

A Discussion About the Country Club Golf Course

The group of men above is looking over plans of the new golf course layout being constructed at the Chapel Hill Country Club. The picture was taken on the first tee, and shows, from left to right, Chuck Erickson, a member of the advisory committee on construction of the course; Watts Hill, who underwrote the project for the Country Club; John Manning, chairman of the greens committee; George Cobb, golf architect who is in charge of construction; and Joe Phillips, a member of the advisory committee.

Registration Books Open Saturday for May 26 Primary and Annexation Vote

Registration books for the May 26 Democratic primary and the special Chapel Hill annexation election will open tomorrow (Saturday) at the precinct voting places here and in Carrboro. They will close at sunset May 12, and Challenge Day will be May 19.

The precinct voting places in Chapel Hill are: No. 1, Town Hall, Mrs. Henry Royall, registrar; No. 2, Student Hut at the Presbyterian Church on East Rosemary Street, J. A. Warren, registrar; No. 3, Woolen Gym, Harold Walters, registrar; No. 4, Cone House at Chapel Hill High School, Mrs. Irene Scroggs, registrar; and No. 5, Glenwood School, Mrs. Lindsay Neville, registrar.

Qualified voters are not required to re-register in order to vote in the primary. If they voted here in the 1954 primary and general

Republican Leader Will Talk Tuesday

Charles K. McWhorter, chairman of the Young Republican National Federation, will address the University campus Young Republicans Club at its annual spring banquet at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, May 1, in Lenoir Dining Hall. All interested persons are invited according to Jerry Campbell, University law student who is president of the club. Those wishing to buy tickets should do so before 6 p. m. Sunday by calling Keith Snyder, ticket chairman, at 8-9014 at the Law School or Dave Smoot at 8-9193.

Mr. McWhorter, billed as "a dynamic and outspoken young man," is touring Southern states organizing and co-ordinating Young Republican Clubs. He was born in 1922 in Lewisburg, W. Va., was graduated with Phi Beta Kappa honors from the University of West Virginia, took his master's degree there in 1947, and was graduated from the Harvard Law School in 1949.

Serving with the Army Infantry in Europe in World War Two, he won four campaign stars, a Purple Heart, and a Bronze Star with Oak Leaf Cluster for heroic action in combat. He was employed as an attorney by Cahill, Gordon, Reindel and Ohl in New York from 1949 to 1955, when he became associated with Donovan, Leisure, Newton and Irvine of New York.

Chapel Hillnotes

Two medical students in white shoes, trousers, and jackets, each equipped with stethoscope, black notebook, and two or three automatic pencils, going into the Varsity Theatre Tuesday evening to see "Doctor At Sea."

Coed walking on East Franklin Street wearing work shirt, khaki trousers, and coonskin cap.

Chapel Hill Chaff

J. J.

Herbert Hechenbleikner, University alumnus and director of biology instruction in the Charlotte public schools, had lunch with me at the Carolina Inn when he was here last week at a meeting of scientists. As we walked from the Inn to his car he pointed to a large tree at the corner of Peabody Hall and said, "See that old sweet gum? I counted the seeds on it when I was in school. Some kind of botany project I was working on."

Anybody who has ever raked leaves under a sweet gum after it has shed its seed pods has some idea of the magnitude of the task performed by Mr. Hechenbleikner. I asked him how many seeds he counted on the tree.

"No telling," he replied. "I counted the number in one pod and then counted the pods on the entire tree and multiplied the two. I don't remember the exact figure but it was 'way up in the thousands."

When we reached Mr. Hechenbleikner's car he opened a rear door and took out a two-foot section of green bamboo that was four inches in diameter. "Biggest I ever saw," he reported. "You'd think it grew in the tropics, but I got it on an old estate in Statesville. One piece I cut down was about sixty feet long. I put it on my front porch as a decoration, but it doesn't look so good because the porch is only 54 feet long and the bamboo sticks out at the ends."

A scrabble player told me the other day he had run across the word keat in the dictionary. He said it was defined as "the young of the guinea fowl."

"That's a handy word to (Continued on Page 2)

Armstrong Honored

Roy Armstrong, the University's director of admissions, was unanimously elected as president-elect of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers at the group's annual meeting in Detroit, Mich. He has served as president of the Southern Association of Collegiate Registrars and as president of its North Carolina branch. A 1926 graduate of the University, Mr. Armstrong was named director of the University's pre-college guidance program in 1930 and became the admissions director in 1940.

Rudisill Announced As Guest Preacher

D. P. Rudisill, professor of Bible and philosophy at Lenoir Rhyne College, will be the guest preacher at the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning, April 29, at the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, it is announced by Pastor Wade F. Hook. The theme of the service will be "Christian Higher Education."

