PHYSICS COLLOQUIUM

-Hickey-

"We were just determined to win, and they played loose and reckless. We were tight last week, maybe Clemson had something to do with it."

Any difference between Clemson and Miami? "Miami is bigger. Their line ranges between 205 and 225."

What about the World Series

next week," a writer asked. "You mean over in Durham next week? I haven't given that much thought yet. It'll be a slambang affair. We came through this game pretty good physically. That's one good thing.'

Somebody, still pointing to Duke, mentioned that Duke Coach Bill Murray had picked up the "I" formation that has been increasingly used in the Carolina backfield during the last several games. Coach Hickey smiled as if to say "I'll share." "Is there a certain amount of comfort in knowing there's no Revnolds at Duke this year?" his questioner persisted.

"I hadn't thought of it that way. You know, a good way to play them is just don't let the other team get the ball."

the old expression is to . . . their Coach Gustafson asked.

As far as the population of North Carolina was concerned, Gustafson's comments on the game could best be gottn by a Clanking movement through hedge. He put his hand on his hip, the elbow in the flanker's face, and turned away a bit toward the Miami men. more There was only room in the for one flanker, and hedge sportswriters from little towns like Durham, Greensboro, Raleigh, and Charlotte, began to get discouraged. 'Lacey is a tremendous receiver," Coach Gusfason admitted. "He's got great moves, great pace. The one he killed us on was that sideline pass. We double-teamed him tried to knock him down, tried to hold him up . . . He reminded me a little of Bill Miller, a boy who played for us a couple of years

He mumbled something for the benefit of Florida only, and went "Smith was exhausted. He hadn't played at all for six weeks. Benson was nurt again. We couldn't play him at all in the fourth quarter. Banaszak? He became a football player last week against Kentucky. It's too bad we had to take him out when we did."

A young man squeezed against the field house slipped in a murmured question. "Are you a newspaperman?"

Dads' Day, and enough Boy Scouts to cover a seven-mile hike lined up in close order. It was also Boy Scout Day.
The day itself couldn't have been better for football. The sun was as golden as the pants and helmets of the Miami team and the sky was a cloudless Carolina Blue. There was just enough breeze to tickle the bunting on the goal posts which managed to survive a whole season.

Policemen were standing guard in the end zones at the end of yesterday's game, although they weren't needed. The crowd was surging toward Carolina football players instead of goal posts.

Maintenance men already were beginning to batten down Kenan for the winter as the crowd trudged out. But that 27-16 was still burning on the scoreboard. They seemed reluctant to turn it off.

"Paul," he said suddenly, breaking away, "how are you?" and that was the end of the conference. Coach Gustafson hardly noticed George Mira come out into the courtyard dressed in dark blazer and hat, collar and tie loosened. Mira had a stunned look on his face, even when he was talking to the Miami men, and he walked away carrying a bright red waistcoat. Under different circumstances he might have been wearing it proudly.

Three Films At GM Tonight

Tonight at 7:30 p.m., Graham Memorial will present "A Night of Modern Dance," three films, in Roland Parker Lounge upstairs in G.M.

'Marcel Marceau's Pantomimes," in color, will start off the evening. His mimic genius will be on display in three of the pantomimes performed during his record-breaking recent American tour.

"A Dancer's World" is next, with Martha Graham and her company. Miss Graham, a noted choreographer and modern dancer, discusses the dancer as a creative artist.

The last film, "Lament," is is a modern dance with Jose Limon. He will interpret a poem by a Spanish poet, Garcia Lorca. Limon appears as a Spanish bullfighter tempted by Love and by Representatives of the Gator Bowl at Jacksonnelli who was by himself in the ville, Ffa., were on hand and bowl committees like exciting end zone. Someone in the Tar Heel defensive secondary was obviously out for a sandwich.

Don Cifra kicked the point and with 10:45 remaining in the first quarter, Miami led. 7-0.

Things stayed that way until Carolina woke up suddenly in the second period. Starting from his own 28, Edge passed to Lacey for 17 yards. The Tar Heel end was finally tackled far out of bounds just before he entered the concrete stands. The official on-the-spot may have missed the obvious unnecessary roughness, but Lacey's teammates didn't. They got mad.

