

We have been asked about the time that the payment of direct taxes would begin by counties. There are about 30,000 names to be copied and sent out from the Executive office in Raleigh and we understand it will be at least the middle of June before this is completed.

While it is plainly for the interest of the United States that our Minister in Hayti should be a white man, it is not for the interest of the party that happens to be in power. Each party possesses a number of statesmen more or less of African descent who desire to be provided for by means of diplomatic appointments, and Hayti and Liberia are about the only Governments to which a colored diplomatist can be sent.

Mr. M. A. Underwood has announced his retirement from the newspaper business, having sold his interest in the Monroe Register-Enquirer to Mr. W. J. Boyland, who will henceforth be managing editor and proprietor. Since the consolidation of the Register with the Enquirer some six or eight months since, it has been a bright and newsy weekly, and we wish it continued success.

The Appeal-Avalanche of Memphis reports that Senator George's prospects of re-election next year are improving: "The ardor of the Sub-Treasury advocates is subsiding in Mississippi and the public sentiment rapidly crystallizing into the belief that Senator George should be kept in the United States Senate as long as he is willing to serve."

The name of Mr. George will never be forgotten in the South and particularly in Mississippi. The people honor him for the services, alone, that he rendered in defeating the Force bill. His name stands high on the list of the heroes of that great fight which Senator Gorman, associated with Senator Ransom of this State and won for Democratic principles.

At the recent meeting of the Southern Press Association, held in Memphis, a committee was appointed to confer with the Commander in Chief of the Confederate Veteran Association, Gen. Gordon, relative to taking steps toward raising a fund for erecting a monument to Jefferson Davis. This committee has just issued an eloquent address to the people of the South, in which an appeal is made to their patriotic remembrances which, no doubt, will produce a very widespread impression. "We owe it to ourselves and our children," the address declares, "to build a monument to the memory of Mr. Davis." June 18th is appointed as a day upon which the people of every town and county in the Southern States shall meet and take proper steps to forward the enterprise of voluntary contributions or other methods which may be considered more advisable.

The Municipal affairs of Philadelphia are always in a rangle. This time the city treasurer is charged with accomplicity in the recent Keystone Bank sensation. The sum of $441,000, belonging to the city was deposited besides the State funds amounting to $930,000, making a grand total of public funds $1,371,500.

Gideon W. Marsh, the president of the now defunct bank is a fugitive. Several rewards it seems, have been offered for his arrest though as yet without avail. It has been rumored that his wife accompanied him to prevent, if possible, what she apprehended—suicide. Mr. Bordsley, the treasurer of Philadelphia goes as yet free from the law. Strong talk of arrest, however, is current. He is stern it is said, and determined to meet the worse.

The whole affair is a tangled one and presents many phases of race, reaching back for years in the past.

THE SOUTH NOT IN IT.

A "third party" convention assembled in Cincinnati Tuesday. This convention was called by the president of the Kansas State Alliance and has for its aim, if we understand it correctly, the formal entrance of the Farmer's Alliance and other allied organizations into politics by a so-called "third party." Col. Livingston, President of the Georgia State Alliance, some days since wrote a very decided letter, stating that the Georgia Alliance was not in sympathy or accord with any such movement. Other Southern State Alliances have adopted resolutions against such a movement.

The conference at Cincinnati upon the subject of a third party is not, therefore, the device of Southern Alliance men, who see no safety for the interests of their section in a division of the democratic party—the party of home rule. It is the device of the alliance men of the Northwest and West. The Kansas farmers, republicans at bottom, cannot bring themselves readily to cooperate with the farmers of the South as long as the latter are avowed democrats—democrats first and alliance men afterward. They are fighting the republican machine of Kansas, but they would feel better if they could at the same time keep up the old fight against the democrats. That they are converts to the democracy is as far as possible from being the fact. What they have at heart, on the contrary, is to convert the Southern alliance men from democracy to something else, and this third party is the something else that seems the most practicable. The centre of the new movement is in Kansas. The South is not in it.

HOW IT STANDS.

