

Stage Is Set For Carrboro Folk Festival At 7:30 P.M.

Tonight's the night for the big Folk Festival in Carrboro. Real fun is guaranteed for everybody on hand at 7:30 this evening (Friday) in the Carrboro Lions Athletic Park. Stars of the show will be Smilin' George Pegram, famous Iredell banjoist and folk singer, and George Hamilton, University student who writes funny songs and sings them in a manner his hearers never forget.

There will be many other performers and contestants in the festival's amateur contest. Among those not previously announced are Haywood Pendergrass, who uses a harmonica to imitate a Model-T Ford trying to get across a railroad track while a train is coming; the "Wildcats," a square dance team from White Cross, and Jackie Chamblee, pianist.

Other entertainers and contestants will include two string bands, Ed Norwood and his Rhythm Rangers and another group headed by Robert Butler of Carrboro; Linda Yancey, singer; a singing trio composed of Leah Fitch, Alvene Williams, and Martha Ann Cheek; Patricia Simmons, dancer; A. T. Turner, who gives imitations, and Betty Butler, a tap-dancing Carrboro housewife. Pokey Alexander will be master of ceremonies.

The festival is being held by the Carrboro Cubs baseball team to raise money to finance its operations. Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. In case of rain the event will be held at the same time in the University Tin Can (between the Bell Tower and Woolen Gymnasium).

Trophies will be awarded to the winners of first, second, and third place in the amateur contest. The judges will be R. B. Todd, chairman; Mrs. James Street, Dick Jamerson, Jack McDade, and Joe Augustine.

George Pegram is noted here for his banjo performances in the annual Carolina Folk Festival, and also for his singing of "Here, Rattler" and "That Good Old Mountain Dew." In 1954 he represented the United States at a European folk festival in Italy and appeared there before 45,000 people.

George Hamilton and his Country Gentlemen have become extremely popular around here for their high pressure singing and unique styling. They have a regular show on radio station WCHL and have made several records of songs written by Mr. Hamilton.

High School Library Schedule
The library at the Chapel Hill High school is open from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays.

Dodgers Will Play Their Fourth Game Today

Winning Streaks Are Kept Unbroken by Little League's Three Leading Teams

Three teams continued their winning streaks in Little League baseball Wednesday, the Tigers defeating the Dodgers, 3-1, the Indians the Yankees, 15-2, and the Cubs the Giants in a no-hitter, 9-6.

Larry Kenney pitched for the Tigers against Ronnie Pendergrass and Kenny Oettinger of the Dodgers in the afternoon's first game. Charlie Phillips had two of the Tigers' four hits with Charles Lefler and Howard Pendergrass getting the other two. Larry Campbell, at shortstop for the Tigers, played well with five perfect fields in five chances and no errors.

In the second game played at Chapel Hill Wayne Hudson of the Indians had nine strike outs pitching against Don Smith, Jimmy Bejester, and Vernon Howard of the Yankees who had eight strike outs between them. Leading hitters for the Indians were Frank Martin with a double that scored two runs, Robert Oakes with another double that also scored two, and Wayne Hudson with two hits in four tries, one of those being the game's only home run. The Yankees had only two hits, both by Jimmy Bejester.

In Carrboro Ned Martin had 17 strike outs to win a no-hit victory over the Giants for the Cubs. Butch Regan and Tony Lloyd threw for the Giants. Martin was also the Cubs' leading hitter with three hits, including a triple, in five times at bat.

This afternoon's (Friday's) contests see Yankees against the Tigers at 3:30 in Carrboro, the Indians versus the Giants at 4:30 in Chapel Hill, and the Dodgers Bejester, and Vernon Howard of the Yankees who had eight strike

Five Chapel Hillians Are in Cast of Carolina Playmakers' Next Production

Five members out of a cast of 20 in the forthcoming Carolina Playmakers' summer production, "Goodbye My Fancy," by Fay Kamin, are Chapel Hillians. Another is from Carrboro.

"Goodbye, My Fancy" will be presented July 5 and 6 in the Playmakers Theatre under the direction of Kai Jurgensen of the U. N. C. Department of Dramatic Art.

