

County Unit of Patriots Claims More Than 1,500 Members

By Chuck Hauser

The membership of the Orange County chapter of the Patriots of North Carolina Inc., a statewide pro-segregation organization, has reached more than 1,500, according to Carlton Oza, a member of the county executive board.

At an organizational rally held in the new courthouse at Hillsboro on Friday night, the county unit signed up 219 new members to push it over the 1,500 mark. Speakers at the rally were W. C. George of Chapel Hill, state president of the Patriots; Beverly Lake, former assistant attorney-general; and S. H. McCall, Montgomery County lawyer who is a member of the Patriots' state executive committee.

At the close of the rally on Friday a short business meeting was held and the following persons were named to the county executive board:

Mr. Mize, Mr. George, Charles Johnston, Douglas Fambrough, Bruce Riggsbee, Roy Cole, Hubert McEacham, Sam Latta, O. M. Powell, E. C. Smith, Lucius Cheshire, Bill Durham, Jack W. Sparrow, Reece Birmingham, Jack Journey and Robert Fine.

More persons will be named to the board soon to bring it up to its authorized strength of 25 members, according to Mr. Johnston.

More than 300 persons crowded into the courtroom to hear the three speakers discuss the aims of the Patriots. The main speaker of the evening was Mr. Lake, who presented the legal brief for North Carolina in its role as "amicus curiae" in the Supreme Court case which resulted in the historic decision of May 17, 1954, banning segregation in the public schools.

"The important question today," said Mr. Lake, "is not how to preserve the public schools but how to educate our children."

The speaker said three roads were open to North Carolina as a result of the Supreme Court decision: (1) Mixed schools, (2) "Voluntary segregation" where members of different races voluntarily send their children to separate schools, (3) A system of private schools, "with grants-in-aid to children whose parents cannot afford to send them there."

Mr. Lake discarded the first possibility. The second, he said, would not work because of "a fly in the ointment—the NAACP, which would not permit such a system without challenging it in the courts."

The third course, according to Mr. Lake, is the one for North Carolina to follow. He said a system similar to the federal "GI Bill" could legally be instituted to provide the tuition grants for children attending the private schools. He urged, following the meeting, that a special session of the General Assembly should be called as soon as possible to eliminate the state constitutional provision that requires the operation of public schools.

Noted Organist to Give Concert Here

Alexander Schreiner, organist of the Salt Lake Tabernacle, will give an organ concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday, March 27, in Hill Hall under the auspices of the University's Music Department. Admission is free and everybody is invited.

The concert commemorates the 25th anniversary of the dedication of Hill Hall and its Rutter 4-manual organ. The organ was given in 1931 by Mr. and Mrs. John Sprunt Hill of Durham, who were also responsible for the remodeling of Hill Hall for use by the Music Department. It was formerly the University Library.

Church organist, concert and radio artist, Mr. Schreiner is now on a tour of the major cities of the nation. His concert here will include works by J. S. Bach, Mendelssohn, the American composers Richard Keys Biggs, Fanny Charles Dillon, and Camille Van Hulse, and the French composer Louis Vierne, with whom Schreiner studied at Notre Dame in Paris.

Faculty Club Luncheon
Urban T. Holmes Jr., Kenan professor of romance philology, will speak at the luncheon meeting of the Faculty Club at the Carolina Inn today (Tuesday) at 1 p.m.

Presbyterians Launch Building Fund Drive For $100,000; to Get $300,000 From Synod

This is a drawing of a front view of the Presbyterian Church as it will look following the completion of an expansion plan outlined Sunday evening at a fund campaign launching meeting of its congregation. Only a small part of the greatly expanded building can be seen in the picture. The most obvious addition (at left), which will have its front to Kemp's Music Shop and its back toward the church's facade and main entrance, which will not be changed. The south wall of the chapel will be much nearer Franklin Street than the front of the church. Seating 108, the chapel will be used for students' meetings, Sunday school worship services, special week-day worship services, and weddings.

Just beyond the westernmost pillar of the church porch is a window of which will be the church parlor, and to the left of that is the hall that will connect the chapel to the rest of the church plant.

