Old Harris House Gone From Franklin

The old Harris house is gone now. Until the middle of last week, the Harris house stood between Norwood Bros. and Obie Davis Esso stations on West Franklin Street. Next summer a hotel will stand there.
Demolition crews removed the old house and an outbuilding behind it to make way for a seven-story hotel and restaurant to be built by Interstate Investors. Five other buildings, three of them residences facing Rosemary and Church Streets, will come down soon to make room for the hotel's double-deck parking lot.
The hotel itself will present a plain, unbroken brick wall to West Franklin Street. The entrance will be behind the wall. Inside the 169-by-59-foot building will be two meeting rooms, a kitchen, a restaurant, and offices on the first floor. In the rear will be a swimming pool. On the six upper floors will be the hotel's rooms.
The hotel's driveway will be dual lane and will run at a right angle to Franklin Street on the Obie Davis side of the building. It will provide access to the parking decks, which will also have access from Rosemary and Church Streets.
No definite completion date has been set for the hotel, which has been in planning for about two years now. But Joe Andrews, construction foreman for the Little Construction Co. of Charlotte, estimated it would take about eight months to finish the building. At peak, Mr. Andrews said, a force of about 125 men would be working on the building.
Mr. Andrews, who is simultaneously in charge of construction of an 18-story bank building in Asheville, was foreman for the construction of Ehringhaus and Craige Dormitories, completed last year.

The hotel, which has not been named yet, will cost about $1.25 million.

He Puts Your VW On A Special Pedestal
Our Volkswagen mechanics are the best around. They're specially trained in exacting VW factory methods. They're equipped with special VW tools and hoists that help save you time and money.
More important, our mechanics know your VW through and through. They don't have to keep up with drastic model changes every year. They're so familiar with your VW they could repair it blindfolded.
Next time you talk with a VW owner ask him about our VW service. He'll tell you it's as unusual as the VW itself. Or better yet, come in and see for yourself.
