Greensboro, Carolinas' Gateway Metropolis

Guilford County — settled by Ulster Scots, English and Welsh Quakers and Germans, principally between 1750 and 1779.

Greensboro is noted throughout the country for the excellence of its school system. In and around Greensboro are located eight institutions of higher education with between 4,000 and 4,500 students. Fifteen modern consolidated rural public high schools and forty-five urban public schools; total enrollment of City schools, approximately 10,500.

The Woman's College, University of North Carolina, ranks high among liberal arts colleges in America. Founded in 1891. Advanced school of music (art, dramatics, home economics, physical education and secretarial science. Grants bachelor of arts and science degree and offers graduate work. Dr. W. C. Jackson, Chancellor.

Greensboro College (Methodist) for 100 years has been highly regarded as a liberal arts school for young women. Music, dramatics and cultural courses leading to bachelor degrees. Dr. Luther Gobel, president.

Guilford College (Quaker, co-ed) chartered 1834—an accredited liberal arts college, conferring bachelor degrees. Dr. Clyde A. Milner, president.

Oak Ridge Military Institute (ROTC) founded at Oak Ridge, 1851. Boy's preparation school with long record for highest rating by War Department. Col. Earl Holt, Commandant.

Agricultural and Technical College (N) founded by State in 1891 for advanced training. Bachelor degrees. Dr. F. D. Bluford, president.

Bennett College (N) founded 1873 — liberal arts-bachelor degrees. Dr. David D. Jones, president.

Greensboro's industrial structure is well diversified—there are cotton, silk and rayon weaving mills;

women's full-fashioned silk stockings and men's hose; wood-working; laundry, saw mill, farm, machine tool and sheet metal industries; general foundry and stove works; ornamental iron and steel fabricators, sewer pipe and building tile manufacturers; overalls, work pants and sleeping garments; fertilizer plants; belting and textile specialties; lumber and mill work; chemicals and pharmaceuticals; coffee roasting, flour and food products; auto body builders; railway repair shops, ice cream and dairy products; printers and bookbinders; paper containers; and a variety of specialty manufacturers.

The Cone mills are the largest producers of cotton denim in the world. The Blue Bell-Globe Manufacturing Company is the largest overall manufacturer in America. Burlington Mills, world's largest rayon weavers. The Mock-Judson, Voehringer Hosiery Mill and Pomona Terra Cotton Company are the largest in the South. Vicks Vaporub and Vicks Cough Drops are known around the world.

Religious and social— The church as an institution has always been a powerful and constructive force in the life of Greensboro. The Quaker Meeting House at New Garden (now Guilford College) was established in 1752. Old Buffalo Presbyterian Church was established in Greensboro in 1756.

Do You Know . . . ?

—That, throughout its 67-year history, the American Federation of Labor has been the most powerful, the most consistent foe of Communism in America?

That before the turn of the century, Samuel Gompers, founder of the AFL, resisted all Red encroachment efforts?

That, in 1920, the AFL monthly magazine ran a cartoon showing "Comms" being booted out of a building labeled "A.F. of L."?

That, in 1933, the Federation officially opposed American recognition of Soviet Russia as a dictatorship with slave labor, as the antithesis of all that America cherishes (and long before World War II, recognized and disclosed the Hitler menace, and opposed shipment of scrap iron to Japan)?

That William Green, president of the AFL, recently said: "Communism is a curse upon humanity which degrades the citizen into the status of a slave and makes the state his master."

That credentials committees at AFL conventions carefully search out any Communists who have evaded detection, and refuse to seat them?

U. S. SENATOR FRANK PORTER GRAHAM, one of America's leading liberals, who was recently named by Governor W. Kerr Scott to serve the unexpired term of the late Senator J. Melville Broughton.

Senator Graham is a native of Charlotte and will deliver the principal address at services in honor of the retirement of School Supt. H. P. Harding at the Army Auditorium Sunday, May 29.

The Senator has recovered from an attack of pneumonia he suffered shortly after assuming office in Washington.

Tobacco Workers Termed a Left Wing Outfit

Washington, May 6.—A government agency said yesterday it is too much to believe a lawyer made two free trips from Washington to North Carolina for a client.

That was a major reason given for a 3 to 2 National Labor Relations board decision that a left-wing CIO union was trying to evade the non-communist affidavit requirement to win bargaining rights for 1,225 Greensboro, N. C., tobacco drying workers.

The majority held the newly formed United Tobacco Workers was only a "front" for the left-wing CIO food, tobacco and agricultural workers union in organizing efforts at the E. J. Reynolds Tobacco company.

Officers of the new union had filed the non-communist oaths required for access to NLRB procedures while officers of the latter group had refused to file them. The Food and Tobacco Workers union is headed by Donald Henderson, who has just returned from a Communist sponsored "peace" conference in Paris.

Part of the testimony in the case was that the United Tobacco workers was without funds yet obtained services of a Washington lawyer for two proceedings in North Carolina.
