

Workers Are Given Awards By Foundation

Four members of the Orange County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis have been presented Awards for Outstanding Service for more than 15 years work each in the fight against the disease. They are E. C. Smith, Dr. William P. Richardson, Dr. James B. Bullitt and Dr. O. David Garvin. All are from Chapel Hill.

Miss Elizabeth Branson and Mrs. George Shepard were honored for more than a decade of work each in the chapter. Presented awards for five years' participation were Mrs. Russell M. Grumman of Chapel Hill and Mrs. Lucius Brown of Hillsboro.

The award-winners received an attractive Certificate of Recognition signed by Basil O'Connor, volunteer president of the Foundation, and a service pin emblazoned with the numeral representing the appropriate years of service. The awards were presented by W. R. Coulter, state Foundation representative, at the annual meeting of the chapter Sunday afternoon.

At the meeting, Crowell Little was elected chairman to succeed Carlyle Shepard. Lucius Brown was elected vice-chairman, and Mrs. William Aycock and Douglas Fambrough were re-elected as secretary and treasurer, respectively.

E. C. Smith, March of Dimes drive chairman, reported that the $10,060 quota was exceeded by $200. Mr. Fambrough reported that the present bank balance was $5,677, that $3,576 was spent on county patients who contracted polio during 1955 and that $7,659 was spent on patients who had the disease prior to 1955.

Other reports were made by Mrs. John Parker, women's activities; Roland Giduz, public relations; and Dr. Garvin, medical advisory committee.

Jeremy North Will Speak at Bookshop

Jeremy North, bookman and editor from Durham, will speak at a Bull's Head Bookshop tea tomorrow (Wednesday) in the assembly room of the University Library, on "The Antiquarian Bookseller Down the Ages."

Andrew Horn, UNC Librarian, will introduce North, who will speak at 3:45 p.m. A native of England, North came to North Carolina last year from Rhode Island, where he had been living for eight years.

As a young man North traveled extensively, studying at Wittenberg College in Ohio and at Oslo University, Norway. During the '30's he was editor for the Country Life publishing firm. After World War II service he came to America.

American Home Department

The Community Club's American Home Department will meet at 3 p. m. Thursday, April 26, with Mrs. William Neal at 406 Ransom Street. The speaker will be Mrs. J. R. Buchanan, chairman of the American Home Department of the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs.

Grading Begun

Bulldozers went to work yesterday to reduce the ground level of the Chapel Hill Parking Association's lot on the corner of North Columbia and East Rosemary Streets. When the grading is completed, the lot will be paved and opened for commercial public parking.

Work is scheduled for the near future on construction of a retaining wall for the association's property purchased from the American Legion on Rosemary Street. That lot will be available for commercial parking on a monthly and weekly rental basis.

A Little Talk . . . A Little Singing

Carolina Inn Is the Scene of Gathering Of Descendants of William Horn Battle

By Louis Graves

If you are well along toward old age—say, as far along as sixty—you have no doubt said as I have, and we have both no doubt heard other aging persons say: "It looks as if you never see your friends any more except when you go to a funeral."

You go to the church and the cemetery, and during the rites and as you go back home you reflect upon how deeply you had become absorbed in the daily round of your life, and how you had let time pass, until it mounted up to a large part of a lifetime, maybe twenty, thirty, forty years, with your hardly ever seeing, and hardly ever even exchanging a letter with or telephoning to, this man or woman whom you used to know well.

But it is likely that your reflection and self-reproach lead to little or no change in your conduct. The daily round has got its grip tight on you and before long you will be going to another funeral and saying the same to yourself all over again.

My old friend and University classmate of 1902, Ivey F. Lewis, now living in Charlottesville as a retired Ivey of Virginia professor of biology, is one man whose thoughts on this subject led him to do something about it. He decided he would have, not as an incident to obsequies but just for the purpose of everybody's having a merry time, an assembly of relatives, and husbands and wives and sons and daughter of relatives, and a few close friends with no ties by blood or marriage. So, at midday dinner in the Pine Room of the Carolina Inn this last Sunday there came together a company of some of the descendants of William Horn Battle.

(Continued on Page 8)

Oakview Garden Club's Flower Show Scheduled for Thursday of This Week

The Oakview Garden Club's third annual spring flower show, entitled "A Lifetime of Flowers," will be held from 4 p. m. to 9 p. m. Thursday, April 26, at the Church of the Holy Family.

