F. Babcock, were favorably endorsed by the Planning Board and turned over to the aldermen Monday evening. The latest proposals are:

1. Remove all parking on Rosemary street from the town limits on the west to Boundary street on the east.
2. Remove all parking on Hillsboro street between East Rosemary and East Franklin.
3. Remove parking on the east side of Henderson street and restrict parking to 10 minutes on the west side of the street between East Rosemary and East Franklin.
4. Remove all parking on Mallette street.
5. Remove all parking within 150 feet of the Pittsboro street-McCauley street intersection.

In another phase of the parking situation, Dean of Student Affairs Fred Weaver wrote a letter to the aldermen Monday night in which he recommended, in line with a suggestion by the campus traffic committee, that parking ticket fines be increased from $1 to $2.50.

The aldermen seemed more disposed to consider a sliding scale such as is used in other North Carolina cities.

L. T. Littletons Move

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Littleton and their daughter Sally Lowe have moved from 10 Berkley Road to 206 Wilson Court, where their telephone number is 3246. The Joseph Stycos family formerly occupied the house the Littletons are now in.

Few Overcrowded Rooms in Local Schools; Enrollment Leveling Off at 2,771 Pupils

Enrollment in the schools of Chapel Hill and Carrboro appeared to be leveling off this week at about 2,771 students, and teaching conditions were represented by principals as not being alarmingly overcrowded.

Certain rooms in some of the schools had more than their share of students. Others did not. But school officials were working toward eliminating, as much as possible, such crowded conditions that did exist.

With 139 more pupils than last year, Glenwood school's first and second grades are considered so crowded by Principal Raymond Kiddow that he has appealed to parents to consider transferring some first graders to the Chapel Hill elementary school. The total enrollment is 375.

The first grade room has 38, another 37 students; and a second grade room has 38. However, the fourth and fifth grades have under 30 students. The average teacher load for the school would show it not overcrowded, but certain rooms actually are.

Approximately 100 of the new students at Glenwood this year are transfers from Chapel Hill elementary school where 605 students were enrolled.

The principal, Miss Mildred Mooneyhan, reported the term progressing fairly well. The average teacher-load is almost 32 pupils for each of the 19 teachers, but she did not think any except her second grade rooms could be considered overcrowded. The largest number in a single room was 38 in a second grade.

Three hundred ninety-seven students were enrolled at Chapel Hill high school, and the overall teacher load was said by Principal Wesley Noble to be about state average with only several teaching rooms terribly overcrowded. However, three sections of junior English have 36 students, and an American history class has 37 pupils. And, there are only two senior home rooms, with 43 and 42 students in them with seats for only 40 each.

Northside elementary school reported having 587 pupils, a figure that represents 17 more students than last year, and teacher-loads not too uncomfortable.

Second Polio Vaccinations To Be Given Pupils Today

The second course of Salk polio vaccine shots will be administered to second and third graders in the Chapel Hill schools today, Dr. O. David Garvin, district health officer, announced yesterday. The second course will be given at the Hillsboro schools next Wednesday, September 21.

Last spring the shots were administered to 77.3 per cent of the pupils enrolled in the first and second grades of the Chapel Hill schools, or to 560 students, and in the county 1,154 shots were given to 73.7 per cent of the first and second grades.

"We urge all parents to take advantage of this second course of shots," Dr. Garvin said yesterday, "and we hope to get all children who had the first course last spring to take the second course tomorrow."

At the present time, Dr. Garvin said, the department does not have sufficient vaccine to begin a series to first and second graders, but "we do hope to be able to do so soon."

If, however, any vaccine is left over after the second course is administered today and next Wednesday, it will be available for children between the ages of five and nine years old. They may take the shots at the district health office Thursday afternoons.

Parents are urged to bring their children to the health office if any of the vaccine is left. It is desirable that the shots from the current supply of vaccine be administered before October 1, because that is the expiration date of the vaccine's strength, he added.

Chapel Hillnotes

The fancy bit of promotion on the sign in front of the School of Nursing: "You are now entering the happiest years of your life."

Family members and friends joking Erwin Danziger about wearing an apron.

The dog colony returning to the University campus along with the students.

W. D. Carmichael Sr. patronizing the Scuttlebutt.

Pete Ivey telling an old friend on Franklin Street, "Yes, I've gained a lot of weight since I left here, but it's all muscle."

Alderman Bill Alexander tearing down gaudy advertisement posters just scotch-taped to many East Franklin street store fronts by representative of a beverage concern. "They're illegal," the alderman said. "He didn't have permission to do this."