Projecting beyond the tree at the far right is part of the three-story Sunday school addition that will be folded around the rear of the church and extend almost back to Rosemary street and east and west from the Basnight property line almost to the alley on the east of the church property. Its top floor will be for primary and junior grades, the first floor for the kindergarten, and the ground floor for high school students (on the west side) and babies (on the east side). As Alan Keith-Lucas said when he was describing plans for the Sunday school section at Sunday evening's meeting, "There will be a sleeping room for babies and next to it a crying room, where a crying baby can be taken before he starts an epidemic of crying."

The church has bought the vacant property between Michael's Restaurant and the Basnight Apartments and on it will build a two-story student wing that will cover practically the entire lot from the restaurant to the Basnight line (which is very near the apartment building itself) and extending from Henderson Street to the main church building. Its lobby and front entrance will be on Henderson Street. The ground floor of this wing will include (on the south side) an auditorium or "fellowship hall" with a stage 45 feet deep and 90 feet wide. On the north side of the ground floor will be a kitchen

(Continued on page 5)

Six Girls, Including Two From Here, Have Entered Jaycees' Beauty Race

Three more University coeds, including one from Chapel Hill, have entered the Miss Chapel Hill Beauty Pageant sponsored by the Jaycees.

Monk Jennings, chairman of the event, said yesterday that the three latest entrants are Miss Joan Norwood of Chapel Hill, Miss Sylvia Tarantino of Tampa, Florida, and Miss Nancy McFadden of Atlanta.

Miss Evelyn Ann Matthews of Chapel Hill is the other contestant who calls the village her home. She was the third person to enter the pageant, having been preceded by two coeds, Miss Shirley Joy Carpenter of Oakboro and Miss Libby McDowell of Wake Forest.

Mr. Jennings thinks almost 20 girls will enter the contest, the winner of which will compete for the title of Miss North Carolina. All prospective entrants may obtain full information from Mr. Jennings at Town and Campus.

Miss Matthews is a 21-year-old five-foot-three brown-eyed brunette and daughter of J. S. Matthews of Chapel Hill. She is a graduate of the Chapel Hill High School, where she was in the Valentine Court three years. She also attended the University here and Harbarger's Business College in Raleigh, and has been active in Y-Teens and Town Girls Association activities.

Miss Carpenter is an attractive brunette junior in music at the University. Miss McDowell is also a music student at UNC.

In past years, Chapel Hill winners have been Miss Dot Hogan, who is now Mrs. William D. Basnight, Miss Iris Merritt, Miss Ann Jacobs, Miss Barbara Ann Stone, and Miss Joan Brown. Three of them have placed in the finals of the state contest.

Alden-Newman Recital to Be Tonight

Edgar Alden, violinist, and William S. Newman, pianist, will present a recital of sonatas in Hill Hall tonight (Tuesday) at 8 o'clock.

Members of the music department faculty, Mr. Alden and Mr. Newman have appeared together in recitals in Chapel Hill and throughout the state under the auspices of the Extension Division.

Their program will consist of the following works for violin and piano: Sonata in G Minor by Jean-Marie Leclair; Sonata in C Minor, op. 30, no. 2 by Beethoven; Sonata in E flat, op. 18 by Richard Strauss.

Jean-Marie Leclair (1697-1764) born in Lyons, France, composed chamber music, concertos, opera, ballet music, and diversifications. Known for his ability as a violinist, Leclair wrote several books of violin sonatas. Most of these works have considerable technical difficulties.

Occasionally an entire movement may be written in doublestop. The sonata in C Minor was written in approximately 1728.

Strauss, composer of songs, tone poems, and operas, wrote the violin sonata, op. 18, in 1871. It was one of the first works to appear in the new "Expressionist" style advocated by Strauss' friend, Rittner. At this time, the composer was assistant conductor of the Munich Opera.

The sonata displays evidence of more advanced harmonic idiom characteristic of "Till Eulenspiegel," "Salome," and "Electra."

Beethoven's violin sonata is one of three published in 1802 and dedicated to the Czar Alexander of Russia. In four movements, the sonata was written the same year as the Second Symphony and the Piano Sonata Op. 31, No. 2.

Women Voters' Study Meetings
Study units of the League of Women Voters will meet this week as follows: Unit 1 at 10 a.m. today (Tuesday) with Mrs. Memory Lester at 606 Pittsboro Road; Unit 2 at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Town Hall; Unit 3 at 2:30 Thursday with Mrs. Carson Ryan on Mason Farm Road; Unit 4 at 8 p.m. Thursday with Mrs. Walter Hartung on Goose-neck Road. The topic of discussion at all meetings will be "American Tariffs and World Trade."

