Messrs. Benjamin Franklin and W. T. Markee, of Philadelphia, members of the company behind the movement to build inter-urban electric line from Winston-Salem to High Point, arrived in the city Tuesday. In company with Mr. D. H. Blair they drove out in the country several miles, over the line now being surveyed by a corps of civil engineers. The visitors expressed their opinion that the road will be built.

A letter received here from Yadkinville today states that a delegation from Statesville will attend the big mass meeting at Yadkinville next Wednesday, July 4, the purpose of which is to get the people interested in the proposition to build an inter-urban road. Statesville is anxious to secure the road, but Winston-Salem can get it if the business men go after it. Mr. George P. Pell and perhaps several other citizens will attend the meeting next Wednesday. Mr. Pell has been asked to make an address on this occasion.

WHY EAGLE LODGE WAS NOT INSTITUTED

Mr. Chap. Bodenhamer, State organizer, went to Charlotte last night to institute an aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, but owing to some misunderstanding with the State Commissioner of Insurance in regard to a tax nothing was done and Mr. Bodenhamer returned this morning. A special from Charlotte says:

"In brief, State Insurance Commissioner Young has decreed that the Eagles must take out a State license before they can do business in North Carolina, owing to the fact that the order has a sick benefit feature. General Advisor Woodward Carr of Uniontown, Pa., has vainly attempted to convince Mr. Young that he is wrong, but the State official is obdurate and the Eagles must take out the license or withdraw from the State. It will require three weeks to procure the necessary papers."

Mr. Bodenhamer says the tax will be paid and the aerie will be instituted with over 100 charter members.

MERCHANTS TO CUT OUT PROGRAM ADVERTISING

The Winston-Salem Retail Merchants' Association has resolved to discontinue program advertising and use the columns of the local newspapers.

The action was taken at the meeting of the association last night when the following was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That we, the merchants of the Retail Merchants' Association of Winston-Salem, as a body, do pledge ourselves not to place any advertising, nor to encourage the same, in any program, such as programs for church entertainments, societies, operas, books or catalogues of any kind whatsoever."

It was argued that program advertising does not bring results and that the newspapers were the most legitimate and profitable mediums.

The meeting was largely attended and the session interesting and profitable. Mr. J. W. Carter and the other local delegates to the State Convention, made short addresses, giving a review of the business transacted by the State Association at Morehead City last week.

MAN ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF BIGAMY

Special to The Sentinel.

GREENSBORO, June 25.—Samuel Osborne, a telegraph operator for one of the Southern Railway's block stations, six miles from Greensboro, was arrested Saturday on a warrant charging him with bigamy. The trial was postponed until Saturday, Osborne giving bond for his appearance.

A few days ago he married the young daughter of County Surveyor Glechrist. It develops that a few months ago he married a woman in Salisbury. Saturday, in asking for a continuance, Osborne's lawyers stated to the mayor that Osborne married the first wife in Salisbury while on a spree and had not seen her since the morning after. He said that the woman secured the marriage license herself and had the knot tied; that the woman had been twice married before and both her husbands were living, and for this reason Osborne did not consider his marriage to her to be legal, hence his second marriage before securing a divorce.

RALEIGH ALDERMEN MAY CALL ELECTION

Special to The Sentinel.

RALEIGH, June 26.—There will be a special session of the Raleigh Aldermen tomorrow night for the purpose of passing on the question of calling an election on the question of dispensary or prohibition. In compliance with the petitions gotten up by Rev. S. J. Betts and others. The committee report will show 464 qualified signers of the petitions when only 428 are necessary for calling the election. However, any citizen who signed the petition will have an opportunity to have his name stricken off the petition during the meeting if he so desires.

There is a claim that the Watts law is defective so that an election on "dispensary" or "prohibition" cannot be held. Also that no election under thirty days can be held within thirty days of a legalized primary. Mayor Johnson declares that the course of the board is to call the election and let the opposition appeal to the courts if they desire.

The special commissioners appointed to appraise the damage to the Glenwood property by reason of the right-of-way through it for the Raleigh & Pamlico railroad have filed a report, naming $25,384.95 as the amount that the Glenwood Company should receive. MISS PEARL JONES FIRES UPON ANOTHER INTRUDER

A special from Selma to the Charlotte Observer says that between 11 and 12 o'clock Saturday night, at the home of her father in Selma, there was a bold attempt by some unknown person to enter the room of Miss Pearl Jones, but the attempt was foiled by the use of a revolver in the same steady hand that exactly two weeks before so successfully dispatched her would-be assailant.

Miss Jones was relieved at the telephone office about 11 o'clock, came home and had just eaten her midnight lunch and gone into the sitting room, where she was talking with the rest of the family, when the dining room door was heard to open. Her grandfather, who was in the room at the time, looked into the dining room, but found no one there, so he securely fastened the door and returned to the sitting room. Pretty soon, however, someone was heard walking on the porch in front of Miss Pearl's bedroom and her room-mate, Miss Josie Hunt, who had already retired, saw the form of a man at the window of her room through the space between the bottom of the shade and the window sill, whereupon she called Miss Jones. However, before Miss Jones could get there with her pistol the form had disappeared. Later they were again awakened by someone just outside their window and Miss Jones fired at the intruder, who is believed to have been a negro seeking revenge for the death of a fiber assailant, or bent on another crime. The citizens of Selma are thoroughly aroused and are determined to give the brave girl their hearty support.

A JULY WEATHER PROGNOSTICATION

RALEIGH, June 25.—A number of the State officials have received a July weather prognostication from A. J. Devoe, who styles himself "meteorologist," with office at Hackensack, N. J., and the officials say it is gratifying that failure of the DeVoe prognostications in the past to materialize make it unnecessary for anyone in North Carolina to be especially apprehensive. The forecast just received says:

"July will enter with a hot wave over the Western States; the centre of this wave will reach the Atlantic coast States by the fourth, followed by very violent thunder storms on the fifth and a cold wave for several days. We will have heavy rains and thunder storms each week, but on the nineteenth a great storm will form over the Mississippi valley, increasing in energy as it moves eastward causing a cyclone along our Atlantic coast between the 21st and 24th.
