

"DRUNKEN SISTERS" - From left, Ginger Young, John B. Dunne, Norma Scofield, and Mary Lindsay Spearman rehearse the Purefoy Players' production of "The Drunken Sisters," one of three one-act plays to be performed at the Community Church Friday and Saturday, September 20 and 21 at 8 p.m. The other two plays are "Bedtime Story" and "The Flattering Word." No admission will be charged, but an opportunity will be given to contribute to the cost of the production.

For Women-Mostly By PAQUITA FINE

You may be a nature girl from way back when it comes to wearing bedroom slippers, but if you're going off to school for the first time this year, better stick a pair in your suitcase right now. As one faculty member of a girls' school puts it: "The more steeped in tradition a school is, the older it is and the more splinters in the floor. If the girls insist on going barefoot in their rooms, they should at least bring flip-flops for going back and forth to their showers." Besides bedroom slippers, the most "forgotten" articles are

A friend called and said that his wife had been given a nice oleander plant and he wanted to inquire about the best location to plant it. The oleander (Neri-

um) likes full sun and a well-

Pruning consists of cutting out dead wood and crowded growth

in late winter or early spring before growth starts. At that time, too, the plants should be fertilized and mulched. If you want to increase plants, this may be rather easily done by layer-

Two young Raleigh businessmen stopped by the office this morning to ask about a plant they had seen growing in a bed at the west end of our building.

They both have new homes and thought they could use the plant

if it did not grow too tall.

bathing suits and caps and tennis rackets. Summer may be over, but most schools have indoor swimming facilities. That tennis racket is mandatory when the physical education teacher decides to vary the program and have tennis classes on these warm fall days.

Take a clock! Even if the school is on the bell system and your room is right under a bell, you'll need a clock to help for the next class or activity;

you keep on schedule. The bell can only tell you that it's time it cannot tell you what the time Creeping Juniper

Makes Good Cover ing a station

> In case you would like to include some of these smaller types in your seed list for spring planting, I am giving you a head

The plant is Juniperus horizontalis, commonly called, Creeping Juniper. It is a very desirable plant for use as a ground cover. In addition to this bluish-green typical kind, there are other varieties of the dwarfish or low growing form. J. horizontalis Douglasii has steel-blue foliage; J. horizontalis procumbens is a very dwarf form; and J. horizontalis variegata has cream-

Sometime in March, I wrote about small fruited tomato varieties that you might wish to try in your garden. They are especially nice for paste, salads, pickles and for eating raw, as you would the larger varieties. This suggestion created quite

WATCH

Precision craftsmanship by experts insures your nplete satisfaction with all our watch repairs.

PROMPT SERVICE

WENTWORTH & SLOAN

JEWELERS 167 E. Franklin St. Phone 942-4469

a bit of interest. Fact is a lady brought me a basket of the small cherry type about two weeks ago and said that from now on, this would be the kind she would plant because "they are easy to grow and such prolific bearers." She may have gone overboard a little on this but that is what

Here they are. Red Cherry (large and small). Red Pear, Yellow and Pear and Yellow Plum. San Marzano is an unusual type. It is rectangularshaped, about 31/2 inches long and about 11/2 inches across. It is reported to be productive and to also have a very intense red color, making it especially desirable for puree and paste.

9 Chapel Hillians In Nursing Program

Nine Chapel Hill women are enrolled in the UNC School of Nursing's new masters degree program, Dean Elizabeth L. Kemble announced today.

Those who complete the course will be eligible for the degree of Master of Science in Nursing with majors in medical-surgical nursing, nursing administration, or psychiatric nursing.

The local nurses participating in the program are Mrs. Blanche Finley Macfie, Mrs. Opal Shepard Hipps, Mrs. Sandra J. Mull Sorenson, Mrs. Barbara B. Bullard, Frances McGregor Coleman, Virginia Margaret Hargett, Lucy Taylor Fort, Mrs. Roberta B. Phillips, and Mrs. Wilma

Lewis. Thirty-eight nurses from all over the eastern United States are enrolled in the School of Nursing's graduate school. The new program is sponsored jointly by UNC's School of Public Health. Department of Public Health Nursing, and the School of Nurs-

BRINKHOUS TO LECTURE

Dr. Kenneth R. Brinkhous of the Department of Pathology in the UNC School of Medicine will present the Ward Burdick Lecture, on "Hemorrhagic States; Reflection from the Clinical Laboratory," during the joint annual meetings of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists and the College of American Pathologists in Chicago this month.

Besides, there's always a morning or two when you'll want to get up ahead of schedule to take a last look at a book before a test or to check the spelling in your English theme. (So don't forget to take your dictionary.)

When packing, check the bathroom for skin soap, talcum powder, shower cap-all the items that "live" in the bathroom and are frequently overlooked when you are packing in the bedroom. (It's a good idea to make a list of all the articles you use daily and check them off as they go into your suitcase. You stand less chance of forgetting your grooming aids.)