Community Club Meeting
The Community Club's American Home Department will meet at 3 p.m. Thursday, March 22, at the StyleCraft Shop on the Chapel Hill-Durham highway. The group will tour the shop and inspect its line of furnishings, after which Mrs. Mary Helen Cole of Durham will speak on "Interior Decoration." All members are urged to be on hand.

To Give Wednesday Recital
Polly Wilkerson, pianist, and Dewey Brett, cellist, University students, will present a junior recital in Hill Hall, Wednesday at 8 p.m. Their program will include works by J. S. Bach, Bela Bartok, Chopin, and Saint-Saens. Brett will be accompanied by Hunter Tillman from Roxboro.

Chapel Hill Chaff

J. J.
Miss Marilyn Habel, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Samuel T. Habel of Chapel Hill, gave a fine television performance Wednesday evening when she appeared on the Schiffman's Jewelry Store program on Greensboro's Channel 2 to tell about her study in Europe on a Rotary Club fellowship. Her talk was refreshing because it was easy and natural, but without the sickness of the professional performer. She wasn't afraid of the camera. She had no reason to be.

When Mr. Schiffman was introducing Miss Habel he said, "This evening we have a special treat for you—a young lady from Chapel Hill." Chapel Hillians can be proud Miss Habel appeared as a representative of their town. The impression she made on the televiewer was extremely favorable.

On the same program with Miss Habel were two other young women, one from Peru and one from Greensboro who are studying in Sweden on Rotary Club fellowships.

I am often frightened by my narrow escapes from the misuse of words that seem familiar to me but prove otherwise when looked up in the dictionary. Of course I don't always escape. I once wrote something about "internecine strife," thinking the phrase meant a fight among brothers or people of the same group or nation. I found out later that what I wanted to say was "fratricidal" instead of "internecine," which means "mutually slaughterous or destructive of life" and is in no way a designation of who is fighting.

A close miss was when I was about to use "fulsome praise" in a sense that

(Continued on page 2)

James Farlow Files for Commissioner of Labor

Attorney James R. Farlow will be the only Chapel Hillian running for nomination for a statewide office in the May 26 Democratic primary.

Mr. Farlow, a former Labor Department administrator in Raleigh, has paid his filing fee to attempt to unseat Labor Commissioner Frank Crane, who is running for re-election. A third candidate in the race is H. D. Lambeth Jr., Guilford County school superintendent.

Also on Friday the Orange County elections board was appointed. It is composed of S. T. Latta Jr., Hillsboro; Clyde C. Carter, Chapel Hill and M. L. Cates Jr., Hillsboro.

In a prepared statement of his candidacy, Mr. Farlow declared he was running "in view of my prior experience in the State Department of Labor and Employment Service and on my background in administering the labor law and related acts affecting the working man. North Carolina is becoming more industrialized every day. I am interested in promoting our continued growth along this line and in encouraging good employer-employee relationships."

A native of Randolph County, the Chapel Hillian has practiced law here for eight years, following experience as a business administration teacher at High Point College, branch manager of the N. C. Employment Security office in Burlington, and administrative work in the State Labor Department.

During World War II he served as an economist with the National War Labor Board and in the Air Force.

He has been active in Young Democrats, serving as president of the Orange County Club two years, and is now a member of the State YDC executive committee. He also has been solicitor of Orange County Recorder's Court and is now on the executive committee of the District Bar Association.

Women Voters Are Continuing Study
The Chapel Hill unit of the League of Women Voters is continuing its study in international trade, with special emphasis on the Organization for the Co-operation of Trade, known as O. T. C. The O. T. C. has the backing of President Eisenhower and is being submitted to Congress for approval, hearings on it having been held during the past week. It is being opposed by several groups, including the American Tariff League, the Cotton Textile organization, segments of the American Bar Association, and others.

The Chapel Hill unit's committee on international trade is composed of Mrs. Rashi Fine, chairman; Mrs. Victor Masket, Mrs. James Riley, and Mrs. Robert Wettach. At the League's four unit meetings to be held this week the committee will present the historical background of trade policy in the United States and the pros and cons of O. T. C.