"The Southern States will probably become more solidly Democratic than ever. In fact, it looks very much as though Northern Republicans do not want anything in the South. There does not seem to be any organization."

The above is an editorial clipping from the Greensboro North State (Rep.) Editor Boyd, it is seen, is not averse to the unfavorable criticisms of the present Administration and his head is entirely too level to hope, even for a further gain of Republican influence in National politics. The jig is up and he knows it. Even the west, where heretofore has been the chief power of the Republican party is now disorganized by the "third party" issue. And what influence will this question have in the Republican camps?

The Alliance people, the labor organizations, and the different combinations of crank philosophers and statesmen in the Western Republican States, who will all vote for the "third party" candidates, will be drawn chiefly from the Republican ranks; and it now seems possible that such States as Kansas, Iowa, Wisconsin, and Minnesota may give their electoral votes to the Democratic candidate for President, owing to the weakening of the Republicans through the withdrawal of these elements that until 1890 were solid and zealous supporters of the Republican cause.

On the other hand, the Southern Democrats have nothing to do with the issue and are relying upon the good judgement and integrity of the Southern Farmers who are allied to the fundamental principals of Democracy. The campaign of '92 will, then, be an ineffectual one for the present Administration.

We acknowledge receipt of a handsome invitation to attend the commencement exercises of the Salem Female College, beginning Friday evening May 29th. The annual address will be delivered by Rev. Wm. H. Rice of New York City and the Baccalaureate sermon will be preached by Rev. Dr. Morrison of Atlanta Ga. There are thirty eight young ladies in the graduating class, representing several Southern States.

We acknowledge receipt of a very handsome and artistically designed invitation to be present at the commencement exercises of Peace Institute, Raleigh, May 29-31st.

OUR RE-UNITED COUNTRY.

At a recent banquet in New York City, the principal speech of the evening was made by the well known banker, Mr. Frederick Taylor. The occasion was the celebration of General Grant's birthday. In referring to the war career of the General and of the subsequent years, he spoke feelingly of the union now existing between the sections and in the course of his address said:

"A few weeks ago it was permitted me to attend a banquet in East Tennessee—the very heart of what was once the so-called southern confederacy. The company was made up about equally of northern and southern men—as many who had worn the gray as had worn the blue. The chairman of the evening, appreciating the rare combination, called to their feet, alternately, the old soldiers of either side, federal and confederate, as pieces are pushed forward on the chess-board—first a white and then a red, now a knight and again a pawn."

"For a while the affair progressed in the usual way, but under the inspiration of its peculiar conditions, it ere long developed into a sort of love feast. The men who had faced each other with hate in their eyes and death in their hearts, hobbled like dear old friends and together rehearsed their erstwhile opposing experience. They vied with each other in assertion of loyalty to the republic and at every specially patriotic appeal, whether by a representative of the north or south, they united in cheering the speaker to the echo, and in waving the flags, the stars and stripes, with which the room and tables were profusely decorated."

THE SOUTHERN ALLIANCE DEMOCRAT.

We have made mention before of the letter that Col. Livingston wrote relative to the South participating in the "third party" movement in Cincinnati. When he said that the Southern States would stick to the Democratic party it was like a bomb shell falling in the Western Alliance Circles.

Col. Livingston is recognized throughout the Southland as a true, conservative Democrat and Allianceman, nevertheless he is not alone in this sentiment of coincidence between these two elements. It is almost the unanimous sentiment of the South. Governor Tillman of South Carolina understood thoroughly the wants and wishes of his Alliance constituents when he said: "I am a democrat pure and simple, I believe in fighting for reforms inside of the party lines, and nothing outside of them, and I believe any attempt to organize a third party in this State, or in the South, would be an absolute failure!"

A BILLION DIMES LOOKED UP

A Treasury official of Washington speaking of the embarrassment the dime pocket savings banks are causing the Treasury Department, is quoted as saying that it is estimated that there are $1,000,000 in dimes hidden away in these pocket banks today, and there appears to be no way to draw upon this reserve until the bank is glutted to its full capacity. It is getting to be a craze.

