

ENGLISH POLICY MAKE GERMANY PAY ALL SHE CAN

Premier Lloyd George Explains His Position to French Newspaper Reporter

STILL FRIEND OF FRANCE

However, Firm in His Position That Fixed Reparation Sum From Germany Must Be Firmed, And Has No Quarrel to Pick With France Because of Views

Paris, Nov. 20.—Differences between Great Britain and France do not amount to a quarrel, and the views of these two nations have in no way prejudiced the allegiance which held them together during the war, said Premier Lloyd George, of Great Britain, in an interview at London yesterday with the correspondent of the Petit Parisien.

Mr. Lloyd George declared that, regarding reparations, England would stand "elbow to elbow" with France, but he insisted that the amount Germany would be called upon to pay should be fixed.

"There are always some people who pick quarrels," said the premier in reply to a remark by the interviewer that French public opinion was badly impressed by what France believed to be the British attitude on questions vital to this country.

The interviewer told Mr. Lloyd George the question of reparations took precedence over all others in France and that in certain French circles there was an impression, which there was an impression, either rightly or wrongly held, that the British premier opposed the viewpoint of the French relative to the amount Germany should pay.

"I would say that this impression is wrongly held," said Mr. Lloyd George. "You say reparations constitute an essential point for France and I would say it is also of paramount importance for us, since it is evident that the more France gets, the more England will receive."

"I will tell you exactly what I think," continued Mr. Lloyd George, "it is very simple—make Germany pay all she can."

"I have, I think," continued Mr. Lloyd George, "testified by acts and not only that, but by words, to my friendship and admiration for the French democracy. We fought together and conquered together and must not renounce in peace the arrangements that in the past were dear to my heart. In return, the French people must not think I have become an enemy, because I speak as a business man and as a realist. Friends should speak truth to each other and defend the system which seems best to conform with their common interests. Once the decision is reached, we will stand elbow to elbow."

Premiers to Meet. Paris, Nov. 20.—Premiers Lloyd George and David Lloyd George of France, and Great Britain, respectively, probably will meet in London soon for a conference which is considered necessary because of the serious situation in the Near East. A staff of experts, it is understood, will take part in the meeting.

The conference will determine upon joint action relative to three questions—the defeat of Premier Venizelos, in Greece, which brings into question the status of the Greek army in Asia Minor; the advance of the Russian Bolsheviks in the new states of the Caucasus region, particularly the co-operation of the Bolsheviks with the Turkish Nationalists; and the consequences of the defeat of Gen. Baron Wrangel, head of the South Russian government.

Paul Cambon, former French ambassador to Great Britain, submitted to the French foreign office yesterday a note declaring the return of former King Constantine to the Greek throne would be "intolerable." He said that if such a step was imminent Greece should be warned the allies could not maintain friendly relations with her.

HOW EDITOR WON ELECTION; TOOK BABE RUTH TO POLLS. Havana, Nov. 20.—Victor Munoz, sporting editor of El Mundo, of Havana, who has attended all the world series games in the last six years, won his fight for membership in the city council here the other day by novel advertising methods.

Instead of attending political rallies, Munoz went to the ball games, and on election day took Babe Ruth, the home run king to the polling places to help get votes. Ruth, unable to speak Spanish, made signs for the voters, who deserted other candidates and put Munoz over.

The day before election Munoz wrote a two column account of the first game in which Ruth appeared. Everybody read it, and under the name of the 150-pound editor-candidate appeared this:

"Candidate of great physical sovereignty for the position of councilman."

SENTENCED TO PENITENTIARY FOR LIFE TERM

Abductor and Slayer of Coughlin Baby Showed No Emotion When Sentenced

SAID HE WANTED TO DIE

If He Is Ever Freed He Is Then To Be Tried for Manslaughter; Judge Gives Prisoner Full Limit as Provided By Law, Will Be Confined at Eastern Prison

Norristown, Pa., Nov. 20.—August Pascal, alias Pasquale "the crank" in the Coughlin kidnaping case, was sentenced to life imprisonment this morning by Judge Swarth, in Norristown court.