On Television Today
Third graders of Mrs. Frank West's room at Glenwood Elementary School will be on WUNC-TV today (Tuesday) from 2 to 2:30 p.m. They will give a demonstration of rhythms, learned in connection with their study project, on the Play in School program, directed by Mrs. Ruth Fink, head of the University's Division of Physical Education for Women.

Change in Meeting Place
Study Unit No. 4 of the League of Women Voters, scheduled to meet at 8 p.m. Thursday, March 22, at the home of Miss Lucy Morgan, will meet instead (same time and date) at the home of Mrs. Walter Hartung on Goose-neck Road.

Faculty Wives Entertained
Mrs. Wilfred Gallagher entertained the Dental Faculty Wives at a coffee hour last Wednesday morning at her home on Pittsboro Road.

Chapel Hill Notes
Rare sight last Saturday afternoon: Miss Houston walking across University campus all dressed up as if for a wedding.

School children asking their parents for information on school bond issue so they can

Local Jaycees OK School Bond Issue
The Chapel Hill Jaycees endorsed the $2,000,000 Orange County school bond issue at their meeting at the Carolina Inn Thursday night.

Endorsement of the issue followed a discussion by Supt. of Schools Paul Carr of Hillsboro and Carl Smith, chairman of the Chapel Hill School Board.

Bill Olsen has been appointed chairman of the club's get-out-the-vote campaign for Saturday.

A paper drive will be conducted by the Jaycees next Sunday afternoon, and residents of both Carrboro and Chapel Hill were urged to begin saving paper this week.

Gallery Talk Set For This Afternoon
A gallery talk on the Picasso exhibit in the Person Hall Art Gallery will be given at 5 p.m. today (Tuesday) by John V. Allcott, head of the University's Department of Art. The public is invited.

The exhibit consists of 78 prints by Picasso, the most famous living artist. It includes cubism, surrealism, and neo-classical themes, early works from around 1905, and a variety of recent works.

A second gallery talk will be given at 5 p.m. Friday, March 23.

Bridge and Canasta Party Said Successful
The benefit bridge and canasta party sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary Unit at Hill House here last Wednesday has been pronounced a success by unit officers.

Mrs. J. C. Heitman, president, and Mrs. Norman Jackson and Mrs. John J. Keller Jr., co-chairmen of the event, yesterday expressed their appreciation to the following workers:

Mrs. Ruby Mellette, Mrs. R. T. Madden, Mrs. T. R. Pendergraft, Mrs. F. D. Horner, Mrs. Jane Gilbert, Mrs. W. E. Williams, Mrs. Fred Bowden, Mrs. John J. Keller Sr., Mrs. C. P. Hinshaw, Mrs. D. M. Horner, Mrs. Fred Varley, Mrs. Creighton Humphreys, Mrs. L. J. Phipps, Mrs. John Umstead, Mrs. R. B. Fitch, Mrs. Ethel Fare, Mrs. Henry A. Whitfield, Mrs. E. B. Patterson, Mrs. Troy Herndon, Mrs. S. A. Nathan, Mrs. W. M. Neal, Mrs. Roy Cole, Miss Betty Marks, and Mrs. John J. Heitman.

It was announced yesterday that State Department Commander of the Legion Paul H. Robertson of Chapel Hill would be present at the radio-bingo party which the local Legion and Auxiliary will give at the Veterans Hospital in Durham this week. Norman F. Jackson and Mrs. Nancy Humphreys have recruited a number of local volunteers to assist with the party.

Paint and Sketch Workshop
The Community Club's Paint and Sketch Workshop will meet at 1:30 Friday, March 23, with Mrs. J. Bright Kelly at 381 Tenney Circle.

W. I. L. P. F. Meeting
The Chapel Hill Branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow (Wednesday) at the home of Mrs. Raymond Adams on Patterson Place. The members will give reports of their study of the Middle East. Visitors are invited.

Tickets for the five performances are available at 214 Aberdeen Hall, Ledbetter-Pickard's, or Box 1050, Chapel Hill. All seats are reserved.

Playmakers Schedule Production of an Original Folk Comedy March 22-25
A new Carolina folk comedy, "Miss Maggie," exerts her charm over Keith in stepping between Gracie and her boyfriend, John, but the family unity is a bigger obstacle than she had reckoned for. According to the Playmaker publicity provider, if the performances provide as much fun and laughs as the rehearsals have for cast, director, and observers, the play should be one of the most delightful ever seen on the Playmakers' stage.

