

The first snow of the winter holds no fear for the hundreds of children attending school at Mooseheart because the Loyal Order of Moose pledged to protect and develop the children of a fallen brother. Children of Mooseheart, of which there are nearly a thousand, are provided warm clothing, the best of medical care, well prepared food cooked under the most homelike conditions.

The idea in taking this picture was to show the furnishings of one of the many well-lighted rooms at Moosehaven and not to catch this old fellow asleep over his funnies. Everything needed to give a home like atmosphere is furnished those who happily live in Florida, the guests of 750,000 members of the Loyal Order of Moose.

Here's a study in faces with nothing to indicate any one of them fear the days ahead. They have all they want to eat, all they need to wear. They are checked over regularly by physicians attached to Moosehaven. This picture was taken in the sunroom of one of the many modern homes erected and maintained by 750,000 members of the Loyal Order of Moose for aging members.

No wonder the man in the chair is smiling. His hair cut costs him nothing. The barber is not smiling because someone told a joke, either. He's paid for his work by the Loyal Order of Moose. All four men live at Moosehaven without expense due to the thoughtfulness of lodge brothers. The barber is said to be the only one in America who sits as he works.

Don't try telling this little fellow there's no Santa Claus. This scene is reenacted every Christmas at Mooseheart where nearly a 1,000 children, orphans of departed brothers of the Loyal Order of Moose receive presents from all over the world. Santa Claus has never yet forgotten a Mooseheart child.

much a product of, as they are the occasion for, high wages over the long run. The intrusion of wage levels on profit margins in competitive industries is a strong factor in inducing industry to invest in more efficient and productive facilities to protect its margin, and it assures an expanding market for the increased output. Industry tends to stagnate where wage levels are static and margins are guaranteed."

The first book printed on the North American continent was a hymnal, produced on a printing press brought across the Atlantic by the Puritans. The book was entitled "Bay Song Book."

LABOR produces all our goods, And delivers them everywhere; Labor services all our needs— And demands an honest share.

Letter-Press Printing

Letter press printing in the graphic arts means the direct application of inked type and engravings or other type material to paper.

It is the simplest of all graphic methods of reproduction and at the same time the most lasting. It was the method employed by the medieval craftsmen who first applied type to paper and it has persisted throughout the centuries over all innovations, until today, when the best of craftsmanship is sought in a job, there is no alternative to letter press printing, along with high grade paper and typographic good taste.

Magic of the Telephone

Your telephone can do more tricks than a vaudeville magician. It can't sit on its hind legs, but it can stop a corporation's board meeting dead. It can't whistle like a steam locomotive, but it can bring news faster than press or radio. It can't balance a ball on its dial, but it can tell you where to buy your flowers and clothes.

How? Time Service does it. Time Service puts clever advertising messages in 10,000 cars every day... right here in Charlotte, where it counts. Cost? Less than a penny a call.

crowded and substandard housing conditions." Public Housing "The fight for public housing and slum clearance is not yet over. The fight now shifts to the various cities and localities throughout the country which wish to construct public housing projects or undertake slum clearance operations.

"It is clear from past events that local real estate interests will do everything within their power to thwart and frustrate attempts by citizen groups to start these projects in their communities.

"We urge all central labor bodies to take an active interest in housing development within their own community so that labor's victory in the passage of the 1949 bill will bear fruit in the form of fewer blighted areas and more healthful surroundings for our nation's families."

Rent Control "Although the law which passed Congress this year was in some respects stronger than previous rent control statutes it did contain the pernicious 'local option' provision under which rent control has been completely removed from hundreds of communities across the nation.

"In a number of cases, this has meant extreme hardship to families of trade union members. In the city of Dallas, for example, after decontrol, rents rose up to 380 per cent above former levels.

"This convention does not wish the system of rent controls to remain in effect any longer than is absolutely necessary. However, until the supply of low-price housing units can be equalized with the demand effective rent control must be maintained so that families will not be faced with exorbitant increases in rent."

ly and progressively over the long run. "It should also be noted that sustained upward pressure on the part of wages, where downward competitive pressure on prices exists, places a premium on efficiency, and stimulates and encourages improvements in technology and technique. Industrial and technical progress has never been sustained where these pressures were absent and labor was cheap and weak in bargaining power. In a very real sense, increases in productivity are as