Kesler promptly bulled for nine and Edge rolled out and ran beautifully for 19 yards to the Miami 28

After Willard had crunched out other first down, Edge unloaded the football to end John Hammett who hurried on down to the In a touching display of teams manship, Willard jammed the ball up against the goal line and then let Junior sneak it over for the touchdown. Dave Braine kicked his 16th conversion in 16 tries and it was all even with 5:06 remaining in the half.

Carolina threatened again late in the second quarter moving 61 yards in nine plays, but time ranneth out with the Tar Heels at the Miami 21.

Carolina received the second half kickoff and moved to midfield where Bill Edwards kicked Miami into what looked like a hole, the ball being downed at the Hurricane 1.

But Mira doesn't know the meaning of adversity. He passed from his end zone to that man Banaszak who moved to the Miami 27. Then Mira went for the bomb, a 47-yard pass to Hoyt Sparks that carried to the Carolina 31.

The Tar Heels stiffened, but a pass interference penalty against Carolina gave Miami a first down at the local 16. It was one of several calls in the afternoon that left no doubt in anyone's mind who were the officials from the Southeastern Conference and who were those from the ACC. On a crucial third down play

Chris Hanburger broke through to dump Mira and the Hurricanes decided to settle for a field goal. Cifra did the job, a 32-yard effort that put Miami ahead 10-7 with 7:21 to go in the third quar-

Carolina fought right back. A clipping penalty on the ensuing kick-off made the point of debarkation the Tar Heel 29. It. made no difference to the Carolina second unit that was in the game at the time.

Black ran for 7 and then passed to Joe Robinson for 12 more for a first down at the Miami 43. Ron Tuthill took over, dancing up the middle for 11.

Tar Heels back 15 yards, but Black countered by mixing some razzle with his dazzle. He moved his left end to the right side. making Gene Sigmon an eligible pass receiver. Sigmon made the most of his big chance, with a fine catch of a Black pass for 17 big yards.

Black kept throwing. Robinson took over the receiving, giving Carolina a first down at the Miami 19. Gamboling Gary couldn't resist the temptation. He went back to pass again. And was trapped. And disposed of the ball. Fortunately, he lifted it in the general vicinity of Tuthill.

King Tut went high in the air for the ball at the Miami 15, came down, twisted away from one tackler, got a block, and set off for the promised land where all good little halfbacks go. Braine made it 17 for 17, tying the ACC record. With 3:27 re-lina led again 14-10. Minutes later the Tar Heels were at it again. This drive began at the Carolina 23 and through Willard's efforts advanced to the Miami 42, where the locals were penalized 15 yards for clipping.

maining in the third period, Caro-

Edge and Lacey accepted the challenge and combined for the picture pass play previously de-scribed. It covered 35 yards and the participants with glory.

Carolina was now at the Miami 21 and Edge grew impatient. He wanted it all and quick, Rolling to his right, he drew the Hurricane defenders in with the cane defenders in with the nie Jackson all alone in the old end zone. Edge lofted a pass to him for the touchdown. Unfortu-nately Braine missed his first extra point in 18 tries. It was just wide to the right.

The score was 20-10 and 9:27 remained in the game.

Mira and Miami battled back.

With third down and inches to go at his own 39, the little quarter-back found the Tar Heel defense jammed in tight. He smartly changed his play at the line of scrimmage and rolled out and down the sidelines 37 yards to the Carolina 24.

ence call against Tuthill gave the Hurricanes a first down at the Tar Heel 7. On the next play Mira passed to halfback John Bennett who raced unheeded for the touchdown. It made the score 20-16.

Carolina had the ball and 6:33 to dispose of on the clock. Starting from the Tar Heel 26, Willard on the inside and Edge on the outside, rushed the ball to midfield. Then it was Willard for seven and then 16 more to the Miami 28. Man, he ran. And the clock ran, too. Edge courageously went to the pass, hitting Jackson for 12 yards and a first down at the Miami 16. Bam, bam, bam, Willard and Kesler to the Hurricane 5. Edge returned Willard's earlier compliment by rolling and running the ball right up to the goal line. From there, the Big One hurled himself over the line for the touchdown. Carolina had moved 73 yards in 15 plays. That was the difference in the statis-
