The Carrboro Baptist Church will hold open house this afternoon from 3 to 5 in observance of the completion of the educational building which has been under construction for the past several months. Visitors will be met at the door by a member of the building committee and guided through the various rooms. Refreshments will be served by members of the Fidelis and Gleamers Sunday School classes. The public is cordially invited to attend. The pastor of the church is Rev. Calvin E. Rains to whom much of the work should be credited.

The Judy Greene Circle of the WMU met at the home of Mrs. Jimmy Stewart Monday evening, then went on to the home of Mrs. Rosa Clark to present the program and refreshments. Mrs. Clark has been seriously ill for several weeks. Miss Doris Lindsay gave the program after which chocolate cake, coffee, nuts, and candy were served. Those present were Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Milton Latta, Mrs. Crudup Duncan, Miss Doris Lindsay, Mrs. Bynie Riggsbee, and Mrs. Josie Perry.

Mrs. English Bagby Begins 18th Year

Mrs. English Bagby is beginning her 18th season of dance instruction in Chapel Hill. Each year Mrs. Bagby presents her students in one of the best known classical ballets. This year, in the spring, the children will give the Nutcracker Ballet, a favorite of all ages.

Mrs. Bagby starts children in their dance training at four and five years of age. At this time a great deal can be accomplished before bad posture and awkward movement habits are formed. In these early years the children are given the fundamentals of graceful movement. Technique is made attractive to them by the motivation of ideas and feelings that the development keeps pace with the development of the child mentally, physically and artistically. Rhythm, accuracy, speed, enlargement and expressiveness are among the fundamentals which carry over to their daily life. In every class there is emphasis on posture, technique, and self expression.

When children are old enough, they are introduced to the difficult system of the classical ballet. This is presented to them with the greatest protection against strain and overdevelopment.

Not only has Mrs. Bagby received distinction as a dancer, but she has an academic record which is very unusual in a professional dancer. She is a graduate of Barnard College, Columbia University, and has taught dancing at Teachers College, Columbia University, and a course for teachers in methods and materials of dance education for the Massachusetts State Board of Education at Boston University. Before coming to Chapel Hill she introduced complete dance curriculums, from Kindergarten through eighth grade, in many of the private schools of Boston. Her scientific training also included work in remedial exercises at the New York Orthopedic Hospital.

Mrs. Bagby feels that children should be taught dancing so that it improves their personality, develops their self confidence and charm, and gives them a rich cultural background in music, dance and art. She believes that a child's interests are best served not by over-emphasizing any one form of the dance, but by an all around dance education.

Friday To Speak At Greensboro

President William Friday will address the UNC - Greensboro pre-school conference at 9 a.m. Tuesday on "The Changing University Community."

The conference has been called by Student Government President Anne Prince of Chapel Hill so that student leaders can consider their role in university life during the coming year.

The conference precedes the arrival of new students. More than 1,000 newcomers will report Thursday for orientation and their first convocation.
