The continuing crackdown on persons who collect violation tickets and forget to pay their $1 fines landed five University students in Recorder's Court Monday. All five settled their tickets and had to pay court costs on top of that.

One student was in the three-ticket category, which is the least number a person may collect before he is liable for a warrant. Two of the other students had collected six tickets each, and the remaining two had seven tickets each.

It was learned last week that the University administration was considering drafting a letter to parents of students who have collected five or more unpaid parking tickets. To that end, Mrs. Barbara Howdy, town traffic clerk, has prepared a list of such students for the University.

The proposed letter may recommend to the parents that they prohibit their children from keeping automobiles while they are at the University unless parking violation fines are promptly paid.

It also reported that the Student Traffic Committee was considering recommending that ticket-collectors be required to take their cars home.

The students who paid $1 per ticket fines and court costs Monday were Carl H. Williams, senior from Charlotte, three tickets; James Thomas Duvall, junior from Thomas Point, R. I., seven; William T. Morris Jr., senior from Asheville, six; Don Thompson, senior from Jackson Heights, N. Y., six, and Jack D. Game, sophomore from Bryson City, seven.

Commissioners Are Asked to Authorize Special Term of Court to Clear Docket

Superior Court Judge Leo Carr and Chief Justice Maurice V. Barnhill requested the Orange County Commissioners, at their meeting last Monday, to provide for a special term of the Orange County Superior Court as soon as possible.

The request is part of the State's effort to clear the criminal court dockets of a large accumulation of old cases. The matter will be settled by the County Commissioners at a special meeting of the Board to be held on February 20. In the meantime, Edwin Lynch, Clerk of Superior Court in Hillsboro, and R. J. M. Hobbs have been appointed as a committee to try to make arrangements for the special court term.

"We don't know whether we'll have the special term or not," said Mr. Lynch earlier this week. "We think we'll have it, but there may be some difficulty over getting a solicitor. We know we can get a judge, but a solicitor would probably have to sandwich in this special session between regular sessions of court. The next regular session of criminal court is February 27th."

Mr. Lynch also said that at the moment the Hillsboro Superior Court had 125 cases pending on its docket, the oldest of which is dated back to December, 1950 (State v. James Spalding). There are also a few dated from 1951, a few more dated 1953, and all other cases on the docket are dated from 1954 to the present.

"If we do have the special term, we can't be sure all the old cases will be tried," added Mr. Lynch. "Sometimes you carry a lot of cases one right after another, and sometimes you get all wound up in one case and you don't get a chance to try anything else. We think we'll have the special term, though, if we can."

Petitions Are Circulating on Annexation

Opposition to municipal annexation of several residential areas west and south of Chapel Hill appeared this week in the form of petitions calling for a referendum on the annexation issue.

The Board of Aldermen is scheduled to hold a public hearing February 27 to discuss the proposed annexation of six specific areas including developments around the Durham Road and settlements along the U.S. highway 51-501 bypass. Glen Lennox is also included in the annexation plans.

The aldermen have the power to annex the areas, unless petitions are presented containing names of 15 per cent of the registered voters in any of the areas. That would automatically call an election for that area.

It was learned yesterday that petitions are being circulated in the Greenwood and Glen Lennox areas, and persons living in the