Pascal pleaded guilty at his trial to second degree murder and kidnaping for extortion. He stole Blakely Coughlin, the 13-month-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Coughlin, from their home near Norristown on June 2 last and smothered the infant under his coat.

He was sentenced on the kidnaping charge and sentence was suspended on the second degree murder charge.

Pascal will be confined in the Eastern state penitentiary in Philadelphia.

Judge Swarth told Pascal he was sorry he could not sentence him to death. The second degree murder sentence will be considered if Pascal is ever released. Pascal confessed to the kidnaping and the smothering of the child. As the body of the baby could not be produced and legal proof aside from Pascal's own confession being lacking, first degree murder could not be passed against the abductor.

Pascal, 34 years old, shorn of the heavy black beard he had grown in jail, was instructed to stand up when sentence was about to be pronounced.

"It is useless for me to say anything in this case," the judge began. "The cruelty, the deceit, the wickedness, and the hard heartedness of your part as well as the history of your past life show that your conscience is so seared that anything that I may add will not in any way increase the burden of your sentence and I am sure I do not wish to say anything that will in the least diminish the burden of the sentence or in any way be a source of relief or comfort to you."

"I am sorry I cannot impose the extreme penalty shown in law, the electric chair, because your crimes are too numerous to list."

Life imprisonment was then imposed. Pascal stolidly heard the sentence. If the court's judgment made any impression upon him, he did not show it.

"I am glad it's over," he said to the sheriff. "I am sorry I did not get the chair. I don't want to live."

With eyes moist by tears, Mr. and Mrs. Coughlin, heard the imposition of the sentence.

"I am satisfied with the court's sentence," said the father of the kidnapped child.

WARSAW PAPER PREDICTS BIG WAR

Says Germany and England Will Be Lined Up Against Poland, Belgium, France

Warsaw, Nov. 20.—The declaration of the war between Germany and Poland would be inevitable if the plebiscite to be held in Upper Silesia gives that region to Germany, is made today in the Gasette Poranna in discussing the plebiscite. The newspaper predicts that another world war would result, with France and Belgium joining Poland and Great Britain siding with Germany. It adds:

"If England should enter this war it would mean, perhaps, the end of British world power."

The newspaper contends that Great Britain has shown certain leanings toward Germany in Silesian affairs and warns Britain to keep her hands off.

The date of the plebiscite in Silesia has again been postponed indefinitely. Meanwhile unrest in the region and among laborers has been the cause of constant friction between workers and capitalists.

The Polish mark today reached its lowest figure at 4.85 to the dollar, and some of the newspapers attribute its drop to German influence, seeking to injure Polish credit because of its effect on the Silesian vote.

800 ACRES BURNED IN BIG FOREST FIRES

Asheville, Nov. 20.—Although less than 75 acres of property in the national forests have been destroyed, extensive fire damage in territory adjacent to the government holdings has been reported to Verna Rhoades, in charge of the United States forestry division here. Fires are said to have originated from sparks flying from lumber engines.

The first fire was on Mount Mitchell, where 15 or 16 acres of government holdings and approximately 300 acres of private holdings were destroyed. Sixty acres, which belongs to the state, were destroyed in three successive fires along Davidson river, in Pisgah national forest.

Fortunately the damage was confined largely to the burning of leaves and shrubbery, although, of course, there was considerable damage to trees, chiefly in cut-over sections.

A right-of-way along Carr's railroad is now being burned to protect the forest from flying sparks from the locomotives.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—The 1920 world's series prize money amounting to almost $15,000, which belongs to the Chicago American League baseball team for finishing second, has not been awarded, it was announced today. The old national commission is awaiting the outcome of the trial of eight White Sox players charged with "throwing the 1919 championship games to the Cincinnati Reds."

NINE PERSONS DIE IN NEW YORK FIRE

Two Entire Families, With Exception of One Person, Lost in Big Blaze

New York, Nov. 20.—Nine persons, constituting every member except one of two entire families, lost their lives here early today in a fire which destroyed a five-story apartment house at 307 West 146th street. Fourteen other persons escaped or were rescued by firemen.

