

Planetarium Lists 1963-64 Schedule

The Morehead Planetarium's 1963-64 program schedule has been mailed to 15,000 organizations, institutions, and individuals in the Carolinas and Virginia.

Included in the program is a listing and brief description of the eleven programs the Planetarium will present the coming year, starting today: time schedules and admission charges; and facilities and arrangements that can be made for school children and other groups.

The programs: September 1 - October 7, "How Do We Know," which explains methods and instruments used to explore the Universe; October 8-28, "The Charter and the Seven Stars," which commemorates the Carolina Charter Tercentenary; October 29-November 25, "Strangers in the Sky," which views the skies from other latitudes than North Carolina's; November 26, 1963-January 6, 1964, the Planetarium's annual "Star of Bethlehem," the scientific and spiritual story of the Star in the East; January 7-February 3, "Space Probes and Satellites," a description of current NASA projects; February 4-March 2, "The Sun and You," an examination of the structure of the Sun and its impact on the Earth; March 3-April 6, another Planetarium perennial, "Easter The Awakening," a program of Biblical pageantry and related astronomy; April 7-27, "The Milky Way and Beyond"; and April 28-May 31, "All About Planets."

The Planetarium's school program schedule begins with "How Do We Know" and will end with "All About Planets." The Planetarium's Summer Science Spectacular, next year to be entitled "Spaceship to the Moon," will run through June, July and August. The school program schedule will begin again on September 1, 1964, with "Legends in the Stars."

Two special school programs are planned by the Planetarium for the coming year, both available to school groups every Wednesday and Friday throughout the season. At 10 a.m., "Learning the Sky" for grades 1-4; and at 2 p.m., "Exploring the Sky" for grades 5-9. Advance reservations are necessary for these programs.

Regular school programs will be by advance reservation at 11 a.m., 1 and 4 p.m. Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays throughout the season.

Public programs will be given at 3:30 p.m. daily; at 11 a.m., 3, 4 and 8:30 p.m. Saturdays (at 11 a.m., 5 and 8:30 p.m. on home football Saturdays) and at 2, 3, 4 and 8:30 p.m. Sundays.

Admission to Planetarium performances for the coming year is unchanged and will be 35 cents for children through age 11 (or grade six); 50 cents for students age 12 through college; and 75 cents for adults. One adult is admitted free with every ten members of any group. Clergymen are admitted free at all times.

Return card mailers are included on every program mailed out, on which group program reservations may be made.

The 15,000 programs are mailed to all school principals in North Carolina and Virginia, and to some in South Carolina; to churches, Scout leaders, and to institutions or businesses which have public information bulletin boards; and to the Planetarium's "public" mailing list of all persons who have ever had any communication with the Planetarium. Anyone wishing to have a copy of the Program Schedule may write to the Morehead Planetarium, Chapel Hill.

UNC Library Is Federal Depository

The Wilson Library of the University has been designated as the State's regional depository for federal government publications.

As a result of this designation, the Library will receive and retain permanently all federal publications distributed by the Division of Public Documents of the Government Printing Office. As part of its obligations as a regional depository, the Library will serve as the Statewide center for interlibrary loan and reference service relating to federal documents and will assist the thirteen regular depository libraries of the State in disposing of older publications which they no longer need.

The designation, made recently by Senator B. Everett Jordan, arises from the Depository Library Act of 1962, which provides for at least one regional depository library in each state. The purpose of the Act is to establish complete collections of available government documents in those states which desire such comprehensive collections.

The University Library has been a regular depository for federal publications since 1884. In the years since, it has built up extensive collections of federal, state, international, and foreign documents. At present approximately 47,000 documents are received each year, not including several thousand additional documents in microfacsimile form.

Since the Library already receives virtually all publications distributed by the Public Documents Office, its regional depository status will not cause an immediate increase in new acquisitions. If provisions of the Depository Library Act can be fully implemented, however, regional depositories will begin to receive all federal documents issued, except those classified for reasons of security or those of a strictly internal administrative nature.

Homestead Plans Harvest Festival

Homestead Community Center will hold a bake sale and a produce sale at its annual Harvest Festival Saturday. The Festival will begin at 10 a.m. and continue until 7:30 p.m.

For small children, a nursery corner will be maintained during the sale, and free coffee will be served.

A home-style fried ham supper will be served from 5 to 7. Plates will be $1.25 for adults, 75 cents for children under 12. Tickets may be purchased from Homestead Community Center members, or at the door Saturday evening.