It is estimated that 75 per cent. of the dimes that were in circulation three months ago have been banked in these little tubular depositories, and the cry is for more.

The craze has effected the cities, too. Baltimore, New York Philadelphia, and other commercial towns are sorely put to it for change of this unit of value. This demand is giving the bank cashiers and Sub-Treasurers a great deal of worry, for it requires three expert clerks a whole day to count $10,000 in this sort of money.

In the Florida legislature, on the 77th ballot, the vote was—Call, 62; Mays, 44; Bloxham, 2. When the name of Saulsbury, of Citron county was called he sent to the clerk's desk and had read a petition from Hernando county, addressed to A. S. Mann, representative from that county, asking him to vote for Call. He said that this petition had been sent to Mann by registered letter and that Mann had refused to take it from the postoffice and that citizens of Hernando county had asked him to have the petition read in the House.

THE EXPOSITION AT RALEIGH

Of course Winston is going to have the best display that will be made at the Exposition of the Southern Interstate Immigration Bureau at Raleigh this fall. We say of course because the community has formally said so through its Chamber of Commerce. It will be a good advertisement for our interests among many cities. It will set people to talking about us and coming to see us and that is all we want. He who once drinks of our spring will come again.

But what we started out to say was that it is time for us to be making preparations. The harvest is almost upon us. Forsyth must prove again her superiority in small grain, grasses etc. Then the small fruits are now ripening. The good housewives must prepare and exhibit their finest preserves and canned fruits and vegetables. We must not say if we had only thought of it we could have done so and so. We must think of it and have no omissions in our lists. Our tobacco interests will be looked after as will our manufactured articles of every sort. The perishable articles that are in season now or that are coming into season claim our first attention. The premiums will be more than repay any expense and it ought to be a real pleasure to help maintain the high character of this blessed land.

ANTI-KISSING FAD IN BOSTON

The latest Boston fad is severely restrictive of kissing. A man and his wife were arrested several days ago by a prudish policeman for kissing while waiting in a doorway for a street car. The car very probably was slow, so they thought to while away the time with a kiss. One would suppose a husband might be permitted to kiss his own wife or a wife her husband even on the street, but the Boston police judge before whom the couple were haled excused the policeman on the ground that the proceeding was an "unusual" one. It was not, however, he intimated, a distinctly criminal act—criminal for husband and wife to kiss and hence he would order their discharge. Think of a policeman's sensibilities being shocked by having to witness an innocent conjugal kiss, and of a judge who sympathized with him to the extent of discharging the couple with apparent reluctance and an intimation that they mustn't do it again. Can it be that kissing is so rare in Boston that it produces a mental shock when seen by the shrinking bystanders? It would be cruel reflection on the charms of Boston girls to harbor such an idea.

CONGRESSMAN STOUT DEAD

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 25.—Advices received here this morning are to the effect that Congressman Stout died at his home in Tennessee from taking the wrong medicine. He had been feeble for some days and was taking medicine. This morning when he breakfasted he took a dose of medicine as usual but it was out of the wrong bottle and killed him almost instantly.

Mrs. T. E. Cheek Dead.

Mrs. T. Edgar Cheek, of Durham, (nee Miss Mamie Garrison, of Fayetteville) died at her home here at afternoon at the age of 21 years. Mrs. Cheek was the wife of T. E. Cheek, one of the firm of the Morehead Banking Co., and one of the most popular and wealthy young men in the State. She was generally universally popular, loved and admired by all. She died after a brief illness.

Funeral of a 650-Pound Woman.

Mrs. Margaret Mulhany, whose remains were interred in New York cemetery here, weighed 650 pounds. The corpse was carried by twelve brawny men and an undertaker's wagon bore it to the cemetery, no hearse being large or strong enough. A double grave was needed, and the strength of a party of sixteen men to lower the body safely.

Work of Stage Drivers.

PARIS, May 26.—The stage strikers who are on strike are becoming furious in the fact that they are not being reclaimed. The strikers this morning were united on the streets and turned over umbrellas as they passed on the streets, effecting damage to the owners and injury to the drivers.

YOUR ATTENTION, EDITOR.

