better. And they must have batted down six or seven of our passes at the line of scrimmage." Affable Duffy went on to talk about his team for several minutes — his sophomore quarterback, his soccer style place kicker, and his hard running fullback about whom the Spartan Coach said laughingly, "Lopes ran fairly hard on occasions, didn't he?" Then he excused himself to go watch Southern Cal on television.

Japanese Educators Will Study UNC

Three prominent Japanese educators will be in Chapel Hill Monday and Tuesday, to study the University. They are among many Japanese educators now in the United States to visit American universities. From Chapel Hill they will go to Raleigh where they will visit N. C. State. Two of the visitors are university presidents in Japan, and the other is the director of a Japanese university. Masaaki Kosaka, a graduate of Kyoto University, where he majored in philosophy, is president of Tokyo Gakugei University. Sukenaga Murai, who graduated from Waseda University with a degree in Applied Chemistry, is director and professor at Waseda University. Katsuo Soma, a graduate of Tookyo University of Commerce, where he majored in Insurance, is president of Senshu University.

TRAIL'S END — The pack weighs about 30 pounds, and its bearer has been on the march for about two miles — from the Episcopal Chapel of the Cross on East Franklin Street to the Orange District Fireball Camporee at Glen Lennox. Chapel Hill Troop 9, of which this Scout is a member, hiked all the way to the Camporee, the only Scout Troop attending the affair to do so. The Camporee started nicely Friday afternoon, but bogged down in rain yesterday afternoon and evening.

—Michigan State Mauls Carolina—

Honolulu broke off his own right side, cut back to the middle of the field and then raced 76 yards for a touchdown carefully chaperoned by several of his teammates. The final State touchdown was another gift offering from the Tar Heels. The Spartans commandeered a Ron Tuthill fumble on the Carolina 24 and needed only five plays to run the ball across the line and run the final total to 31-0.

Not once in the second half did the Tar Heels threaten. In fact, they made only three first downs in the last 30 minutes, one of which came on a 15-yard penalty. Michigan State opened its scoring with 7:25 remaining in the first quarter. After driving from their own 27 to the Carolina 20, Juday passed to end Tom Krzemienski who caught the ball at the Tar Heel 7, and then as he was tackled, lateraled to Lewis who scampered in for the score.

Lou Bobich added the first of four extra points and this fellow you've got to see. He place kicks like a soccer player would, using the side of his foot instead of the conventional point-of-the-toe method. It's no gimmick. He kicked off six times. Twice he kicked the ball clear out of the end zone, twice more he kicked it deep enough into the end zone that the Tar Heels didn't try to bring it out.

After its first touchdown Michigan State penetrated to the NC 28 on two fine runs by Lewis and Lopes. But Carolina stiffened and Bobich underclubbed a field goal attempt, leaving it just short of the mark.

The Tar Heels came back with their first threat of the day. Starting from the Carolina 44, Edge hit Bob Lacey at the sidelines, with the potential All-America end making one of his patented catches and a fine following run good for 24 yards and a first down at the Michigan 32.

Here the Tar Heels bogged down and a fourth down field goal attempt by Max Chapman from the State 35 was short and wide.

The next time Carolina got the ball, they again moved it. Tommy Ward returned a punt from his own 42 to the State 46. Edge again found Lacey in the flat, who did the twist past two defenders for 13 yards to the State 33.

This proved to be the end of the line for the Tar Heels as on fourth down and long yardage, Edge's deep pass intended for Lacey was intercepted by Bobich (the plays great defense, too) on his 13 and returned to the 35. For all intents and purposes, this was the last Tar Heel offensive of consequence for the day.

On both of these drives, as throughout the afternoon, Lacey was continually wide open. It was unfortunate that Edge picked this particular day to trade his usually trusty rifle for an errant shotgun.

Michigan State got its other three points near the close of first half. John Karpinski intercepted an Edge pass that had been batted by teammate Earl Lattimer and State had the ball at the Carolina 35.

Lopes and Lincoln moved it to the Tar Heel 18 and then Bobich booted a 35 yard field goal from the Carolina 25 with 2:02 remaining in the half. He missed another from about the same spot just 12 seconds before the intermission.

Michigan State dominated the statistics and had 89 offensive plays to the Tar Heels' 59. That and the scoreboard tell the story.

Carolina, now 1-1 for the season, goes to Wake Forest for a game next Saturday at 8 p.m.
