basket which frequently contained clothing and/or toys that were not suitable for the age and size of the recipients. Using their coupons and shopping by invitation, parents retain their dignity—and their parental privilege of playing Santa Claus. Among the League's methods of financing its projects is the sale of its "Carolina Cookbook," first published in 1953. This year's book, victorian in design, will have a red, black, and white cover and will be off the press the last of this month. The illustrations are by Mrs. A. M. (Nancy) Cornwell who also designed the Christmas House elf. The League's annual Charity Ball is another source of funds; these went to the public library for two years until the Friends of the Library was organized. The next two years' proceeds from the ball went into a fund to be used for enrichment of the schools' curriculum. Children's activities receive a large part of the League's attention. Concerned about recreational facilities for youngsters, the League recently arranged to blacktop a portion of a lot on the corner of Oakwood Drive and Beverly Street. (The asphalt rectangle has already been welcomed by boys and girls on roller skates since there is no sidewalk in this neighborhood.) The League's immediate plans are to donate tennis nets and other playground equipment to this area. Although the League does not usually operate during the summer months, a number of members were on hand to help the N. C. Symphony compile its history, a request from the public library. League members also assisted the Jaycees with their community survey to determine what is needed in the community and what the civic groups can do to help meet these needs. To keep all these activities and projects running smoothly, the League has eight scheduled meetings annually. Presiding at this year's meetings will be Mrs. William G. (Marjorie) Long who assumed office in June. A native of Pennsylvania, Mrs.

Long is a graduate of West Virginia with a degree in journalism. While a senior at the University, she met her future husband, Bill Long, who was working on his master's degree. Mrs. Long recalls that "we studied together from seven to ten and dated from ten to eleven, a schedule I heartily recommend because I made better grades that year than ever before." The Longs were married in 1953, four days after her graduation. During the two years, Mr. Long spent in the army, the couple moved all over the United States and spent some time in Germany. Returning to the States, Mr. Long attended Yale Divinity School for his B. D. degree and Mrs. Long got all her "wild decorator schemes out of the way" while living in a quonset hut. Leaving Yale, they went to Raleigh where Mr. Long was assistant secretary of the YMCA at State College; Mrs. Long was on the news staff of the Raleigh Times. The Longs then moved to Chapel Hill, and Mr. Long became Dean of Men at the University here. Mrs. Long joined the Newcomers Club and served as its publicity chairman. A member of the Women's Fellowship of the United Church, she has been their treasurer for the past two years. For the past three years, she has been a member of the Junior Service League and has served as secretary and membership chairman. As president of the Junior Service League, Mrs. Long is assisted by board members Mrs. Robert Timmons, first vice president and chairman of the programs and new projects committee; Mrs. O. A. Pickett Jr., second vice president and chairman of the ways and means committee; Mrs. A. M. Cornwell, recording secretary; Mrs. Rollie Tillman, corresponding secretary and membership chairman; Mrs. Robert Boyce, treasurer; Mrs. Theodore Oldenburg, chairman of the health and welfare committee; Mrs. Richard Donner, community education chairman; Mrs. Reed Rice, community recreation chairman; Mrs. Robert Seymour, Christmas House chairman; Mrs. Roy Lindahl, policy chairman; Mrs. John Clayton, nominations chairman; Mrs. J. Sib Dorton, social chairman; Mrs. Everett Schultz, yearbook; Mrs. Gordon Battle, historian; and Mrs. T. L. Tolbert, Country Store chairman.

Mrs. Lillian is now recuperating at home after being a patient of Memorial Hospital for several weeks following a severe heart attack.

The many friends here of C. A. Hoyle will be happy know he is recovering from a serious operation and infection he had earlier this year. For many years Mr. Hoyle was principal of the Carrboro Elementary School before resigning to become the superintendent of the Chapel Hill High School. Leaving this position he became principal of Western Carolina Teachers College, and remained principal until his retirement. Though a native of the mountains, Mr. Hoyle is still claimed here by his many friends as one of the Carrboro Clan.

