BIBLE THOUGHT

"God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea."—Psalm 46: 1, 2.

OUR THIRD-TERM PRESIDENT

The news of President Roosevelt's re-election is not news now, for almost everyone had it before they retired Wednesday morning, it being just a matter of the majority to be rolled up. It will run between four and five million in the popular vote with around 500 electoral votes.

He will have a Democratic Senate and House, hence the guidance of America in these turbulent times is in his hands. The people of America, those who re-elected him, hope and believe that they have chosen wisely. His past record is 100 per cent American, and while at times the wisdom of some of his actions may not have been concurred in, he has steered the ship of State wisely and well.

The CIO lost John L. Lewis as its head (maybe), with the election of President Roosevelt on Tuesday, and the Mine Workers may conclude to do without his services as president of that organization, so it would appear, that Mr. Lewis will soon be a "has been."

The Food Show opened at the Armory Auditorium Wednesday night with a large attendance and a splendid array of exhibits and amusement attractions. Scheduled for a ten-day run, Manager Vogler expects the attendance to break all records and the show to be the best ever.

North Carolina rolled up its usual Democratic majority along the line, and while there were good men on the Republican ticket, it seems the time is not yet ripe for a political change in the Old North State. South Carolina—well the outcome of "political contests" in the Palmetto State is a stereotyped phrase.

The Central Labor Union Skating Center will be dedicated Armistice Day, at Cordelia Park at about 4 p.m., with fitting ceremonies. This is going to prove a great amusement asset for the children of that section of the city.

EVEN STEVEN

Two casual golf acquaintances were walking toward the green when they sighted two women coming over a hill. "I say," remarked one of the men, "here comes my wife with some old hag she's picked up somewhere." "And here comes mine, with another," retorted the other, icily.

The East Texas oil field covers 132,000 acres and has 26,000 producing wells. The field is 10 years old and the wells have produced in that time 1,450,000,000 barrels of oil.

The greatest need of those European warring nations is common sense.

IMPROVEMENT OF N. C. FARM MARKETING SOUGHT

Better markets for North Carolina farmers was the subject of a meeting at Raleigh Monday night that brought together 125 agricultural, business and governmental leaders. Standing in Hunter O. Pheasant, president of the Southeastern Chain Store Council, with headquarters at Norfolk, Va., that represents 40 chain store companies cooperating to increase farming income. Others, left to right, are: M. G. Mann, manager of the N. C. Cotton Growers Association; Dr. I. O. Schaub, dean of agriculture and director of extension at N. C. State College; Dr. Clarence Poe, editor of The Progressive Farmer, and Thomas P. Thompson, managing director of the Southeastern Chain Store Council, who gave an illustrated talk outlining cooperation of chain stores in development of the agricultural resources of North Carolina.

LIVING SPIRIT OF DEMOCRACY

"Fill every American home and every American school-room with the living spirit of American democracy—with belief in ourselves, with belief in one another, with belief in our country and its future.

"Say with your children—and think—and mean while you say it—and live every word of this declaration of American faith:

"I pledge allegiance to my Flag
And to the republic for which it stands;
One nation, indivisible,
With liberty and justice for all."

THE BIBLE MY MOTHER GAVE ME

Give me that grand old Volume
The gift of a mother's love.
Tho' the spirit that first taught me
Has winged its flight above.
Yet, with no legacy but this,
She has left me wealth untold,
Yea, mightier than earth's riches,
Or the wealth of Ophir's gold.
When a child, I've knelt beside her,
In our dear old cottage home,
And listened to her reading,
From that prized and cherished tome.
As with low and gentle cadence,
And a meek and reverent mien,
God's word fell from her trembling lips
Like a presence felt and seen.
I can list to that good man yonder,
In the gray church by the brook,
Take up that marvelous tale of love,
Of the story and the Book.
How through the twilight glimmer,
From the earliest dawn of time,
It was handed down as an heirloom
In almost every clime.
So I cling to my mother's Bible,
In its torn and tattered boards,
As one of the greatest gems of art
And the king of all other hoards,
As in life the true consoler,
And in death ere the Judgment Call,
The guide that will lead to the shining shore
Where the Father waits for all.

Dear readers, if you wish for the faith like your mother's faith you can find it where she did—in her Bible. That Bible she gave you was not intended to be a keepsake, but to be a source of faith to you as it was to her.—Exchange.

TAKE THAT!

An English lady, self-appointed supervisor of village morals, accused a workman of having reverted to drink because "with her own eyes" she had seen his wheelbarrow standing outside a public house.

The accused man made no verbal defense, but the same evening he placed his wheelbarrow outside her door and left it there all night.

La Follette Wins
In Wisconsin

A news dispatch Wednesday says: Senator Robert M. "Young Bob" La Follette, Progressive who endorsed a third term for the President, pulled away from Republican Fred H. Clausen in Wisconsin after trailing for many hours.

Late this morning, the still incomplete returns showed eleven Democrats and seven Republicans assured of election to governorships. The outcome in five of these contests represented a shift from one party to the other, giving the Democrats a net gain of one in governorships at this point.

IT'S YOU

You say the world looks gloomy;
The skies are grim and grey,
The night has lost its quiet—
You fear the coming day?
The world is what you make it,
The sky is grey or blue
Just as your soul may paint it;
It isn't the world—it's you!
Clear up the clouded vision,
Clean out the foggy mind;
The clouds are always passing,
And each is silver-lined.
The world is what you make it—
Then make it bright and true,
And when you say it's gloomy,
It isn't the world—it's you!

DID HE MEAN HYPHEN?

Clarence (looking up from his composition): "Daddy, is 'waterworks' all one word, or do you spell it with a hyphen in the middle?"

HIS ERROR

Salesman: "I've had singing noises run my ears off and on all day."
Wife: "No wonder. You left your sample case at home this morning and took along the portable radio set."

BUT THEY'RE GOING

The class composition was about "Kings." One boy wrote: "The most powerful king on earth is Wor-king; the laziest, Shir-king; the wittiest, Jo-king; the quietest, Think-king; the thirstiest, Drin-king; the slyest, Win-king, and the noisiest, Tal-king."

HERE'S ONE

A couple of girls handed the cashier of a cafeteria on their way out a slip of paper with the number 1004180 on it. This satisfied the cashier who let them pass without paying. Why? Well, it reads: "I owe nothing for I ate nothing."

It is a great comfort when you know that you have done your best.

AND THE FIGHT WAS ON

The Browns were standing on the balcony of the seaside hotel, and couldn't help hearing what the young couple in the garden below were saying.

Mrs. Brown turned to her husband: "I think he's going to propose and we shouldn't be listening. Just whistle to warn him."
"Why should I?" asked Mr. Brown.
"Nobody whistled to warn me."