Homestead Community Center is near the entrance to Hogan's Lake.

Richardson-Mclver Wedding Saturday

Dr. and Mrs. Edward Edgeworth Richardson of Chapel Hill announce the marriage of their daughter, Julia Wells, to Alexander Mclver Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mclver of Mebane. The double-ring ceremony was performed Saturday evening in the Grumman Chapel of the University Methodist Church by the Rev. Charles S. Hubbard of the First Methodist Church in Wilson, and the Rev. Clyde G. McCarver of the University Methodist Church here.

The church was decorated with altar vases of white summer flowers and white tapers in wrought-iron candelabras. Nuptial music was provided by James Holmes, organist, and James Chamblee, soloist. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of pure silk organza designed with a portrait neckline of Alencon lace, and three-quarter length sleeves with lace insertions. The front of the bell-shaped skirt was appliqued in lace. She wore a mantilla of Alencon lace. She carried a white Bible in a setting of orchids and white stephanotis.

Maid of honor was Miss Liles Richardson, sister of the bride, who wore a maize silk-linen dress. She carried a bouquet of Shasta daisies.

Best man for the bridegroom was his brother-in-law, David Lashley of Graham.

For the ceremony, the bride's mother wore an Alice blue crepe dress with butterfly sleeves and a soft-pleated skirt. Her corsage was of yellow orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink eyelet embroidered dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Dr. and Mrs. Richardson entertained at a reception in Fellowship Hall following the wedding. Assisting them were Mr. and Mrs. J. Temple Gobbel, Mr. and Mrs. James Bruce Ballentine, Mrs. Alton Sadler, Miss Lynn Trageser, Mrs. Lindsay Neville, Mrs. J. C. Kouns, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith, Mrs. Murray Holland, Misses Susan Tyree and Linda Cheek, all of Chapel Hill; Mrs. Lynwood Pearson of Goldsboro, and Mrs. David Lashley of Graham, both sisters of the bridegroom.

For a wedding trip to the coast, the bride chose a cranberry-red two-piece costume suit with matching accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The bride, a graduate of Chapel Hill High School, will enter the School of Dental Hygiene at the University in the fall.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Chapel Hill High School. He attended Elon College. He is a foreman for F. D. McDonald Steel Erectors of Charlotte.

Winston Art Gallery Will Hold Contest

The Winston-Salem Gallery of Fine Arts will open in its new quarters in Old Salem on Sept. 27 and has invited artists from a five-state area to submit paintings for its first show of the 1963-64 season.

Artists living in North and South Carolina, Virginia, Georgia, and Tennessee are invited to submit paintings, graphics, and sculpture for judging Sept. 21. Entry dates are Sept. 9-20. Purchase prizes, ranging from $250 to $300 are awarded.

Juror for the opening is art critic, dealer and editor Lee Nordness of Nordness Gallery in New York City, who compiled the $750,000 ART-USA: NOW Johnson's Wax Collection now touring Europe.

Workers have spent the summer getting the new gallery ready in the Old Salem restoration area. Historical restoration and contemporary art is not a new combination; it has proved successful in Colonial Williamsburg. The gallery's new location is expected to increase attendance for both Old Salem and the gallery. Old Salem, a Moravian village settled in 1766 and now restored to about 1830, had 39,398 visitors from 43 states and 43 foreign countries last year.

The jury selection program is held twice a year by the non-profit tax-exempt gallery, which opened in 1956. Accepted works are rented and sold and are displayed in exhibits changing every three weeks.

Artists must submit not less than three nor more than ten works by 5 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 20. The gallery is open Monday through Saturday, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Further information and a contract form may be obtained by writing the Winston-Salem Gallery of Fine Arts, 612 South Main Street, Winston-Salem.

Binkley Memorial Weekend Retreat

Members of the Binkley Memorial Baptist Church participated in a Retreat this weekend at Camp Kanata, a Y. M. C. A. camp near Wake Forest. Over 30 families took part in a program of study, worship and recreation. The theme for the event was "The Nature and Mission of the Church."

Persons leading the study groups were the Rev. James Forbes of Wilmington, and Miss Nancy Carroll, Leo Wagoner, and Reginald Rawls, members of the Binkley congregation. The Vesper Services were under the leadership of Dr. Jae Park of Raleigh and the Rev. Courtland

Parties Are Given For Miss Culbreth

Miss Patricia Culbreth, who will become the bride of Curtis Deane on September 7, has been honored this summer at several parties and showers.