Entries will be accepted only from 11 a. m. to 1:15 p. m. Thursday. Judging will begin at 2 p. m., and all entries must be removed between 9 p. m. and 10 p. m.

Persons not members of the club are invited to enter exhibits in two classes: (1) Horticulture specimen or collection and (2) Unrestricted arrangement class. Containers will be provided for the horticulture specimen or collection class.

Cubs Win 2 Games, Play Durham Next

The Carrboro Cubs semi-pro baseball team, two fresh wins under its belt, travels to Durham tomorrow (Wednesday) to meet the Durham Bees. If the Cubs win this one, they will post a record of four straight wins. The Bees are now enjoying a six-game winning streak.

On Thursday night, the Cubs defeated Swepsonville there, 12-6. Lloyd McKnight was the winning pitcher. The game was tied up in the bottom of the third inning and remained that way until Carrboro broke things wide open with six runs in the top of the sixth.

On Saturday afternoon, the Cubs captured an 11-4 victory over Hillsboro. Tom Maultsby was on the mound all the way for the winners. Frank Scott, Fenno McGinty and Maultsby paced the hitters with two each, and McGinty registered the first homerun of the season for the team.

Pre-School Registration

Pre-school registration will be held today (Tuesday) at the Glenwood, Chapel Hill Elementary, and Northside schools.

It will be from 9 a. m. to noon at Chapel Hill and Glenwood and from 7:45 a. m. to 11 a. m. at Northside. All unregistered children who will be six years old by October 15 this year and who plan to enter school in the fall must register today. They must be accompanied by one parent. Birth certificates of the children must be produced.

Attend AAUW State Meeting

Mrs. Earl Wynn, Mrs. T. M. Andrews, Miss Ruth Roettinger, and Mrs. Thomas Winborne were in Raleigh last Saturday to represent the Chapel Hill branch of the American Association of University Women. Mrs. Guy Johnson is vice-president of the state division; Mrs. Paul Guthrie is the new state chairman of the education committee, and Mrs. Marjorie Applewhite is the retiring chairman of the state legislative committee.

Army Sergeant Graduates

Army Sergeant First Class Benjamin F. Miller, 28, recently was graduated from the 82nd Airborne Division's Jumpmaster School at Fort Bragg. Mr. Miller is the son of William D. Miller, Route 2, Chapel Hill.

The standard system of judging will be used: A blue ribbon for first place, a red for second, a yellow for third, and one or more whites for honorable mention.

For further information about the show call Mrs. Hilda Moffitt at 8-1391.

Celebrated Botanist Here

Edgar T. Wherry, celebrated botanist from the University of Pennsylvania and president of the Southern Appalachian Botanical Club, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Totten Friday night and spent most of the day Saturday studying the plants in the University herbarium. He came to North Carolina to attend the meeting of the club at Duke University in conjunction with meetings of other botanical societies and the Association of Southern Biologists.

Latin American Students to Be Guests At April Meeting of Legion Auxiliary

The April meeting of the Chapel Hill American Legion Auxiliary will be held at 8 p. m. tomorrow (Wednesday) at the home of Mrs. W. G. Fields at 138 Pittsboro Road (near Eben Merritt's service station). The nominating committee will present its slate of officers for the coming year.

Freedom Talks to Be Held Thursday

John M. DeGrove of the UNC Political Science Department will lead the Freedom Agenda discussion on individual liberty and national security at the Episcopal parish house Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

"The Federal Constitution and the States" is the discussion topic.

The Freedom Agenda discussions have been arranged by the Freedom Agenda Project, which is sponsored by 12 Chapel Hill and University civic, religious and social organizations.

Attend Music Club Luncheon

Representatives of the Chapel Hill Music Club who attended the district luncheon last Thursday in Raleigh at the Sir Walter Hotel during the 40th convention of the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs were Mrs. Arthur Winsor, Mrs. Kemp Cate, Mrs. W. A. Pollard Jr., and Mrs. Viola Barrett. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Louise Barrett, Mrs. Winsor read the report of the newly organized Chapel Hill club.

Date of Schools' Opening

The Chapel Hill public schools will open for the next academic year on Wednesday, September 5, it is announced by Superintendent C. W. Davis. Many parents, Mr. Davis said yesterday, have been calling to find out the opening date so they can plan summer sojourns and vacations that will permit them to get their children back to school on time.

Plans Completed For Country Club

Plans were completed over the weekend for letting the contracts to build an addition to the present Chapel Hill Country Club and also rebuild the present nine-hole golf course. Both are expected to be ready for use by early fall.

