

Students To Aid Migrants

By EVE CAMPBELL and GAIL POE

Last week in a special business assembly CHHS students voted to raise money to send to the Migrant Ministry in North Carolina. This project was presented by Kay Ogburn, who explained the very poor conditions in which migrant workers live.

Every day from now until Christmas if students contribute approximately 3 cents a day, $100 can be sent. This money will go for purifying drinking water, buying medicine and disinfectants, providing food when family provisions are inadequate, and providing for a Day Care Center for the migrant workers' children.

The alternative project, undertaking the support of Thom, a Vietnamese girl, under the Foster Parents Plan for a third year was presented by George Penick. CHHS students were so impressed by both projects that 100 students have pledged to contribute one dollar so that in addition to the migrant worker project the school can re-adopt Thom.

During the assembly a resolution made following the death of President Kennedy was read by Lynn Turlington and adopted. This resolution summarizes the late President's goals and dreams, and as future citizens CHHS students have resolved to attempt to carry these out.

Saturday night the sophomore class held a Sadie Hawkins Dance in the CHHS gym. This dance was the sophomores' first money-making project. In Sadie Hawkins style, the girls asked boys for dates and also provided the transportation and paid the admission.

The Nomads, a CHHS combo, consisting of Bobby Scott, Bert Humphreys, Bill Scott, John Umstead, Louis Ambrosio, Kent Collins, and Kemp Nye, played for the dance. Kent Collins, Charlie Brickhouse and others participated in a small hootenanny.

About 45 Y-Teens and several members of the Monogram Club masqueraded as nursery rhyme characters in Chapel Hill's annual Christmas parade.

On Saturday night the Y-Teens will sponsor a barn dance at Camp New Hope. The evening will consist of a supper and square dancing. Each Y-Teen committee will be responsible for providing one course of the supper. Instead of each girl inviting a date, invitations will be sent to CHHS boys from the Y-Teens.

Sophomore cheerleaders were chosen December 3. The head cheerleaders are Becky Bodenheimer and Mary Sitterson. The other squad members are Gill Cassel, Vickie Logan, Sheryle Jernigan, Lynn Shytle, Barbara Blackwood, Cindy Poole, and Brenda Hayes.

Farm, Home Short Courses Scheduled

Orange County's rural citizens will have an opportunity to enroll in a Farm and Home Management Short course conducted by the North Carolina State Agricultural Extension Service.

Dr. Charles Pugh of the Agricultural Extension Service will teach the course which will include eight hours instruction in farm and home management.

The dates of the course are January 6, January 20, January 27 and February 3. All classes will run from 7:00 p.m.—9:00 p.m. and will be held at Cedar Grove Elementary School in Orange County.

Persons completing the 8 hours of instruction will be awarded a certificate by the North Carolina Agricultural Extension Service.

Some of the topics to be discussed include Preparing income Tax Returns, How to Keep Farm Records, Family Budgeting, How to Determine When Farm Practices Pay.

There will also be special classes for women who enroll in the course.

Enrollment blanks may be obtained from S. N. Shelton, Orange County Agricultural Agent, or Mrs. Bonnie B. Davis, Orange County Home Economics Agent. Phone 3821. Agriculture Building in Hillsboro, or write to P. O. Box 721, Hillsboro.

Music Club To Hold Recitals On Sunday

Young local musicians will perform compositions of their choice in a series of recitals sponsored by the Chapel Hill Music Club.

The first recital will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Rehearsal Room of Hill Music Hall. Performers will be Kathy Lenski, Laurel Mueller, Rhonda Rosser, Deborah Cornwell, Libby Cornwell, Jane Hollingsworth, Deborah Carnes, Ann Stewart, Amy Miller, Susan Jane Curtis, Leslie Tolley, Marjorie More, Becky Rogers, Janice Burns, and Susan Pennial.

Two of the students will play compositions which they composed. Becky Rogers will play one movement of her Sonatina, and Susan Pennial will play two of her own "pieces." Other students will present compositions from Bach, Beethoven, Clementi, Bartok, and Burgmueller.

Christian Science Lesson Announced

Jesus' instructions on how to pray will be brought out in this Sunday's Bible Lesson at the Christian Science service which begins at 11:00 a.m. The subject is "God the Preserver of Man." The Christian Science church is located on Pittsboro Road.

Golden Text: "The Lord is high unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth . . . The Lord preserveth all that love him" (Psalms 145:18,20).

Related readings from the Christian Science textbook will open with these lines: "Our Master said, 'After this manner therefore pray ye,' and then he gave that prayer, which covers all human needs" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 16).
