

CHRISTMAS HOUSE—Working in gifts preparation for the coming opening of the Junior Service League's annual Christmas House are, from left, Mrs. O. E. Brown, Mrs. J. P. Nethercutt, Mrs. Milton

Julian, aid Mrs. R. A. Black. The Christmas House booth for contributions will be open on Franklin Street for a week starting next Saturday.

—Photo by Town & Country

GUEST AUTHORS GROUP

The Guest Authors Group of the Newcomers Division of the University Woman's Club will meet Tuesday at the home of Mrs. William Pease on Northside Drive in Dogwood Acres. Dr. Isaac Taylor will speak on Admiral Byrd's expedition to the Antarctic.

Quartet Will Play Tuesday

The North Carolina String Quartet, assisted by Earl Slocum, flute and Wilton Mason piano, will present a program of Mozart, Prokofiev, and Bartok in Hill Music Hall Tuesday evening at 8.

This Tuesday Evening Series presentation is open to the public.

Now in its 13th season, the North Carolina String Quartet introduces with this concert its new second violinist, Earl Wolslagel. He replaces Mrs. Alexander Heard who resigned from the Quartet last season to accompany her husband to his post as chancellor of Vanderbilt University. Mr. Wolslagel, a native of Asheville, studied as a child with Mark Chestney, concertmaster of the New Haven, Connecticut, Symphony Orchestra, and as a student in the Institute of Musical Art in New York with Mme. Vera Fonaroff and the great violin professor Leopold Auer. He later studied in Vienna, as a pupil of the late Geza de Kress, then head of the violin department of the Royal Conservatory of Music in Bucharest. During the Depression, Mr. Wolslagel made his way through the University here by playing as a charter member and first violinist of the North Carolina Symphony under the noted Tar Heel composer Lamar Stringfield. In 1936 he joined the Bankers Trust Company of New York, leaving in 1941 to begin a 21-year career with the Army Air Force. He retired as a Lt. Colonel of the Air Force year before last, returning to the University to earn an A.B. degree in Journalism in June, 1962. Almost immediately thereafter he joined the institutional advancement staff of Duke University.

Throughout Mr. Wolslagel's military service career he was active in music. He played with major symphony orchestras in Denver, Baltimore, Utica, N.Y., and Trenton, N.J., and organized an International Trio in Madrid, Spain, which performed many concerts there. Since his retirement from the Air Force, Mr. Wolslagel has played with the Duke and UNC Symphonies, the Triangle Little Symphony, and has been active in local chamber music groups. His home is in Chapel Hill, where he lives with his wife and two sons, 16 and 11.

The three remaining members of the Quartet have played together since the quartet's founding. They are Edgar Alden, first violinist, professor of music theory and musicology at UNC and associate conductor of the UNC Symphony; Dorothy Alden, violist, director of the Chapel Hill Youth Orchestra and a graduate of Oberlin Conservatory; and Mary Grey Clarke, cellist, instructor in the UNC Music Department.

Joining these three members of the North Carolina Quartet for a performance of Mozart's Quartet in D Major, K. 286, for flute, violin, viola, and cello, will be Earl Slocum, UNC professor of music and a renowned flutist. Mr. Slocum, national president of the American Bandmasters' Association, is conductor of the University Symphony. Dr. Wilton Mason, pianist, will perform Dvorak's Quintet in A Major, Op. 81, with the quartet. Dr. Mason is professor of music at UNC and director and founder of the Opera Workshop which is presenting two one-act operas in January.

The North Carolina Quartet will also perform Prokofiev's String Quartet No. 1, Op. 50.

If you're in the market for buying or selling, use The Weekly Classified Advertisement section. You get good results at bargain rates.

Jaycees Will Pick Up Used Toys Today

Old wheel toys will be collected today by the Junior Service League for the League's annual Christmas House. Today is the last chance to donate toys to the Christmas House.

Toys placed on the curb will be collected by the Jaycees during their regular Sunday paper drive.

All toys, in any condition, minus wheels or handlebars or other parts, are wanted. They will be repaired and distributed through Christmas House on December 9 and 10.

The larger toys will be repaired and refurbished by R. D. Smith's vocational classes at Lincoln High School. Toys will be delivered to Mr. Smith's shop by Mrs. Carl Randolph, Mrs. J. W. Maultsby, and Jaycees. For further information about the toy drive, telephone Mrs. Robert Seymour at 967-1158.