According to Charles Shaffer, president of the club, the total expansion program will cost approximately $100,000. About half of the needed funds will be borrowed, and the balance of the money will be raised through the sale of bonds to present and future members.

To date over $15,000 worth of bonds have been sold. On Saturday, George Watts Hill of Durham agreed to personally underwrite the project for $35,000. "It is through the generous aid of Mr. Hill that we are able to commence the project earlier than anticipated," Mr. Shaffer stated. "We appreciate his interest."

Mr. Shaffer also stressed that both old and new members will be urged to purchase bonds that will be retired within 10 years and bear interest at the rate of four per cent. He also mentioned that anyone interested in Chapel Hill and the country club would be allowed to purchase bonds whether they are now members or would be members in the future.

The present membership of the club is 161. The expansion program will make it possible to take in around 140 social members and 150 golf members. Social and golf memberships will be separate.

Finley and Loving of Charlottesville, Va., recently redesigned the golf course. The construction will be under the direction of George Cobb, well known golf architect, who now makes his home in Chapel Hill.

Chapel Hill Chaff J. J.

When I was at the Grail banquet Thursday evening at the Carolina Inn I was reminded of a narrow escape I had when being initiated into the order one night about 25 years ago on a University athletic field.

We neophytes were taken to the center of the field, blindfolded, faced in different directions, and commanded to run at top speed. As we ran, a Grail member ran behind each one of us administering whacks with a paddle. After we had run what seemed a long way a member left standing in the middle of the field shouted the command to halt.

Our blindfolds were then removed. The night was a dark one, but not too dark for me to see a football goal post a yard or two in front of me. It gave me a turn. If the man in the middle of the field had shouted a second later than he did, I would have smashed into the goal post. With that paddle wielder behind me I was traveling at my best speed. It would have been quite a collision.

A University student from Ahsokie says nobody knows how his town got its name or what it means or where it came from. Some people claim it is an Indian word meaning "old dead horse lying on a hot dry plain."

Anybody wondering about it may as well also wonder why Kingston isn't Kingston, there being many Kingstons in the U. S. but only one in North Carolina. But that won't puzzle people who go by the World Almanac, which does not recognize the existence of a Kingston, not even in Lenoir County. The 1956 edition of the World Almanac and Book of Facts, as did previous editions, gives the name of the North Carolina town as Kingston.

When Mayor Voit Gilmore of Southern Pines was here last week I asked him the result of the dispute between his town's women and its new Colonial Store.

"Right now the women (Continued on Page 2)

Chris Gillin Winner Of Athletic Honor

Chris Gillin, son of U. N. C. anthropology professor John Gillin and Helen Gillin, is the new physical fitness champion of the Hill School, Pittsboro, Pa. "Amassing a total of 638 points," says the school paper, "Christian Gillin bettered the 629-point record that George Bell set last year. His point total sets a new record in the history of the school's competition in all-around physical fitness."

Chris, who is in his last year at the Hill school, also won his letter last fall as a member of the varsity soccer team and this spring is a member of the track team, representing the school in the pole vault and the two-mile events.

Changes Planned in the Division of Health Affairs; Memorial Hospital Will Be Placed Under Med School

Change in the organizational structure of the Division of Health Affairs at the University was announced yesterday by Chancellor Robert B. House, with approval of Acting President William Friday and the unanimous approval of the health affairs committee of the Board of Trustees. Chairman of the committee is Victor S. Bryant of Durham.

Memorial Hospital is to be placed under the administrative jurisdiction of the dean of the School of Medicine.

Cancer Drive's Big Push to Be Thursday

A house-to-house canvass of Chapel Hill and Carrboro for the benefit of the Orange County Unit of the American Cancer Society will be conducted by the Jaycees Thursday night.

Campaign Chairman Monk Jennings hopes the response will be generous in order that the $7,000 campaign quota can be met. The Jaycees are assuming responsibility for the campaign in the two communities, and Donald M. Stanford has set up the rural soliciting organization.

School and Legion Auxiliary Officials Will Name Delegates to Girls State

The following members of the from the High School's junior Girls State committee of the class. "It is recommended that Chapel Hill American Legion Auxiliary will hold a meeting their rank in the upper third of their class scholastically," says with Principal Wesley Noble of the High School and his committee to select two girls to represent Chapel Hill at the 17th annual Tar Heel Girls State to be held June 17 to 22 at the Woman's College in Greensboro under the sponsorship of the North Carolina department of the Auxiliary: Mrs. Nancy Humphreys and Mrs. Franklin Delano Horner, co-chairmen, and Miss Betty Marks. Others present to help make the selections will be Mrs. John C. Heitman, president of the Auxiliary, and Mrs. Henry A. Whitfield, chairman of its Americanism committee.