I have a good nine column Campbell power press that I would be glad to sell. Will put the press up and see that it is in perfect order.

I also have a one-horse power Shipman oil engine that will generate sufficient power to run the Campbell press and two job presses.

The engine occupies but little space and can be run with a small quantity of kerosene oil.

The press and engine will be sold at a bargain. Only a part of the purchase money will be required on delivery, the balance can be paid in reasonable time.

To any one in need of such machinery, we would say that we can give you a bargain. Write at once to THE DAILY SENTINEL, Winston, N. C.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

The Cincinnati Convention Talked About—Other News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26.—There seems to be a great many people here and elsewhere who think General Green B. Raum and his hopeful son would find plenty of room in that is known as the "Department of the Exterior." It is certainly the impression that the Interior Department ought not to keep either of them any longer.

The President is taking an active interest in the financial condition of the Treasury and has directed that he be furnished with an estimate of the probable revenue from all sources for the next fiscal year, based on the changes made by the last Congress in the customs and internal revenue laws. The customs receipts show a continual falling off; the receipts from this source by a statement at the Treasury, issued Thursday for the first twenty days in May, being less at the port of New York by $1,690,934 than they were for the corresponding period of last May.

The Treasury statement shows that the Treasury holds, May 20, $262,057,483 in gold bullion and coin, being a decrease since the first of the month of more than $12,000,000, and since the 1st of January of more than $32,000,000.

It is generally believed here that Col. L. L. Polk is working for the Presidential nomination at the hands of the Third Party. He was seen in the convention. It is learned, when he attempted to delay the formal formation of the so called party. When he is working in Polk's interest he is shrewd enough. He saw, as every practical politician here sees, that the Third Party, as now formed, cannot stick together twelve months. Polk knows one thing; the farmers in this country not only represent the brain but also the brain of our people. He might as well flaunt a red rag at a mad bull and ask the bull to keep quiet. When the farmer chooses to use his horse sense, the demagogues might as well retire. He might as well flaunt a red rag at a mad bull and ask the bull to keep quiet. When the farmer thinks for himself he acts for himself. I never knew a typical farmer who did not have the courage of his convictions. Col. Polk knew this when he planned to spring the Third Party business on them unexpectedly, and get the nomination himself. But the mixture in the late Cincinnati convention proved too much for his convictions. He will be a shade of anxiety in his countenance now when he strolls around the White House grounds and thinks how comfortable he would be there for four years with no house rent to pay!

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, preparation, and preparation of ingredients. Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the valuable value of the best known vegetable purgatives. Peculiar in its strength and economy. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine which can truly be said to "cleanse the blood." One Hundred Doses require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's Sarsaparilla. Peculiar in its medicinal merit. Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered."

Peculiar in its "goodness at home,"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly.

Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine.

100 Doses One Dollar. Drs. STARKEY & PALEN'S

Treatment by Inhalation.

1629 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

For Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Hay Fever, Headache, Debility, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and all Chronic and Nervous Disorders. The original and only genuine Compound Oxygen Treatment, that of Drs. Starkey & Palen, is a scientific adjustment of the elements of Oxygen and Nitrogen, and the compound is so condensed and made portable that it is sent all over the world.

It has been in use for more than twenty years and thousands of patients have been cured, and over one thousand physicians have used it, and recommended it very highly.

It does not act as a "drug," by creating another ailment, and benefiting one organ at the expense of another. It is a natural and pure compound of Oxygen and Nitrogen, and is so condensed and made portable that it is sent all over the world.

These statements are confirmed by numerous testimonials, published in our book of 200 pages, a scientific adjustment of the elements of Oxygen and Nitrogen, and the compound is so condensed and made portable that it is sent all over the world.

The great success of our Treatment has given rise to a host of imitations, unscrupulous persons, some calling their preparations Compound Oxygen, often appropriating our testimonials and names, and recommending to recommend worthless concoctions. But any substance made elsewhere or by others, and called Compound Oxygen, is spurious.

Dr. STARKEY & PALEN, 120 Sutter St., San Francisco, Cal. Please mention this Paper.
