

CHRISTMAS PRESENT—Members of Delta Upsilon Fraternity got up one morning last week to find their front door barricaded by a broken-down wagon loaded with a ballast of scrap iron. It turned out that the wagon and load were presents from pledges of the

Kirkpatrick Wins First From Hearst

Curry Kirkpatrick, sports editor of The Daily Tar Heel and a junior at the University, has been awarded first place for the month of November in the William Randolph Hearst Foundation $40,900 Scholarship and Grants Program. Mr. Kirkpatrick was awarded a $750 scholarship for his story on the effect of the death of President John F. Kennedy on the University campus here. In November, 1962, Mr. Kirkpatrick placed 11th in the Hearst newspaper writing competition. UNC now stands, fourth overall in Hearst competition standings, behind Florida University, first; Stanford, and the University of Nebraska.

LEGION PARTY

Chapel Hill Legion Post 6 will hold its annual Christmas party for members' children this afternoon beginning at 2:30, at the American Legion Home. There will be entertainment, favors, refreshments, and Santa Claus will be on hand.

Chapel Hill Debs Make Formal Bows

Five Chapel Hill debutantes made their bows to society Saturday night at the 1963 Debutante Cotillion and Christmas Ball at the Central Civic Center in Durham. The new debs are Misses Nancy Glover Barrett, Charlotte Winborne Shaffer, Elizabeth Harris, Rosalie Ross, and Rebecca Tatum.

Miss Barrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Alan Barrett of Laurel Hill Road, led off the opening dance of the evening, the father-daughter dance, on the arm of her father. Miss Barrett is a student at the University here. Her marshals were George Simpson of Washington, D. C., and Frank Martin of Chapel Hill.

Leaders of the Polka Sleigh Ride were Miss Shaffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Shaffer of Gimghoul Road, Chapel Hill; and Miss Clara Dean Beard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Dean Beard of Durham.

Miss Shaffer is a student at the University here. Her marshals were Charles Shaffer Jr. and Archibald Henderson Kelly, both of Chapel Hill.

Miss Harris is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Tyndall Harris of Route 1. She is a student at the University. Her marshals were William Skinner of Jacksonville, Fla., and John Dunlap of Chapel Hill.

Miss Ross is the daughter of Dr. Robert A. Ross of Hillcrest Road. She is a student at Stratford College. Her marshals were Earl Settemire Jr. and Charles Lefler, both of Chapel Hill.

Miss Tatum is the daughter of Mrs. James Tatum of Laurel Hill Road. She is a student at Salem College. Her marshals were David Clark and James Tatum Jr., both of Chapel Hill.

Following an address to the debutantes by Dr. James Cleland, the debutantes joined in singing "Silent Night" with Miss Meredith Lynn Carr, descant soloist.

The debutantes will be entertained throughout the holiday season with parties and luncheons. A highlight will be a tea dance on Thursday night at the Carolina Inn. Parents of Chapel Hill debutantes will be hosts and hostesses.
