"Mark Of The Vampire" at the Charlotte Theatre

Director Ted Browning shocked the screen world with his hair-raising "Dracula" and kept audiences on the edges of their seats with the Lon Chaney thrillers; Guy Endore stunned lovers of shocking mystery with "Werewolf of Paris" and "Babouk"; Bela Lugosi has chilled audiences with many shivery scenes, and Lionel Barrymore has gripped the imaginations of millions with his amazing characterizations.

They all come together in "Mark of the Vampire," sensational detective mystery which each hopes is to "top" anything else in his career. The new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture comes Friday and Saturday to the Charlotte Theatre. An original story by Guy Endore and Bernard Schubert, the picture tells the tale of a ghastly crime, laid in the midst of a strange vampire cult.

Strange "un-dead" things that roam in the night, a haunted castle that is the center of the gruesome cult, a detective who pits his wits against supernatural horrors, figure in the hair-raising story.

Opposite Lugosi is Carol Borland, the long-hunted "Vampire Woman," found in the person of a dramatic student at the University of California, playing her first role in the picture.

The thrills include the mysterious murder, blamed on vampires, the appearance of the vampire horde, the reincarnation of the heroine's father as one of the "Un-Dead," the bat that turns into a woman, Lugosi's wierd attacks upon Elizabeth Allan, and the amazing document in which the detective in the case brings the wierd hidden criminals to the light of day.

Sec. Ickes Flays Liberty League At Conference

Washington, Sept. 20.—Secretary Ickes yesterday accused lawyers of the American Liberty league of "gross impertinence" and issuing "a little high-powered propaganda" in their challenge of the constitutionality of New Deal legislation before it has reached the Supreme Court.

The lawyers, Ickes said at a press conference have shown evidence of disrespect for the court.

"I realize," he added, "I'm running the risk of being summoned by Chief Joust Shouse for contempt of court, but I'll run that risk." Shouse is head of the league.

A group of lawyers last night said the Guffey coal stabilization act was unconstitutional.

Ickes also said he would have ready for President Roosevelt next week a list of $200,000,000 in public works projects to be brought within the revised works relief program.

Just Something Sen. Reynolds Would Like To See

Our "Bob," who is making a 30-day semi-tramping trip of the great old U. S. A., drops this out by the wayside at Salt Lake City, Utah, last week in an A. P. dispatch:

"Senator Robert R. Reynolds of North Carolina believes congress should remain in session no longer than one month next year.

"In an interview here last night the senator declared the next congress should smooth off the rough edges of past legislation . . . act to deport all aliens who will not consent to becoming United States citizens, and . . . provide for payment of the soldiers bonus.

Senator Reynolds, with Col Leo Cadison, Washington newspaperman, is on a 30-day tour of the United States.

To Absorb Over Three Million In 42 Days

Washington, Sept. 20.—Harry L. Hopkins predicted last week the 3,500,000-job goal of the work-relief drive will be reached November 1, but simultaneously opened the door to continuation of the federal dole after that deadline.

The Works Progress administrator, a frequent visitor at recent Hyde Park conferences with President Roosevelt, told his press conference 931,703 persons already had been put to work, leaving 2,458,297 to absorb in the next 42 days.

"Our schedule," Hopkins emphasized, "provides for our putting these people to work. On the assumption that we will, we plan to end direct relief November 1."

Textile Mill Owners Say They Uphold Code

New York, Sept. 20.—Goldthwaite H. Door, president of the Cotton Textile Institute reported last week that more than 97 per cent of cotton textile mills are operating under the former NRA code wages and hours.

The report was made to the institute's executive committee and board of directors meeting in New York to review developments in the industry since the invalidation of NRA.

More than 98 per cent of the industry, Door reported are not exceeding the two-shift maximum of the old code, and 95 per cent of the spindles in the industry are operated under the basic code labor and machine-hour limitation provisions.

Machinists' Jobs Good for 4 Years

Following protest by the Machinists' Union against pending lay-offs of tool makers at the Washington, D. C., navy yard, it was announced this week by Navy Department officials that there will be no dismissals and that jobs for the present staff of 5,500 employes there are practically guaranteed until the middle of 1939 at least.

Several weeks ago plans were made to dismiss approximately 100 tool makers because of an alleged shortage of work in their class. The Navy Yard Mechanists' Union staged a protest mass meeting and carried their case to Secretary of Navy Claude A. Swanson.

Don't boycott the merchant who does not sell Union-made goods. Just stop trading with him!

Americans spend millions of dollars for imported goods. The best way to cut the taxes collected for those on relief is to buy Union-made American products.

Textile Meet at Paw Creek

Textile Local No. 2078 held its weekly meeting last Saturday night at 7:30, with 87 members present. We have changed our time of meeting to Saturday night and have a better attendance.

We gave away a cake to the ugliest man Saturday night, and did we have fun? Bros. Thrift and McElice were present and made inspiring talks. We hope to see you all at the Council meeting at Plaza School Saturday night.