For fun and relaxation, not to mention keeping up with the news off-campus, take a radio, but keep in mind that although you may be fond of dozing off to "My Best to You," your roommate may not be. Since some schools allow only one radio per dormitory room, use a little common sense and courtesy when select-

Stationery and stamps are among the first things students go looking for. Girls, who seem to be more stationery conscious than boys, usually prefer to wait until they get to school so they can buy stationery engraved with the school's name. But if you want paper with your name on it, try ordering some from a printshop that uses the new 'raised" print-looks and feels like engraving, but is not as expensive. With stamps on hand, you can get those letters on the move. (Remember: a "dead letter" is one that has lain on your desk for a week while you kept trying to bum a stamp from

A fruit cake tin is indispensable for keeping snacks-such as pastries, cookies, crackers - safe from multi - legged crawling things. On a shelf, a small or medium size tin is not offensive to the eye. (Don't take a mammoth bread box; you are not opening a grocery.)

Buttons have only respect for their wearer's position; so, even if you are president of the student body, buttons still come off your shirt and/or coat. A relatively small box with an assortment of buttons, needles, pins, and thread (especially white, black, brown, and red) should be among your property.

A couple of "don'ts" are words to the wise: don't come prepared to take up three-fourths of a room; don't purchase draperies until you have checked with your roommate and/or the school authorities. The same goes for bedspreads. Some schools solve this problem by requiring "white spreads and curtains," but whatever the requirement, pick threads that are sturdy. (According to experts, a woven fabric takes harder wear and less care than tufted or chenille spreads.)

Don't join everything - or you won't have time to give to anything. Shop around: examine all the clubs and organizations; find out what each requires of its members; then join only what you can afford, in time and mon-

This above all: just because you are attending an all-girl or all-boy school, don't fall into the habit of wearing unpressed clothes, combing your hair only with your fingers, and in general looking beat. Even if you don't care about each other's appearance, your teacher has to look at you. (Besides, you can't tell where the Candid Camera crew is operating.)

Carrboro Personals

MRS. MARY HOLLINGSWORTH

Phone 942-6270

Mrs. H. L. Hackney and daughter Fay Jane of Durham visited Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hackney Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Gilbert Henry Godfrey, a recent bride, was honored with a housekeeping shower Friday evening, Sept. 6, at the home of Mr. Godfrey's mother, Mrs. Gilbert A. Godfrey, with Mrs. John-Ray as co-hostess. Bingo was played after which the hondisplayed her many lovely Refreshments were pimento and chicken salad sandwiches, pickles, cake, cold drinks and coffee. Those present were the co-hostesses, Mrs. Godfrey and Mrs. Ray; the honoree, Mrs. Gilbert Henry Godfrey; Mrs. Harold McCartney, Mrs. Joe Parker, Mrs. John Alford, Mrs. Willie Dean, Mrs. Pryor Merritt, Mrs. Bob Galt and Mrs. Rob Evans. Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey were married August 3rd at the Calvary Missionary Baptist Church with Rev. Rudy Hardee officiating. Mrs. Godfrey is the former Sandra J. Rise of Dallas, Texas. The young couple will make their home at Ft. Eustice, Va. where Mr. Godfrey is stationed with the Army.

News of the sick: Mrs. Rosa Clark continues to be seriously ill at her home. Winiford Carroll is seriously ill at home. Mrs. Jesse Hackney has improved from a recent illness. Mrs. Troy Hackney is home from Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Rob Womble, Sr. continues to be seriously ill. Mrs. Shirley Bowden underwent open heart surgery Thursday, Sept. 5, in which a stainless steel valve replaced her faulty one, at the National Institute of Health Hospital 'at Bethesda, Maryland. She is very sick, though doing well under the circumstances. Her mother, Mrs. Almira Sims Watson, daughter, Bebe Bell, and aunt, Mrs. Jessie Grubb, are at her bedside.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Head of Greensboro, and Rev. H. Grady Head of Norfolk, Va., visited their sister, Mrs. Gilbert Tripp, Sunday, and attended the homecoming at Calvary Missionary Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Hackney spent last weekend with Rev. and Mrs. Bobby Tyson of Bur-

Conversation I wanted to overhear Sunday at the Open House held at the Carrboro Baptist Church in observance of the completion of the new educational building: Deep discussion between Rev. Roy A. Morris, former pastor, and Rev. Calvin E. Rains. present pastor, Rev. depression years while the church was struggling to pay for the comparatively new brick building. Rev. Rains has been the mainstay of the construction of the new educational building.