The two girls will be chosen from the High School's junior Girls State committee of the class. "It is recommended that their rank in the upper third of their class scholastically," says an announcement of the meeting. "They need not be related to members of the Legion Auxiliary, but it is asked that war veterans' daughters be given preference if other qualifications seem equal." The Tar Heel Girls State was established in 1940 by the North Carolina Department of the Auxiliary as an Americanism project to give North Carolina high school girls an opportunity to study and practice citizenship in a democracy. Its aim is to develop a deeper sense of responsibility as a citizen and to give instruction in the makeup and operation of the State government.

A Nice Letter From Ann Arbor, Michigan

Copies of the 56-page special edition issued last fall by the Weekly were recently mailed out to the parents of all members of the University's freshman class. Among the letters of appreciation from parents of freshmen was the following from Welden P. Hare of Ann Arbor, Michigan: "I wish to thank you for the special edition of the Chapel Hill Weekly which I received a few days ago."

"Mrs. Hare and I were in Chapel Hill last fall to visit our son who is a freshman on the campus and we were favorably impressed with both your town and the University. We of course had a double pleasure in looking over your special edition, for we could refresh our memories of a pleasant visit."

"Our town, the seat of the University of Michigan, is similar in many respects to your town, although it is larger and somewhat industrialized. I am really happy to say that our son thinks U. N. C. and Chapel Hill are 'the greatest' even though he likes his home town too."

"So, thanks again for your kindness in sending the special edition to us and please accept our congratulations for having done such a fine job in all respects for your community."

To Dedicate Scout Hut Thursday Night

The 20 x 30 foot Boy Scout Hut, built by the Carrboro Lions Club for Scout Troop 45 at Carrboro will be formally opened and dedicated Thursday night.

Built at a cost of $3,800 with much of the materials and labor donated by the Lions, the building will first be inspected, starting at 7:30 p.m., and then presented and dedicated at 8:15 p.m. The ceremony will be held in the Carrboro School Auditorium. A square dance will follow.

Program Chairman is J. Sullivan Gibson, and Ralph Howard is troop scoutmaster. Carl Ellington was chairman of the building committee.

Traffic Safety Movies

Jimmy Stewart is the star of a specially prepared traffic safety movie being shown this week at the Carolina Theatre. It is one of three short films on traffic safety to be shown here and throughout the state this summer. Dick Powell and Jack Webb are in the other two. The three films were made in Hollywood for Governor Hodges' Traffic Safety Council.

Douglas Dixon Here

Staff Sergeant Douglas Dixon of the Air Force is spending a month's furlough with his mother, Mrs. Clarence Moore of Lindsay Street in Carrboro, and other relatives. He recently returned from two years of duty in Japan and will report soon for duty as an instructor in the Air Force ROTC unit at Penn State.

To Give Show Friday

Rehearsals are being held nightly this week for "State Fair," which will be presented by the Senior Class at Chapel High School Friday night at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium.

School Board Meeting

The annual meeting of District 7 of the N. C. District School Boards Association will be held at Cameron Park School at Hillsboro next month. The date has not been set.

Grahams Move in New York

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Graham, formerly at the Fairfax Hotel on East 56th street, New York, have moved to 435 East 57th street. Their telephone number is MU 8-0715.

Other actions which do not affect the fundamental administrative structure of the Health Affairs Division include employment of a fiscal agent to be responsible to the business manager of the University, and authorization of a code to guide the structure, function and policies of the division. The action taken is subject to approval of the Board of Trustees.

No changes were made in the personnel heading the six-fold Health Center which includes the School of Medicine, School of Pharmacy, School of Public Health, School of Nursing, School of Dentistry and School of Nursing.

The director of the hospital will be a department head in the School of Medicine. The change is scheduled to become effective between July 1, 1956 and July 1, 1957.

Director of the Division of Health Affairs is Dr. Henry T. Clark Jr. Dr. W. Reece Berryhill is dean of the School of Medicine, and Dr. Robert R. Cadmus is director of the hospital.

Chiefs of the other schools are Dr. E. A. Brecht, dean of the School of Pharmacy; Dr. E. G. McGavran, dean of the School of Public Health; Dr. John C. Brauer, dean of the School of Dentistry, and Miss Elizabeth L. Kemble, dean of the School of Nursing.