Robert Thomas of Chapel Hill plays the male lead, a college president. The four remaining Chapel Hillians take supporting roles. They are Pat Liston as Congresswoman Agatha Reed's brisk, sarcastic secretary; Myra Lauterer as her former roommate, who hasn't changed at all; Florence Corriher as the officious alumnae secretary; and Dot O'Sullivan as a man-shy sex hygiene teacher.

Jo Deason of Enoree, S. C., a new graduate student at U. N. C., will make her first appearance with the Playmakers as the female lead, Congresswoman Agatha Reed.

Other members of the cast are Rosemary McLaughlin, Carrboro; Lorraine Swain, Laurel Fork, Va.; Lore Schuller, Wadesboro; Robert Chase, Georgetown, Conn.; Liz Roberts, Philadelphia, Pa.; Paul McCauley, Fayetteville; Lloyd Borstelmann, Durham; Dan Rankin, Gastonia; Doris Weaver, Four Oaks; Terry Beaver, Statesville; Joe O'Brien, Philadelphia, Pa.; Elizabeth Niles, Garland; Kit Lee Singleton, Florence, S. C.; and Hal Ballew, Winton.

"Goodbye, My Fancy" is a comedy about a congresswoman who returns to her old alma mater for her honorary doctorate and gives up an illusion of twenty years' duration.

Tickets will go on sale at Ledbetter-Pickards' and the Playmakers' Business office, 214 Abernethy Hall, on Monday, July 2.

Morwitz Resigns, Is Going to Switzerland

Ernst Morwitz has resigned from the University faculty after teaching German for thirteen years and has gone to live in Zurich, Switzerland. He left here Wednesday and will leave New York tomorrow on the steamship Berlin.

Mr. Morwitz, a native of Germany, is 68 years old. He studied at the universities of Heidelberg, Freiburg, and Berlin, and became a judge of the Supreme Court of Prussia. He was retired in 1936—that was when Hitler was in full power—and in 1938, the year of "Munich," he left Germany and came to the United States.

He taught a course in the religions of antiquity at Duke University from 1939 to 1943 and then came to Chapel Hill to teach German to soldiers in the Army Special Training Program. At the end of the war he was appointed a member of the University's regular faculty.

In collaboration with Olga Marx he translated the poems and other writings of his late were published by the German department of the University.

After he became an American citizen in 1947 he received an offer of the presidency of the Denazification Court in Berlin and he was invited by the West German government to be presiding judge of its Court of Appeals, but he declined both offers in order to stay in the University.

In Zurich he will finish his commentary on the works of Stefan George.

Alex London in Virginia
Alex London is in Williamsburg, Va., visiting Patch Rankin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Frank Rankin, now of Williamsburg and formerly of Chapel Hill. He will come home day after tomorrow.

The following boys will leave Sunday for a month at Camp Seagull: John LeGrand Jr., Brick Oettinger, Scott Parker, Don Prillaman, Bill Roberts Jr.,

Carrboro Budget Has Increase of Almost $30,000

A $119,600 budget was tentatively approved for 1956-57 for the town of Carrboro by the Carrboro Aldermen at their Tuesday evening meeting. An increase of $29,610 is shown over the budget for 1955-56.

As required by law, a copy of the budget has been filed with the town clerk for public inspection at the Town Hall on Lloyd Street in Carrboro. The budget will come up for its final adoption on July 12.

Although the budget was increased over last year, the tax rate will remain 93 cents per $100 valuation, the same as last year. This is because of the $37,000 cash on hand, as compared to only $15,000 for last year.

Receipts from property tax are expected to be $43,000, which is an increase of $3,000 over last year. Other main increases in expected receipts are: from $1,000 to $2,000 for sale of water meters; from $2,800 to $3,000 for sewage tax; from $1,500 to $2,300 for uncollected taxes; from $1,400 to $1,700 in North Carolina beer and wine taxes; from $450 to $800 for out of town sewage rent; and from $300 to $700 for out of town sewage connections.

The largest expected spending will be $45,000 for the sewage department, an $18,000 increase over last year. Most of this sum will be spent on the new sewage treatment plant now being built.

Other main increases in spending are: from $6,290 to $7,700 for street work; from $1,800 to $6,000 for the water department; from $5,500 to $9,000 for the sanitation department; and from $1,200 to $4,000 for the fire department. Most of the expected increased spending will be used for improvements in the various departments. In sanitation spending, $6,000 will be used to buy a new truck. A new fire-alarm system may also be installed as part of the fire department spending.