Mr. Rudisill served as mission developer of the Lutheran congregation here when he was a graduate student in Duke University's Department of Religion. He joined the Lenoir Rhyne faculty in 1946.

Building and Loan Growth

At the meeting of the directors of the Orange County Building and Loan Association, Wednesday night, Executive Officer W. O. Sparrow reported total deposits of $3,143,000, an increase of $55,000 in the last month. Loans increased $34,000. Total assets are up $64,000 to $3,277,000.

Robbins Holding Mother's Day Contest

The J. B. Robbins store has announced a special Mother's Day celebration in addition to the contest being sponsored by the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Merchants Association.

Two "Mothers of the Year" will be selected in the Robbins contest. One will come from the village and one will be chosen from the University campus. Each will be presented with a $100 wardrobe from J. B. Robbins.

Entries in the contest will be accepted until May 8. Here is how you enter your favorite mother: Write a letter nominat-

To Hold Discussion Of Mental Health

A discussion of mental health, illustrated with movie films, will be conducted by Dr. James T. Proctor of the children's division of the University Medical School's Department of Psychiatry at 8 p. m. Wednesday, May 2, in the downstairs assembly room of the Chapel Hill Baptist Church as a part of the Orange County observation of Mental Health Week. Open to the public, the program is being sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the Medical Society of Durham and Orange Counties.

The movie will show teachers and parents cooperating in guiding a shy withdrawn child and an aggressive child. Causes underlying their behavior are depicted.

Mental Health Week is observed to publicize needs in the field of mental health and the role children and adults can play in meeting these needs.

St. Mary's Alumnae to Meet

Chapel Hill alumnae of St. Mary's will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday, May 3, in the Episcopal parish house. All such alumnae are urged to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Tennis Match Today

The University of Miami tennis team will play the UNC team here at 3 p. m. today (Friday).

Candidates Are Heard at Rally in Hillsboro; Childress Speaks on Behalf of Carl Durham

Gran Childress, local insurance man and immediate past president of the Chapel Hill Junior Chamber of Commerce, spoke at a political rally in Hillsboro on Wednesday evening on behalf of Congressman Carl Durham of Chapel Hill, who was tied up with business in Washington and could not get to North Carolina for the meeting.

Mrs. Harry Stern Comes From Baltimore to Help Sister, Falls, Breaks Hip, in Cast in Hospital

Mrs. Harry Stern came from Baltimore Wednesday to help her sister-in-law, Mrs. Macklin, conduct Harry's Grill during Mr. Macklin's illness; fell to the sidewalk and broke her hip while leaving the restaurant at 12:30 that night; and is now in a cast in the Memorial Hospital and will have to stay there two months.

Mr. Stern came in from Baltimore by airplane yesterday after getting a telephone call from Mrs. Macklin. He and Mrs. Stern had booked passage to sail for Europe June 12. Harry's Grill is up Franklin street a few yards from the post office. When the accident occurred Mrs. Macklin and Mrs. Stern had cleaned up with the help of the Negro waiter, Buddy Bynum, and were going out to the street to get in Mrs. Macklin's car.

BLOOD NEEDED Mrs. Macklin told the Weekly yesterday that Mrs. Stern will undergo an operation today (Friday) and that three volunteers are urgently needed to replace three pints of blood which must be used from the hospital blood bank. Persons who will offer to give a pint of blood are asked to call Mrs. Macklin at 9-3456. Any type blood will be welcome.

Macklin's car and ride out to her apartment in Glen Lennox. Mrs. Stern's fall to the concrete sidewalk was caused by her not seeing the (Continued on Page 12)

Three Students Fined for Raid; One Still to Be Tried; UNC Suspends All

(See story on page 12.)

By J. A. C. Dunn The current controversy over the fate of the University students who abused the Chapel Hill police station a week ago last Monday night was concluded at five o'clock last Wednesday afternoon in a special session of Chapel Hill Recorder's Court. In the special session, Luther S. Garrison, Herbert F. Kinsey Jr., and John S. Gray, Jr., represented by local attorney John T. Manning, pleaded nolo contendere to a charge of disorderly conduct in a public building under a General Statute a violation of which is a misdemeanor. Mr. Manning also asked in the special session that Louis Woodbury's request for a jury trial, which was made in the regular session of Recorder's Court last Tuesday, be withdrawn and that he be given the same treatment as the other three. His request was denied, and Mr. Woodbury, who confessed late last week to yanking out two telephone wires in Police Chief Sloan's office, will stand a jury trial in Hillsboro Superior Court. Judge William Stewart said he could not legally allow the request to be withdrawn.