Register Now for Mothers' Contest

From now until May 2nd children and adults of Chapel Hill and Carrboro are invited to register mothers' names with the merchants of the community for the Mother's Day contest being held by the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Merchants Association.

On May 2nd all entered names will be collected and three names drawn. These three mothers will be honored with a corsage and a gold medal pin with the mother's initials on the front and "Outstanding Mother of 1956" on the back.

A second drawing will be held on May 9th and three more mothers will be similarly honored. On May 10th the six chosen mothers will attend the drawing at the Merchants Association office for gift certificates. The gift certificates will be for 60, 50, 40, 30, 20 and 10 dollars each.

Anyone with a mother is urged to register her name with a Chapel Hill or Carrboro merchant.

Miss Carol Ray Honored

A miscellaneous shower was given for Miss Carol Ray last Thursday evening at her home on Oak Avenue in Carrboro. Miss Ray, who will be married May 5, received many beautiful and useful gifts. The hostesses were Mrs. Willie Neville and Mrs. Gilbert Godfrey, who arranged the party as a surprise to Miss Ray.

Glee Club Concert Tonight

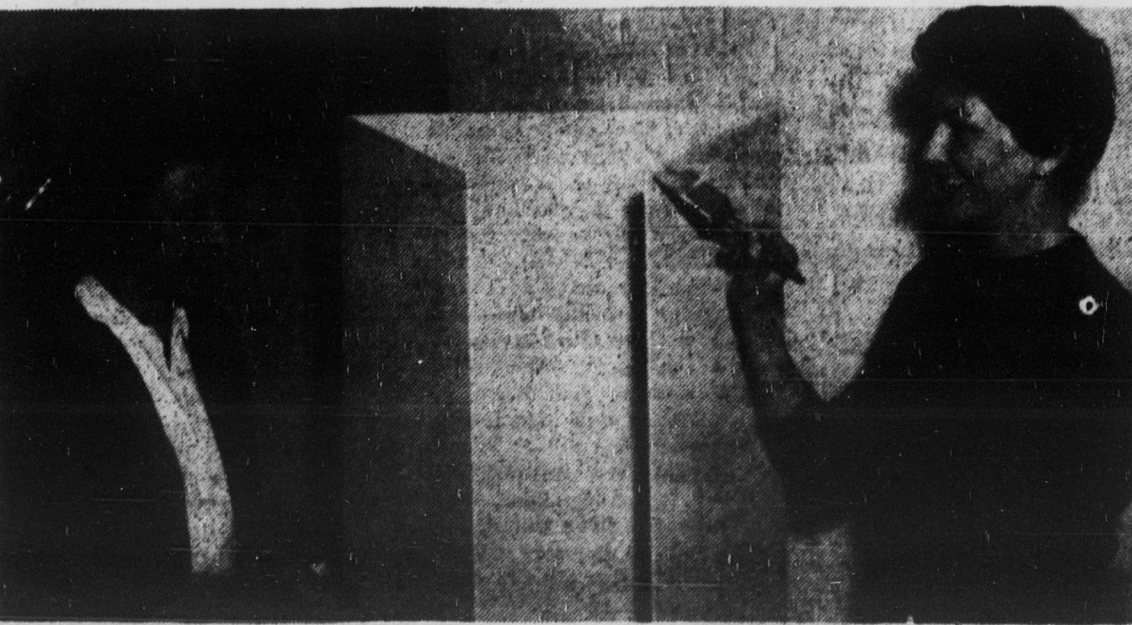

The UNC Men's Glee Club and University Chorus will present a concert in Hill Hall tonight (Tuesday) at 8 o'clock. Joel Carter will conduct. Admission is free, and the public is invited.

Chapel Hillnotes

Christmas in April in Chapel Hill as merchants are polled of what type of Yule Decorations are desired for next December.

Two Negro boys riding past the Carolina Inn on a real tandem bicycle loaded down with bait can and bamboo fishing poles, grinning.

Getting Ready for Oakview Garden Club's Spring Flower Show

Two members of the Oakview Garden Club, Mrs. Dick Young (left) and Mrs. Charlie Stancell, are shown putting the finishing touches on one of the flower display niches the club members have been making for the organization's annual spring flower show, to be held from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday, April 26, at the Church of the Holy Family. The public is invited to the show, which will have three divisions and almost 300 classes.