Joel and Tracy Hackney of Jackney Florists returned Tuesday from the State Florist Association's convention at Asheville, Sept. 15-17. While there they also attended the flower designing school held during the convention. They said it was very interesting, and they enjoyed it very much, but they would never get rich.

The Neville family held its annual reunion last Sunday at the Firemen's Hut. Despite bad weather, approximately 125 members were present, Miss Doris Lindsey, secretary, said. According to Everette Neville, one of the oldest members, the Neville family is one of the oldest in America, one John Neville arriving in Maryland from England in 1635. Everette Neville was proprietor of a store located in the old wooden building, recently torn down to make way for the Express Office, from 1900 to 1926.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Dunn Jr. of Dillard Street announce the birth of a son, Calvin Ross, born August 28th, Memorial Hospital, Mr. and Mrs. Dunn have two other children, Jefferson Ray, 6; and Sarah Ruth, 3.

Belated birthday greetings to Mrs. Edgar Campbell, Barbara Smith, Steve Mauer and Wesley Porter.

Miss Wanda Pearson has returned from England where she had visited her grandparents since July.

Mrs. John Dickey of Hillsboro, an August bride, the former Miss Becky Tapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Tapp, was honored on Saturday night when the Women of New Hope Church entertained for her in the fellowship hall of the church. The hall was decorated in a bridal motif of white and mint green. After Mrs. Dickey opened her many lovely gifts, punch, cake squares, mints and nuts were served. Mrs. Frank Spencer, president of the Women of the Church, presided at the punch bowl, assisted by Mrs. John Lockhart, Mrs. John W. Cates and Miss Virginia Nunn.

Mrs. Jacob Hardee is a patient at Watts Hospital for observation and treatment.

Mrs. Homer Tapp is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Van Vynck in Belmont. She went especially to see her father, who recently underwent surgery on his hand.

To Mrs. Ed Ray, Mrs. Howard Brewer and J. R. Blake who are having birthdays this week, many happy returns of the day.

Mrs. Vernon Tapp is a patient at Duke Hospital where she is being treated for pneumonia.

The Florence Root Circle of New Hope Church met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Kelly Davis with eight members present. Mrs. John Freeland Jr., chairman, presided over the meeting. Mrs. Charles Rochelle

Garden Club Meets Tuesday

The first meeting of the Chapel Hill Garden Club will be held Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the Orange Savings & Loan community room. Mrs. Charles T. (Martha) Wilson of Durham will speak on "Landscaping," following remarks on the state and national aims of garden clubs. Mrs. Wilson is a District Director of the Garden Clubs of N. C., Inc. New members will be welcomed.

The annual fall plant sale will be held at the Women's Market, 8:30 a.m. on Oct. 10. Cuttings from unusual shrubs by members and long-time gardeners, as well as plenty of ground covers, bulbs, and house plants will be on sale.

An especially fine program anese, traditional and contemporary by Mrs. Robert E. Creighton of Chattanooga, Tenn. has been arranged as an extra feature for Tuesday Oct. 22, 8 p.m. at the Community Church, Purefoy and Mason Farm Roads. ($1.00 fee to non-members.) Mrs. Creighton plans to present massed designs such as period, contemporary massed, one modern abstract, and informal Japanese suitable for every home.

For the first Workshop to be held the last of October or the first of November (depending on the blooming of the chrysanthemums), Mrs. H. S. McGinty, chairman, has arranged to have Mrs. John Allcott talk on "Church Flower Arrangements."

On Tuesday, Oct. 29, a business meeting has been scheduled; also an instructive movie on "Fertilizer." The November meeting will have as its featured speaker Mrs. Clarence Heer of Chapel Hill who will speak on "Bulbs."

A Christmas tea is planned for Dec. 14. The workshop for December will be based on the idea of "Bring your own greens, make your own Christmas decorative pieces."
