

Springen To Teach 'Public Speaking'

Donald K. Springen, director of the University debate team, will teach "Public Speaking" at the Leadership Training Workshop to meet at UNC July 15-17.

Dr. Springen, an assistant professor of English at UNC, has taught public speaking, voice, and diction at UNC for five years. He began directing the debate team in 1959. This year he took over the North Carolina High School Debating Union from E. R. Rankin who retired after 50 years.

His first book, "Training the Voice," will soon be published by Random House. Dr. Lucia Morgan, UNC associate professor of English, is the co-author.

Dr. Springen holds a bachelor's degree from the University of California at Berkeley, a master's degree from Northwestern, and a doctorate from the University of Iowa.

One hundred and fifty women are registered to attend the workshop. It is sponsored jointly by the University Extension Division and the North Carolina Council of Women's Organizations. The purpose of the annual workshop is to train and encourage women of North Carolina to fill posts in the educational, economic, social, and political life of the state.

Rives-Shytle Wedding At Antioch Baptist Church

On Sunday afternoon, June 30, the Antioch Baptist Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Ann Louise Rives, and Walter R. Shytle, II, both of Chapel Hill. The Reverend William Cole, pastor of the bride, officiated for the double ring ceremony before the altar of palms, gladiolas, and mums.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eston Rives of Chapel Hill. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Shytle of Chapel Hill.

The Rev. Calvin Rains of the Carrboro Baptist Church, pastor of the groom, and Mrs. Ben Warwick of Chapel Hill rendered a program of nuptial music. Mrs. June Ferrell was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal gown of Peau-de-soie and chantilly lace fashioned with an empire lace bodice, which featured a scalloped boat neck line and elbow sleeves. The controlled bell skirt enhanced by lace motifs featured a chapel train accented by moths. Her tiered veil of French illusion was attached to a tiara of seed pearls fashioned by her mother. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, gypsophelia, snowdrift, and pom-poms centered with a white orchid.

Miss Lynn Shytle, sister of the bridegroom was the maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of mint green organza over taffeta. Her head piece, a matching cabbage rose featured a circular veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of gypsophelia, yellow roses, snowdrift, and pom-poms.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. James Rives, sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Calvin Mellott, aunt of the groom, and Miss Carolyn Smith. They wore yellow dresses of organza over taffeta with head pieces of a cabbage rose featuring a circular veil. They carried cascade bouquets identical to the one carried by the maid of honor.

Flower girls were identical twins, Linda and Brenda Maurer. They wore white organza over mint green taffeta, and carried baskets of yellow rose petals.

Best man was Walter R. Shytle, father of the groom; ushers were Johnnie Hinson of Chapel Hill, Steve Wall of Carrboro, and Jerry McLamb of Spring Lake.

The bride's mother wore a pastel blue eyelet embroidered dress with blue accessories. Her corsage was of white roses. The groom's mother wore a champagne eyelet embroidered sheath with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The groom's grandmother wore a dress of Mediterranean blue lace with pink accessories. Her corsage was white carnations.

The bride is a graduate of Kings Business College, Raleigh, and holds a position at Hospital Saving Association. The groom is a graduate of Chapel Hill High School and plans to enter IEC in Durham this fall. He is now employed with Colonial Stores.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained at a reception at their home.

For the wedding trip, the bride chose yellow antique silk with beige accessories. Her corsage was the orchid lifted from the bridal bouquet.

After an extended wedding trip to Shenandoah Valley, Va., the couple will be at home with the bride's parents on Route 1, Chapel Hill.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Crumpler of Clinton, grandparents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Burl Abernathy, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Morris, Mrs. J. H. Mann, Miss Sandra Morris, Dennis Ray Abernathy, all of Spring Lake; Mr. Larry Herron of Moncure, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Cash of Fayetteville; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hodges of Willis, Va.; Mrs. M. T. Owen, Keith Owen, and Mildred, of Roseboro.

Triangle Symphony Performs Sunday

The Triangle Little Symphony, under the direction of Paul Bryan, will return Sunday to the North Carolina Museum of Art in Raleigh for another in its series of summertime museum concerts.

The group will be heard at 4 p.m. in the Flemish Galleries of the museum. Admission is free, with seating on a first-come, first-served basis.

Sunday's concert will mark the third consecutive season that the Chapel Hill-Durham-Raleigh musicians have appeared at the museum since they were organized, under Mr. Bryan's leadership, into the Triangle Little Symphony in 1961. Including their debut performance at the museum in the summer of that year, they have played eight museum concerts, always to capacity audiences.

The Little Symphony has been consistently praised in its numerous appearances in the tri-city area.

Soloist on Sunday will be violinist Julia Mueller, like Mr. Bryan a member of the Duke music faculty and a frequent participant in local and national musical events. On Sunday's program, called Music of Viennese Composers, she will be featured in Mozart's Violin Concerto in A Major, K. 219.

The entire group will round out the program with Haydn's Symphony No. 77 in B flat Major and Schubert's Symphony No. 5 in B flat Major.

Cooperating with the museum in presenting Sunday's performance will be Local 500 of the American Federation of Musicians.

ENGAGEMENT—Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Matthews of Durham announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Kathleen, to Richard Walter Ulrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Joseph Ulrich of Jamaica, N. Y. The bride-elect is a data processor for the University. Mr. Ulrich is a customer engineer for IBM. The wedding will take place in the University Baptist Church on October 6th at 4 p.m.

Trustees Approve State College AB

Action to implement two provisions of the Higher Education Act passed by the 1963 General Assembly was initiated in Raleigh Monday.

The executive committee of the University Board of Trustees approved the awarding of the Bachelor of Arts degree at North Carolina State of the University of North Carolina at Raleigh.

The committee also instructed the UNC administrators to begin studies on the possible expansion of the university system to other areas of the state.

The administration was instructed to begin with the Charlotte area in its study of the possibility of setting up new branches of the university.

The addition of the A.B. program on the Raleigh campus and possible expansion of the system were included in an omnibus bill on higher education passed by the General Assembly in May.

The legislation serves as a blueprint for developing the state's program of higher education in the coming years.

Provision was made for the possible expansion of Charlotte College, Wilmington College and Asheville-Biltmore College into four-year institutions.

The university can be expanded into these areas if deemed necessary in the future.

The setting up of the liberal arts degree program at Raleigh was part of the legislation's attempt to strengthen the "one-university" concept. The Raleigh campus was renamed "North Carolina State of the University of North Carolina at Raleigh" and Woman's College in Greensboro became "The University of North Carolina at Greensboro."
