

Planetarium Opens Show

The emphasis on North Carolina history in the Morehead Planetarium's next regular program, "The Charter and the Seven Stars," is of particular interest to school children.

"The Charter and the Seven Stars," commemorating the Carolinian Charter Tercentenary, opened yesterday at 8:30. Performances, including special advance reservation children's performances, will be given through October 28.

History and social studies teachers of grades 5, 7, and 8 will find the historical content of "The Charter" program valuable for their classes. The program is concerned with the relationship of astronomy to the time and place of the granting of the Carolina Charter.

The Charter was granted in London in 1663 by King Charles II of England. Described in the program are, for example, the geographical boundaries of the territory granted to the Lords proprietors, including the mystery of "Luck Island"; the events leading up to the granting of the Charter; and sailing and navigation techniques of the 1600's, all explained and illustrated, with their relationships to astronomy, in narration and animated color reproductions of maps and pictures.

Special performances for school groups are given Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays at 11 a.m., 1 and 4 p.m. by advance reservations only.

Regular public performances are given daily at 8:30 p.m., with extra performances at 11 a.m., 3 and 4 p.m. Saturdays (11 a.m. and 5 p.m. on UNC home football Saturdays), and at 2, 3, and 4 p.m. Sundays.

Admission is 35 cents for children through age 11 or grade six; 50 cents for children age 12 or grade 7 through college; and 75 cents for adults.

One adult chaperone is admitted free with each ten members of any group.

Funeral Yesterday For James L. Hay

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the Chapel Hill Presbyterian Church for James L. Hay, who died early Monday morning at Memorial Hospital. Mr. Hay was 73.

The funeral was conducted by the Rev. Vance Barron. Burial was in Chapel Hill Memorial Cemetery.

Mr. Hay was the father of Mrs. Robert C. Culton of Chapel Hill. He had lived in Chapel Hill since his retirement in 1958 after 21 years as executive secretary of the Railroad YMCA in Spencer.

Mr. Hay was a native of Glasgow, Scotland, and entered the service of the Young Men's Christian Association in Canada in 1914. In 1937 he came to Spencer as executive secretary of the Southern Railroad YMCA and supervised a social service and welfare program for young railroad men.

He is survived by his wife, the former Viola Crowe of Revelstoke, British Columbia, Canada; five daughters, Mrs. Culton, Mrs. B. W. McKenzie, Jr., of Bristol, Tenn., Mrs. Extra H. Williams and Mrs. Harold F. McNabb of Kingsport, Tenn., and Mrs. Wilfred H. Vance of New Orleans; one son, James H. Hay of Winston-Salem; a sister, Mrs. Alfred Young of Vancouver, Canada; and thirteen grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Dr. J. Kempton Jones, Charles S. Sullivan, Joel Carter, Dr. James N. Rowland, Morty Bergen, and George L. Coxhead.

Music Teachers

To Convene Here

The North Carolina Music Teachers Association will hold its fifth annual convention in the annex of Hill Music Hall at the University Friday and Saturday, October 25 and 26.

A public concert will be given October 25 at 8:30 p.m. in the Hill Hall auditorium in conjunction with the convention. Performers will include Eugene Mauney, organist at St. Stephens Church in Goldsboro; and two Chapel Hill groups, the North Carolina String Quartet and the Carolina Opera Workshop.

The convention will feature sessions on piano teaching, strings, vocal music, and theory and musicology.

"Music in the Romantic Era" is the theme of the convention. Lecturers and performers will include many of North Carolina's best known names in music and will represent well known departments and schools of music throughout the state.

ORANGE METHODIST SERMON

"When the Fire Burns Low" will be the Rev. David B. Lewis's sermon topic at the Orange Methodist Church Sunday at 11 a.m. Sunday school convenes at 10 and MYF meets at 5:45.