Jesse Hackney celebrated his birthday Sunday with his usual

Van Sparrow was honored last

HOME AGAIN Mrs. Edna Holland of 307 Hillsboro Street returned Sept. 3rd from a forty-two-day cruise to the Mediterranean and the Holy Land. Mrs. Holland visited Spain, Egypt, Turkey, Greece, Italy, France, Portugal and Is-

CHURCH LUNCHEON

The Women of the Presbyterian Church will hold the first luncheon of the church year at noon tomorrow. Officers will be installed and plans for the coming year will be made.

Tuesday with a party marking his 8th birthday. Given by his mother, Mrs. Lindy Sparrow, the party was held at their home on Airport Road. After several games, refreshments of grape juice and cookies were served. But the big birthday cake, shaped like a butterfly, remained uncut due to too many cookies eaten. Present were the honor guest, Van, and his sister Lisa; Timmy, Billy, Mark and Tami Pressley; Rene and Rusty Sparrow, Cindy and Tim Talbert, Carl Cochrane, Ronnie Webster and Bruce Martindale.

An ordination service was held for the newly elected deacons, Boy Ellington and Ben Warrick, at the Carrboro Baptist Church

Sunday morning worship hour. Wiley Franklin read the appropriate Scripture; the presentation of the deacons was made the church clerk, Mrs. Starnes Weaver: the reading of the church constitution was by H. L. Hardee; the charge to the Deacons and to the church was made by Rev. Calvin E. Rains, pastor, followed by teh ordination prayer. The rite of layingon of hands was held with the pastor and deacons participating. Installation followed. All deacons, present and those leaving office, were recognized along with their wives. Life deacons are M. W. Andrews, J. W. Bland, F. M. Durham, P. L. Senter and Dewey Sparrow. Active deacons are Wiley Franklin, chairman; James Blake, vice-chairman; Starnes Weaver, secretary; Boyd Ellington, Carl Ellington, father of Boyd, Audrey Harward, Howard Hearn, Wilson Lackey, Eric Neville, Earl Perry, Lloyd Senter, son of P. L. Senter, Ben Warrick, Mack Watts, Herman Wilson and Jim Wright. Special guests at the service were the parents of Ben Warrick, M. and Msr. Lester Warrick, and grandmother, and a sister of Mrs. Warricw, of Selma.

The great influx of people moving into our rentals from all over has kept me extremely busy and exhausted; and continously running through my mind has been the old song: "O, land of rest, for thee I sigh."

Charles Brent Dorrity has returned from New York City where he spent several days attending business conferences. Mr. Dorrity is a representa-tive of Odyssey Press.

School Menu

Lunch menus for Chapel Hill schools for this week are as fol-

MONDAY

Beef stew on rice, stuffed celery, tomato wedge, hot rolls, butter, ice cream popsicles, milk.

TUESDAY

Spaghetti with meat and cheese sauce, tossed green salad, toasted French bread, hot apple pie,

WEDNESDAY

Barbecued chicken, collard greens, corn on the cob, cheese pinwheel biscuit, devil's food cake, milk.

THURSDAY

Hamburgers, cole slaw, pickle chips, onion slices, baked beans, fresh peaches, milk. FRIDAY

Macaroni and cheese, green beans, fresh tomato and lettuce salad, hot rolls, butter, peanut butter cookies, milk.

NO IMPORTANCE - Athene Seyler (left) is Lady Hunstanton and Helen Cherry plays Mrs. Allenby in a presentation of Oscar Wilde's "A Woman of No Importance," a comedy " manners, on WUNC Channel 4 at 8 p.m. today.

FIP — The Air Force Flight Instruction Program at the University began its 1963-64 program at Horace Williams Airport here with UNC AFROTC Cadet James Poole of Lumberton as the first student. The FIP allows qualified AF-ROTC Cadets to obtain a private flying license through an intensive course in ground school and flying. From left are AFROTC commanding officer Lt. Col. Gordon Kage; R. H. Edwards of the Carolina Air Traders, who will instruct Mr. Poole; and Mr. Poole, from Lumberton.

You Can Subscribe

The Chapel Hill Weekly By Calling 967-7045

CARRIER DELIVERY

in most residential areas Sunday A.M. and Wednesday P.M. ALSO BY MAIL

Call Now To Begin Regular Delivery To Your Home with the Next Issue

North Carolina Press Association awards won by The Chapel Hill Weekly in recent years;

1955-First Place, News Features 1959-Second Place, Advertising

1960-First Place, Advertising

First Place, News Features

First Place, Editorials

National Newspaper Editorial Association Awards

1963-Second Place, Typography Third Place, Features

General Excellence

501

NEW

OFFICES

W. FRANKLIN

19611961-First Place, Advertising

1962-First Place, Photography

First Place, Editorials

1963—Honorable Mention

First Place, Local News Coverage

First Place, Local News Coverage

The Chapel Hill Weekly

Serving the Chapel Hill Area Since 1923