The League's Christmas House is a means of brightening Christmas for local needy families. Donations may be turned in at the Christmas House booth on Franklin Street, which will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. from Saturday, November 30, through Saturday, December 7. The booth will be manned by ladies from local church circles.

Contributions of clothing or toys will be picked up, on request, by Mrs. Randolph 942-3836, or by Mrs. Samuel Hill (942-2958). Cash donations should be mailed to Christmas House, Box 374, Chapel Hill. Almost 60 checks have been sent so far.

ROSE SOCIETY—At the Chapel Hill Rose Society's meeting last week were, left, Mrs. R. L. Hardison, new president of the Society; Frank Morrow, new vice president; and Mrs. Julian Ruffin and Mrs. R. B. Book of Durham, program speakers at the meeting. Not pictured is the Society's new secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. R. Ellis.

Society Sponsoring Evening Of Music

Orange County will help to celebrate the 300th anniversary of the granting of the Carolina Charter at 8 p.m. Friday, December 6, when the Orange County Tercentenary Commission presents a program of 17th and early 18th century music followed by a coffee hour in Strudwick Hall, Presbyterian Church, Hillsboro.

The Hillsborough Historical Society is joining with the Charter Commission in sponsoring the program to which the public is cordially invited.

Eight musicians from the UNC Department of Music, led by Prof. Edgar Alden, will offer selections of early music such as our ancestors might have heard. They will play the flute, cello, violins, recorders, and a harpsichord loaned for the occasion by a Chapel Hill resident.

Mrs. James H. Coman will preside at the informal coffee hour following the program. Members of the Charter Commission assisting Mr. and Mrs. Coman in the plans are Mrs. John W. Carr, Miss Annie S. Cameron, Rev. Edward F. Smith, Mrs. William Dorsett, and Mr. G. Paul Carr. Members of the Historical Society's Hospitality Committee also aiding in the evening's plans are Mrs. George E. Levings, chairman, Mrs. Dalton Loftin, Mrs. Samuel S. Kirkland, Mrs. D. E. Hollandsworth, Mrs. Henry Walker, Mrs. Remus Smith, Jr., and Mrs. J. P. Hughes. Mrs. H. W. Moore, Mrs. Erle G. Hill, and Mrs. E. M. Lockhart, Historical Society officers, are also assisting with the program.

Help the needy through the Community Chest.

Dream Vacation "Casablanca" Miami Beach Luxury Cruise To Bimini $4.65 Week Call All Star Lanes 968-4404

Rose Society Elects Officers

Mrs. R. L. Hardison was unanimously elected president of the Chapel Hill Rose Society Tuesday, succeeding Gertrude Willis. Other 1964 officers elected, also unanimously, were Frank Morrow, vice president, and Mrs. J. R. Ellis, secretary-treasurer.

The officers were submitted at the Society's final meeting of the year by a nominating committee composed of Dr. H. R. Totten, Gene Strowd, and E. M. Blackwood.

Mrs. Julian Ruffin and Mrs. R. B. Cook presented the program of the evening. Mrs. Ruffin reviewed the Coats book, "Rose Treasures and Pleasures," which traces the role of the rose through history.

Mrs. Cook explained how to "potpourri" rose petals, for which she gave several recipes.

University Florist and Gift Shop advertisement with decorative border and floral motifs.

Dine Out THANKSGIVING advertisement for Schrafft's Country Inn, featuring a picture of the inn and a turkey.

Serving Thanksgiving DINNERS advertisement for Schrafft's Country Inn, including reservation information and a picture of a turkey.

FIGURE advertisement for Matt L. Thompson and Arthur DeBerry, Jr., insurance agents.

SAAB advertisement featuring images of a station wagon and a pickup truck, with text describing their features and availability at Imported Cars, Limited.

Buying? Building? Choose Your Lending Agency As Carefully As You Choose Your Home advertisement for Orange Savings & Loan Association, including a picture of a house and a list of services.

Large advertisement at the bottom of the page: We Invite You To Browse Around Our Museum-Like Exhibition of Different Gifts From All Over The World. Includes a picture of a Danziger clock and a list of services like free gift wrapping and lay-aways.