Chapel Hill Chaff

L.G.

That was a good story Billy Arthur had in his column about Joe Robbins' deciding not to take vacations because he found that if he stuck to his job he would get promotions over men who had gone off pleasure-seeking. "I had 11 promotions in 14 months," said Mr. Robbins, "all because folks went off on vacations."

Reading this sent my thoughts back 52 years to the summer of 1904. I was a 21-year-old stripling who had been in New York barely over a year and had a job, that my older brother had got me, reporting for the New York Times. I was miserably lacking in self-confidence and spent a good deal of my time being afraid I was not going to be able to hold on to the job. A young man named Stephen Chalmers, as far from lacking in self-confidence as a hawk could possibly be and a brilliant writer, had come on the staff two or three months before. When my vacation time came they put him in only my two free weeks, but how did I know what might happen when they saw how well he was covering my assignment at the old Tenderloin police station? Before leaving New York I gave an order to the Times circulation department to mail the paper to me. I'd have had a much happier time if I hadn't done that. For, the first thing I did when I got the Times at the post office every morning was to hunt up Steve Chalmers' stories and they were so well written, so sprightly and humorous, that they spoiled my vacation.

Here's one more person who, after looking fearfully at airplanes from afar for years, climbs inside one.

"Hospitality Blues"
Doug Harrell's recording of "Hospitality Blues," which is the best selling record in this area, is spreading out on a national basis this weekend. Tomorrow (Saturday) it will be played on Monitor, the popular NBC weekly radio program that is heard on 165 stations.

Members of the Pittsboro Kiwanis Club will be in Chapel Hill today (Friday) selling tickets for an old-fashioned Independence Day celebration to be held July 4 in Pittsboro.

Tickets, which are 50 cents each, will be sold at prominent places on the streets, and a pony and a greasy pig contest will be held with prizes going to winners.

The pony will also be given away, and that night, a miniature golf tournament will be held at the Kiwanis Park with three divisions for men, women, and children.

The hostesses for the event were Miss Constance DeLancy, Miss Janet Haas, and Mrs. Gordon Kirschner.

At Memorial Hospital
Among local persons listed as patients at Memorial Hospital yesterday were Mrs. Thomas Austin, Miss Beatrice Bacon, Stein Basnight, D. H. Buchanan, W. A. Burnett, Susan Goldstein, Tommy Hackney, G. L. Johnson, Betty Pearson, Miss Carolyn Pendergrass, Mrs. Eric Riggsbee and Miss Alice Stevens.

Methodist Picnic
Members of the Patricia Nelson Circle of the University Methodist Church held a picnic one evening last week at the B. L. Smiths' cabin on the Airport Road. The picnic was attended by about 45 persons, including members of the families of the circle members.

Candidates for State Senate And County Board Are to Be Chosen in Run-Off Tomorrow

Where to Vote in Run-Off Tomorrow

Voting in the run-off for the Democratic primary tomorrow will be the same as in the first primary. The polls will be open from 6:30 a. m. to 6:30 p. m.

The voting places and registrars for the Chapel Hill precincts are as follows:

Precinct 1: Town Hall, registrar Mrs. Henry E. Royall. Precinct 2: Presbyterian Hut back of Telephone Exchange on Rosemary Street, registrar J. A. Warren. Precinct 3: Woolen Gymnasium, registrar Harold Walters. Precinct 4: Cone House next door to the High School, registrar Mrs. Irene Seroggs. Precinct 5: Glenwood School, registrar Mrs. Lindsay Neville.

There will be only one voting place for Carrboro voters, at the Carrboro Town Hall.

Candidates to be voted on are: For Board of County Commissioners, Sim Efland of Efland and Donald M. Stanford of Chapel Hill; for State Senator from 16th Senatorial District, John T. Manning and Edwin S. Lanier, both of Chapel Hill.

Piano Concert Set For Monday Night

A piano concert will be given at 8 p. m. Monday, June 25, in Hill Hall by students who have studied in the University's Music Department in the past year. Admission is free and the public is invited.

The concert, to consist of American music, is the first of two events to be held in conjunction with the University's Sixth Annual Clinic for Piano Teachers and Students.

