Polish Freedom Fighter Dies Here

Rosary services will be held tonight at 7:30 p.m. for Wilhelm Gierasimowicz of Chapel Hill, one of America's freedom fighters, who died yesterday in Memorial Hospital after an extended illness.

The resary services will be held at the Chapel of St. Thomas More. Requiem mass will be said at the Chapel of St. Thomas More Friday morning at 9. Burial will be in the Chapel Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Gierasimwicz was born in Wasiliszki, Poland, in 1911, finished collegiate military training at Poland's Military Technical Academy in 1935, and upon graduation was appointed an engineering officer in the Polish Air Force When Poland was subjugated by Germany and the USSR in 1939, he fled to the British Isles in order to share in his country's struggle against conquest. His flight took him through Rumania, Sy-Northwest Africa, across the Mediterranean to Gibraltar, thence through France to England.

He arrived in England in 1940, the year the Polish Air Force was organized in the Allied cause, volunteered for duty, and was appointed an engineering officer in the 307th Squadron. During his six years of military duty with the allies he served successively as engineering officer with the 604th Squadron, as supernumary to the station engineering officer, as crash inspector and AID, and as liaison officer with the U.S. Air Force Service Command. For the many services he rendered to the cause of freedom, he was recommended for the U.S. Bronze Star and the British Campaign Star. He held the rank of Captain when he received his honorable discharge

WILHELM GIERASIMOWICZ

For about a year, thereafter, he was employed in England as consulting engineer. In 1950, he and his wife came to the United States and established their home in Chapel Hill. Both became naturalized citizens in 1956. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus, and served as Cub Master for Chape. Hill's Scout Pack 830. Since 1953, he has been employed by Western Electric at Burlington, as an engineer.

Survivors include his wife, Helena, and his daughter, Christina, both of the home, and sisters, Ann Baranczyk two and Wanda Limon, who reside

Pailbearers will be' A. F. Jenzano, Harvey Johnson, Jan Karcz, Jeno Palotai, James Pierce, and Paul Trageser.