On June 18, Miss Liles Richardson, assisted by her mother, Mrs. R. E. Richardson, gave a kitchen shower for Miss Culbreth. The honoree was presented a corsage of daisies.

The bridegroom's mother and sister, Mrs. E. L. Deane and Miss Sharon Deane, gave a miscellaneous shower on July 22. The bride-elect was presented a gift of silver by the hostesses.

At her home on Bowling Creek Road, Mrs. T. Moyle Johnson entertained Miss Culbreth, her mother, Mrs. Grey Culbreth; and her friends, at a luncheon on August 3. Mrs. Johnson gave the honoree a corsage and a gift of crystal.

Mrs. F. C. Morrow and her daughter, Mrs. Alan Meade, feted Miss Culbreth at a cleaning shower on August 4. Upon arrival, the honoree was given a novel corsage of chrysanthemums with miniature cleaning tools attached.

A personal shower was given by Miss Susan Howard, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Ralph Howard, on August 9. The bride-elect was presented an orchid corsage by her hostess.

On August 10, a coffee hour was held by Mrs. Max Saunders and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Frank Saunders of Gastonia, at the former's home on Oakwood Drive. The bride's mother and the bridegroom's mother were present. Miss Culbreth and her mother were each presented a corsage of small mums. An electric fryer was given to the honoree.

Miss Pamela Johnson gave a Coke party on August 14 at her home on Davie Circle. The honoree was given a corsage of mums decorated with a bottle opener, and a gift of crystal. On Tuesday, Mrs. John Gouger and Mrs. Joe Walker gave a luncheon for the bride-elect and some of her friends at Schrafft's Country Inn.

Mrs. John Fuller and Mrs. Melville Jordan will entertain Miss Culbreth at a luncheon at Schrafft's on Thursday.

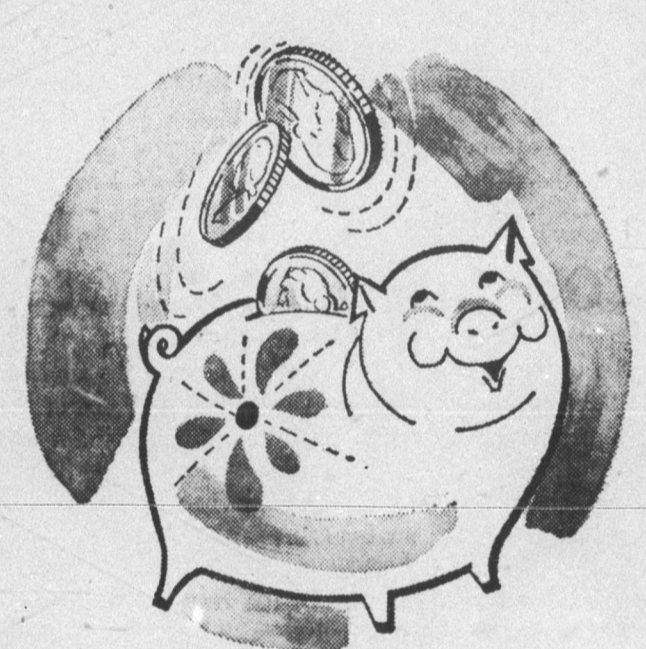

Miss Culbreth will entertain her bridesmaids and honorary bridesmaids at a luncheon on Friday at her home. Following the wedding rehearsal at 5 p.m., Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Shearer and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Howard will give a dinner at the Shearer home on Westwood Drive.

Dr. and Mrs. O. D. Garvin and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith will entertain the bridal party at a wedding breakfast at noon at the Carolina Inn on Saturday.

Post-Rehearsal Dinner Is Given

Following a wedding rehearsal on Friday night, Miss Julia Wells Richardson and Alexander Mclver Jr., were honored at a dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. J. Brue Ballentine at their home on N. Lakeshore Drive. Co-host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Neville.

Present at the dinner were members of the bridal party, parents of the honorees, and out-of-town guests, including Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Cooper of Harve de Grace, Md., maternal grandparents of the bride-elect; Mrs. Samuel W. Cole of Graham, maternal grandmother of the bridegroom-to-be; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Niswander of Kingsport, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Merritt of Ayden, Mr. and Mrs. William Tilley of Raleigh, and Mrs. Lynwood Pearson of Goldsboro.