"Sonata American Gothic," by Harold Twigg of the composition staff of Columbia University, will be played by Harvey Miller; "Celtic Sonata," by Edward MacDowell, will be played by Mrs. Nara Snornieks; Miss Marjorie Still will play "Excursions," by Samuel Barber, four kinds of fantasies on American ideas including blues and hill-billy folk songs; and the fourth presentation will be Bela Bartok's "Third Concerto." Eugene Hudson will play the solo here, and Miss Polly Wilkerson will play on another piano the part usually played by an orchestra.

The music clinic is under the direction of William S. Newman of the University Music Department.

Carrboro Cubs Get Their 14th Victory

The Carrboro Cubs had their fourteenth win of the season last Monday night, defeating Ca-Vel 9-6, on 10 hits. The winning pitcher for the Cubs, Don Jackson also gave up 10 hits, but Carrboro's hitting came where it counted to keep them in the lead for most of the ball game. Losing pitcher for Ca-Vel was Wilkin.

Fenno McGinty with three hits in five tries including a home run in the third inning, pitcher Don Jackson with two hits for three tries, and Jack Mitchell with a home run in the seventh were leading hitters for the Cubs. Dan Carroll also had a triple in the second inning.

Tonight (Friday) the Cubs will go against Swepsonville in an away game, and Saturday night they will take on the Durham Rams in Durham's Athletic Park.

Children's Story Hour
A story hour for children of the third grade and below will be held in the Peter Garvin Library at the Glen Lennox Elementary School at 2 o'clock every Friday afternoon from today through August 3. It will be conducted by Mrs. Dorothy Ellis, the school's librarian.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Aldersgate Methodist Church will hold a bake sale today (Friday) at the Glen Lennox Colonial Store. It

Faculty Club Luncheon
Professor Joseph T. Snead of the University of Texas Law School will speak on "What Is Our Federal Income Tax Policy?" at a luncheon meeting of the Faculty Club at 1 p. m. Tuesday

A run-off of the first Democratic primary will be held tomorrow (Saturday) to nominate candidates for Orange County Commissioner and Senator from this district. The polls will be open from 6:30 a. m. to 6:30 p. m.

County Commissioner Sim Efland of Efland and Donald M. Stanford of Chapel Hill are the two men running for county commissioner, and John Manning and Edwin S. Lanier, both of Chapel Hill, are in the running for the Senate post.

Mr. Efland and Mr. Lanier, who trailed in the first primary, asked for the run-off. Mr. Efland is known to feel personally that the people of Orange do not desire a concentration of commissioners in one section, namely Chapel Hill, of the county. And he feels that the northern section is justly entitled to representation on the board.

Mr. Stanford polled 2,199 votes in the first primary, and Mr. Efland got 1,879. Two other candidates polled 2,256 together, and Commissioner R. J. M. Hobbs, who was renominated, got 2,821. That makes a total of 5,077 votes that could be divided between the two candidates in the run-off.

Mr. Manning got 2,025 votes in the first primary to Mr. Lanier's 1,773. A third candidate got 1,362 votes in this race for the Senate nomination.

Mr. Manning, in a statement made this week, said, "I appreciated the confidence expressed in me in the first primary which resulted in the lead over my opponent in Chapel Hill and Hillsboro and generally throughout the county. I sincerely hope for the continued support of those who made this lead possible."

Mr. Lanier, who has served as a County Commissioner and as an Alderman and then Mayor of Chapel Hill, said in his statement: "For the past eleven years I have worked hard to help achieve good local government. I want to work hard in behalf of good state government, and I hope and believe the people will encourage me to do so."

"The nominee for this office should know and feel that the voters in large numbers expressed themselves at the ballot box, and that he is the choice of the majority. If the people exercise the right and privilege of citizenship by voting in force, I shall be content and grateful, whatever the outcome, with their decision."

John T. O'Neil Jr. Takes High Honors

John T. O'Neil Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil of 418 Westwood Drive, was graduated magna cum laude from the Woodberry Forest School in Virginia this month and is making plans to become a freshman this coming fall at Princeton University, where he has a scholarship.

At Woodberry Forest the young Chapel Hillian, whose father teaches finance in the University's School of Business Administration, was active in athletic as well as in scholarly pursuits, having won his letter in track and soccer.

John was also the winner of the school's M. A. Turner Memorial Prize, given each year to the best student in French, and the Leland Hume Lord Memorial Medal, awarded for excellence in mathematics.
