Mrs. Olga Bober Exhibits Painting

The paintings of Mrs. Olga Bober of Chapel Hill will be on exhibit in the North Gallery of the Morehead Planetarium during September.

Mrs. Bober has painted in various locations while following her husband, a visiting professor. Her art is the product of an intense dedication to serious self-expression in a difficult medium. Ranging from an exploration of abstract styles to less novel and more familiar problems of still life, portraiture and allegorical figure compositions, Mrs. Bober brings to her subjects a conservative but rich insight into the power of color which expresses emotions in front of nature.

She has exhibited at Milwaukee, Madison, Appleton, Green Bay and Oshkosh, Wisconsin, but this will be her first exhibition in North Carolina.

The Morehead Building is open from 2 to 5 p.m. and 7:30 to 10 p.m. on weekdays, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturdays, and 1 to 10 p.m. on Sundays. There is no charge for admission to the exhibit galleries.
