Teachers of Music Asked to Register

The Chapel Hill Music Club, a chief purpose of which is to stimulate musical development among Chapel Hill youngsters, is making up a list of all local people interested in teaching music to children of school age or pre-school age. Such a list would include University faculty members and graduate students and all private teachers who give lessons in their own homes or studios and those available to teach in the homes of pupils.

All such music teachers are asked to call or write Mrs. W. A. Pollard Jr. of 311 McCauley Street, who is the Club's junior counselor, and give their names and telephone numbers. (Mrs. Pollard's number is 9-3301.)

In issuing the above appeal, Mrs. Louise Jefferson, president of the Club, said the list would be used in a project the organization is about to launch for the purpose of providing more musical opportunities for the young people of Chapel Hill.