Tickets for the five performances are available at 214 Aberdeen Hall, Ledbetter-Pickard's, or Box 1050, Chapel Hill. All seats are reserved.

W. I. L. P. F. Meeting
The Chapel Hill Branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow (Wednesday) at the home of Mrs. Raymond Adams on Patterson Place. The members will give reports of their study of the Middle East. Visitors are invited.

Cast in the production, directed by Foster Fitz-Simons of the Playmaker staff, are Les Casey of Chapel Hill as Teresa Bryant; Gloria Di Costanza and Patricia Simmons, both of Chapel Hill, as her nieces, Gracie and Susie Lambert; Flora Ruebeck of New Bern as "Miss Maggie" Jenkins; Paul McCauley of Fayetteville as Keith Lambert; Harold Williamson of St. Mary's College, St. Mary's Md. His "Cat in Gloves" began as a one-act play presented two years ago, called "Jezebel Shoes."

Cast in the production, directed by Foster Fitz-Simons of the Playmaker staff, are Les Casey of Chapel Hill as Teresa Bryant; Gloria Di Costanza and Patricia Simmons, both of Chapel Hill, as her nieces, Gracie and Susie Lambert; Flora Ruebeck of New Bern as "Miss Maggie" Jenkins; Paul McCauley of Fayetteville as Keith Lambert; Harold Williamson of St. Mary's College, St. Mary's Md. His "Cat in Gloves" began as a one-act play presented two years ago, called "Jezebel Shoes."

Mr. Sasser is a native of Mt. Olive, in the area in which his play takes place. After completing his M. A. degree here last summer, he took a teaching position at St. Mary's College, St. Mary's Md. His "Cat in Gloves" began as a one-act play presented two years ago, called "Jezebel Shoes."

Mr. Sasser is a native of Mt. Olive, in the area in which his play takes place. After completing his M. A. degree here last summer, he took a teaching position at St. Mary's College, St. Mary's Md. His "Cat in Gloves" began as a one-act play presented two years ago, called "Jezebel Shoes."

Mr. Sasser is a native of Mt. Olive, in the area in which his play takes place. After completing his M. A. degree here last summer, he took a teaching position at St. Mary's College, St. Mary's Md. His "Cat in Gloves" began as a one-act play presented two years ago, called "Jezebel Shoes."

Mr. Sasser is a native of Mt. Olive, in the area in which his play takes place. After completing his M. A. degree here last summer, he took a teaching position at St. Mary's College, St. Mary's Md. His "Cat in Gloves" began as a one-act play presented two years ago, called "Jezebel Shoes."

Mr. Sasser is a native of Mt. Olive, in the area in which his play takes place. After completing his M. A. degree here last summer, he took a teaching position at St. Mary's College, St. Mary's Md. His "Cat in Gloves" began as a one-act play presented two years ago, called "Jezebel Shoes."

'The Magic Pin,' by Ina B. Forbus, Is to Be Published by Viking Press

Mrs. Ina B. Forbus has been notified that the Viking Press has accepted a 39,000-word manuscript of hers and will publish it this year under the name of "The Magic Pin." A book for girls between the ages of eight and eleven, it is about a nine-year-old girl who is given her Grandma's pin and finds that it has the magical faculty of letting her understand and speak to animals and birds.

To come out in the fall, the book will be illustrated by Corydon Bell of Sapphire, N. C.

When questioned about the good news from Viking, Mrs. Forbus said, "I sent them the manuscript a year ago. They returned it with suggestions. I reworked it during the summer and took it to their last September book fair in New York. This time it was accepted."

Mrs. Forbus, who has written ten some delightful articles for the Weekly, is the wife of Sammie Forbus, the superintendent of Watts Hospital. They live about twelve miles from Chapel Hill, off the old Greensboro Road, in a wonderful old house on Cane Creek.

Garden Club Study Group
The study group of the Chapel Hill Garden Club will meet at Mrs. Noel Houston's home at 10:30 a.m. Thursday of this week to visit the garden and home of Mrs. R. J. Reid in Hope Valley between here and Durham.

Cattle Sale Thursday
Agricultural workers cooperating with the Farmers Exchange Livestock Market will hold a Beef Cattle Sale at 1 p.m. Thursday, March 22nd, at the Farmers Exchange Livestock Market at Hillsboro.