area will be headed by a captain and will be divided into four sections. The sections will contain 15-20 houses and each will be headed by a chairman. We hope that every eligible voter will be personally contacted and reminded to register. Babysitting and transportation services will be provided, so there is no reason anyone can't register.

To qualify for registration, a voter must have lived in the State for one year and in his precinct for 90 days. A literacy test will be given at the discretion of the registrar. New registrants will be urged to name party affiliation at the time of registration. Voters who register as independents may not vote in the party primaries.

CHRISTMAS CAROLERS

Mrs. Orgera's kindergarten and nursery school pupils sang carols for patients at Gravely Sanatorium yesterday morning. The children gathered on the lawn to sing and the patients came to the windows to listen.

-Athletic, Music Program Proposed-

the junior high school would enable gradual development of a similar program in the senior high school as junior high musicians moved up.

"If you get a band director in the high school you'll have to get rid of two teachers," said Superintendent Howard Thompson. "You have to pay $3,000 for a good band director. Where's the money coming from?"

Mr. Perry said such a program to train students to play instruments, though not necessarily for a marching band, was something the schools should have. "I don't mean marching down the street flipping their skirts up or anything like that," he said, "but something the kids can be proud of."

Dr. Thompson said he had a school that ran a band with no money: Lincoln High. Some Board members were unaware that Lincoln ran its band with no financial assistance. Dr. Thompson was asked how Lincoln did it. He replied that he didn't know, and didn't ask questions, but that the band director taught a full load in addition to his band work. (Board member J. R. Manley announced a few minutes later that Chapel Hill Quakers had given money to Lincoln for the band program.)

Mr. Perry persisted in his recommendation. The Board subsequently agreed that if such a program could be run on a continuous basis, "we should at least give them the stick to start walking with," as Mr. Perry put it.

Mr. Pressley agreed to gather information and other particulars about a music program for later submission to the Board.

"I hope something comes of this," said Dr. Mitchell as he departed.

Athletes:

Mr. Pressley said he had 775 students, taking physical education; that all available space, indoors and out, was used for play; that two basketball goals had been put up; but that there was no regular intramural athletic program because the junior high school building was not quite complete, and there was no one to run such a program. High school coach Robert Culton and his assistant are working with the high school athletic program at the time a junior high program would be operating.

"There is a tremendous need for this kind of program" said Mr. Pressley. He said that if two people worked two hours a day running such a program four or five days a week the benefits would be considerable.

Mr. Tenney moved that Mr. Pressley be authorized to set up such a program within the provisions of the State Department of Public Instruction regulations governing junior high school intramurals and inter-scholastic athletics.

Board member Dr. Fred Ellis said the Board should not do anything without prior study. "We don't want a spontaneous authorization without knowing what it will cost." Board member Mrs. Ross Scroggs pointed out that in 1961 a UNC coach and a physician, who were then members of the Board, had said junior high school athletics were medically unsound. Junior High school students are in their fastest growth period, she said, and the danger of injury was greater to them than to more physically hardened high school students.

Mr. Perry countered with a recent opinion of the American Medical Association, that a junior high athletic program ("the right kind of program"), well instructed, was medically sound.

Pacifist Lecture Is Given Tonight

McReynolds, a Californian, is being sponsored by the local chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) and the campus chapter of Student Peace Union (SPU) for whom he is an advisor.

Since his college career at UCLA in the early 1950s, McReynolds has been a part of movements against college ROTC and Civil Defense.

He ran for Congress from New York City in 1958 on the Socialist Party ticket backed by Norman Thomas. He has been a field secretary for War Resisters League since 1960.

All students and guests are invited.

PRESIDING OFFICER

Dr. Kermit F. Knudtzon, of the UNC School of Dentistry, presided over a three-day workshop for general dental practitioners sponsored in Chicago this week by the American Dental Association.

The Chapel Hill Weekly, issued every Sunday and Wednesday, and is entered as second-class matter February 23, 1923, at the post office at Chapel Hill, North Carolina, published by the Chapel Hill Publishing Company, Inc., is under the act of March 3, 1879.

this thing like the Speaker Ban Law was passed."

Several motions were made, withdrawn, re-worded and made again. Finally Mr. Pressley was told to go ahead and conduct his feasibility study, reporting to the Board through Dr. Thompson with a proposed program as soon as convenient.

Playgrounds: Dr. Fowler presented the Board with a request and a map. He said the Estes Hills playground was muddy and unusable in wet weather, and that the Estes Hills PTA had worked out a plan for paving a 100 by 150-foot area as a playground. He said the paving would cost $2,200, and asked the Board's approval and support of the project.

Dr. Ellis wanted to know what Dr. Fowler meant by "support." Mr. Tenney proposed that the money be requested from the County Commissioners in January, to appear in the Board's 1963-64 budget.

Dr. Ellis said that if this were done for Estes Hills, the same would have to be done for the other schools.

Mr. Tenney: "If there's hunger everywhere, we shouldn't turn our back on everyone. Let's feed the one that's crying."

Dr. Ellis replied to Mr. Tenney's "hunger" analogy, "Some people have the strength not to cry."

Mrs. Scroggs supported Dr. Ellis' contention. "We shouldn't do this unless we're willing to do it for all the schools."

"Then we'd have to reimburse Carrboro (for its parking lot)," said Dr. Thompson.

"These (Estes Hills) people have tried to help themselves. They've come to us with a proposal," said Mr. Tenney.

"Carrboro has been and been and been (to us)," said Mrs. Scroggs.

Mr. Manley added that paving at Frank P. Graham Elementary School "had actually been in the hopper, but somehow it got sidetracked."

Mr. Tenney withdrew his motion and made a new one: request the County Commissioners to approve up to $3,500 for each school for exterior classroom space.

Dr. Ellis suggested that this request might jeopardize the Board's probable request for money for new school rooms, but Mr. Tenney's motion was passed. The PTA's plan was approved "for planning purposes."

Other business: A two per cent reduction in all the State's schools' reimbursement for milk programs; forced the Board to raise the price of "extra" milk from three to four cents per half pint. The reduced reimbursement cost can be absorbed in the regular school lunch milk program. Dr. Thompson said.

Dr. Thompson was authorized to hire an administrative assistant to do office paper work and conduct school studies.

The Board agreed not to allow the taking of class pictures in elementary schools, but will allow such pictures to be taken in junior high schools.
