

AFL PRINTERS WIN PAY BOOST WITHOUT CONTRACT

Seattle. — AFL union printers here won a $13.25 weekly pay increase which raises to $90 the pay scale for day work and to $95 for night labor during a 35-hour week.

Charles T. Hickey, president of the local ITU affiliate, said 210 workers on two Seattle newspapers would benefit from the wage boost which is retroactive to January 12. He announced that no contract would be signed under terms of the new agreement.

OFFICE EMPLOYEES WIN THIRD UNION SHOP VOTE

New York. — Local 205 of the United Financial Workers, AFL, won a union shop election among employees of the New York Curb Exchange by a vote of 178 to 12, the National Labor Relations Board announced.

The 178 constitute a majority of the 235 workers eligible to vote and gives the union the right to bargain for a union shop provision.

John Cole, local vice president, said that the union, which won similar elections in the Stock Exchange and Cotton Exchange, would soon begin negotiations with the exchanges for new contracts.

a perfect formula for industrial unrest."

He riddled the law's provisions which require unions to submit all sorts of reports and affidavits before they can use the machinery of the National Labor Relations board.

"That's like telling a citizen whose house is being burglarized that he can't have police protection because his taxes are in arrears," Morse said.

Morse summed up by warning that, in the end, the act may open the door to Fascism.

"Once a government starts to exercise the power to direct the relations which shall exist between supposedly free workers and free employers," he asserted, "then it is not many steps away from a regimented economy."