All four students have been suspended from the University by the Student Council. The special session of court came about as a result of acting solicitor Harold Edwards' offer to Mr. Manning that the state and Recorder's Court Judge William S. Stewart would accept from the students a plea of nolo contendere, or a statement neither of innocence nor guilt, to a charge of violation of the above statute. The special court session was conducted smoothly and with no time wasted in the Aldermen's room in Town Hall. Patrolman Graham Creel, who was in charge of the police station the night the students "raided," testified and described the occurrence. He estimated that about 15 boys were present in the station when the damage was done, and also stated that he recognized Woodbury, who attended the special session. Police Captain William Blake testified as to exactly what articles had been taken from the police station and which ones had been returned.

Mr. Manning spoke for the three defendants and said that they wanted to make their apologies to patrolman Creel, the University, the Town, and the Court for any disrespect they had shown; that they had no malice in their behavior; and that their action was not a club action by the Ugly Club, of which only two members were present in the police station at the time the damage was done, but was only spontaneous and "gathered too much momentum." The three defendants put themselves at the mercy of the court.

Judge Stewart fined each of them $100 and costs.

Annual Meeting Scheduled

The annual meeting of the Friends of the University Library will be held at the Carolina Inn on May 11 at 6:30 p. m. David C. Mearns, assistant librarian of Congress for American Collections will speak.

Cubs, Bees Fight To 4-4 Deadlock

Baseball games aren't supposed to end in ties, but after all you can't play all night.

At least, that's the way the Carrboro Cubs and the Durham Bees fought on Wednesday evening. Their game had lasted three hours and 15 minutes and had gone through 13 innings when the teams came to a mutual agreement that they just weren't getting anywhere. They agreed to call it quits until next time.

With Pitcher Ken Keller going the distance for Carrboro, the Cubs scored one run in the fourth inning and three runs in the fifth. The Bees had started fast with two runs in the first, one in the third, and they knotted the score with a run in the sixth. From there on, through seven more innings, things stayed deadlocked.

The Cubs were scheduled to play their first home game last night (Thursday) in the Lions Park against the Burlington-Graham Bees. Game time was 7:30.

On Saturday night the Cubs will stage another home game at 7:30 in the Lions Park against Shady Oaks.

Convention of Psychologists

Several members of the University's Department of Psychology will attend the annual convention of the Southeastern Psychological Association in Atlanta, Ga., next Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, April 29, April 30, and May 1. Those who will take part in panel discussions or sessions for papers are Dorothy C. Adkins, Thelma G. Thurston, John F. Dashiell, and Robert Van DeCastle. Other Chapel Hillians attending will be June E. Chance, Milton Rosenbaum, Paschal M. Strong and Shephard Liverant.

Ham Wade to Head Law School Group

Ham Wade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Wade of Chapel Hill, will be installed as president of the University Law School Association at its annual spring banquet meeting this (Friday) evening at Lenoir Hall. He is a rising senior in the University's School of Law.

Mr. Wade is a graduate of Davidson College, where he was a member of the varsity football team. After finishing at Davidson he served as a paratrooper in the U. S. Army and attained the rank of first lieutenant. When his parents lived in Charlotte he attended Central High School there and was elected president of its student body.

He is married to the former Miss Julia Kennedy of Fayetteville.

Mr. Wade's father is director of the sports division of the University's News Bureau.

A Novel by Daphne Athas Putnam's will publish May 11 a novel by Daphne Athas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pan Constantine Athas of Chapel Hill, entitled "The Fourth World." The plot is based on an interpretation of the opinions and emotions of blind persons about the rest of the world. Miss Athas worked her way through the University by reading to blind students. She won a scholarship given by the Society of the Perkins Institute of the Blind in Watertown, Mass., and while there took courses in Harvard.

For the last three years she has been in London as the service club director for the Army Air Force. During this period she has had many opportunities to continue her association with the blind.

Plant Sale Today

The Chapel Hill Garden Club will hold a Spring plant and shrub sale at the Curb Market here today (Friday). The doors will be open for selling beginning at 11 a. m. Mrs. Pete Ivey and Mrs. D. C. Kelly will be in charge of sales. Plants and shrubs will be received, starting at 9 a. m., by Mrs. Noel Houston and Mrs. Floyd Edmister.

Opera Star Will Sing Here Tonight

Hilde Gueden, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, the Vienna State Opera, and La Scala of Milan, will sing here at 8 o'clock this (Friday) evening in Memorial Hall under the auspices of the Chapel Hill Concert Series. Her concert will be the final event in the current series. Tickets for the performance are on sale (at $2.00, $2.50, and $3.00) at Ledbetter-Pickard's and Kemp's Music Store and will be available at the door.

Opera Star Will Sing Here Tonight

Hilde Gueden, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, the Vienna State Opera, and La Scala of Milan, will sing here at 8 o'clock this (Friday) evening in Memorial Hall under the auspices of the Chapel Hill Concert Series. Her concert will be the final event in the current series. Tickets for the performance are on sale (at $2.00, $2.50, and $3.00) at Ledbetter-Pickard's and Kemp's Music Store and will be available at the door.