Originating, fire authorities say, in a baby carriage on the first floor of the brick structure, the fire swept upward thru open stairways, cutting off escape thru the halls. Nearly a hundred men, women and children clad in night clothes, swarmed to the fire escapes, some making their way to the ground while others huddled in terror-stricken groups on the midair until carried to safety.

All the dead were found on the fifth and top floor after the flames had been controlled. They were: Raephael Gebria, his wife, and their four children, who ranged in years from seven years to one and one-half; Mrs. Eda Frank, Mrs. Bertha Reynolds, her sister, and Ruth Reynolds, a girl of sixteen.

Charles Frank, overcome by smoke, fainted over a window sill and was dragged to safety and revived by men who reached out from an adjoining building and drew him across the narrow open space.

Mrs. Dora Schofield, living on the second floor, escaped with minor injuries.

Robert Walker, a neighborhood resident climbed a fire escape before the arrival of firemen and carried to safety an infant which had been abandoned in its crib by a family on the second floor. Other residents of the doomed building escaped over adjoining roofs.

Delegates to Convention of National Hotel Association Given Sample Menu

New York, Nov. 20.—Delegates to the convention of the National Hotel Association here couldn't believe that only 15 minutes from the tip of Manhattan's downtown, they were served for exactly 17 cents each.

Frederick A. Wallis, immigration commissioner on Ellis Island, invited doubters on a tour of culinary inspection, just to show how they do it on Uncle Sam's doorstep.

A number of the hotel men, who say they are intent on bringing down the cost of tavern fare, accepted the commissioner's invitation, with the idea of infusing some of the Ellis Island methods into the conduct of their own kitchens.

"For particulars," said the commissioner, "see MacGowan."

The secret of reducing the costliness of provender as it appears, steaming and succulent, on the dinner table, is a mystery, but MacGowan, D. T. MacGowan, caterer on the island, is on the inside. His explanation runs: "Purchase on a lowest bid basis, quantity, production, and profits never more than .85 per cent a month in investment; result, 17 cent dinners."

And when someone interposed that MacGowan "couldn't serve a regular meal for 17 cents," he explained, as a sample menu, the following:

Breakfast: rice with milk, stewed prunes, bread and butter and coffee with two lumps of sugar to the cup.

Dinner: English beef soup with barley, Irish and vegetables, tomato, frying and coffee.

Supper: Lamb hash, green peppers, bread and butter, blackberry jelly, coffee and tea.

HUSBAND IS STILL RESPONSIBLE FOR WIFE

Supreme Court Rules Damages Done by Wife Can Be Recovered From Husband

An interesting decision has been handed down by the supreme court in the case of Young vs. J. W. Newcom and wife, Sarah Newcom. The last decision as to law on the issues submitted in this case which originated in the county court, was a ruling in a mystery, but MacGowan held that the husband is responsible for the acts of his wife.

In the case before the Forsyth jury won a verdict. It is said, in its argument, the wife is responsible for the slanderous utterances of his wife. A case from Forsyth county in which a man sued another for damages on account of the slanderous wife went up to the higher court and it was held that the lower court, which gave a verdict for the plaintiff allowing him damages in the sum of $550, was not in error. If a man's wife breaks a window or destroys other property the husband can be sued and made to pay for the damage he did to the property. If the wife is occupied by a woman can recover damages from her husband, why is not a good law to make a husband pay for damages his wife does to the character of an individual by her slanderous talk?

FOUR CEMETERIES IN FRANCE IS PLAN

War Department Also Planning to Establish Permanent Cemetery in England

Washington, Nov. 19.—Decision of the war department to authorize the maintenance of only four permanent cemeteries in France was announced today. These will be at Buresnes, on the outskirts of Paris; at Romagne, in the Argonne region; at Belleau Wood, where Americans soldiers and marines met the Germans in the first important engagement, and at Bony, in the department of the Aisne, which shall be known as Flanders Field.

A permanent cemetery also will be established near London for those soldiers who died in Great Britain while enroute to France.

No distinction as to rank will be made in the grouping of bodies and the plans will be identical except for the inscription and the cross or the Star of David to indicate religious faith.

Those who would direct movements to obtain money for the erection of memorials were warned by the department today that no memorials would be permitted in the permanent military cemeteries unless the designs first are approved by the secretary of war.
