Monroney Invites McCarthy To Challenge Investigation

Sen. Mike Monroney (D., Okla.) has challenged Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R., Wis.) to ask the Senate to discharge its Elections subcommittee from the job of studying McCarthy's activities.

McCarthy had complained that the subcommittee had no right to investigate anything he has done, outside of elections, without approval by the Senate.

Wants Names
 McCarthy asked Subcommittee Chairman Guy Gillette (D., Iowa) for the names of investigators employed by the group, their backgrounds and their salaries. He also wanted to know whether they are limiting their investigations of him to election matters.

Monroney said that McCarthy can make a motion on the floor of the Senate asking that the subcommittee be relieved of its investigation into McCarthy's affairs. The Senate meets again January 8.

This, Monroney said, would result in a direct showdown.

Claims Dishonesty
 McCarthy replied that Monroney's suggestion was "dishonest." He didn't say why he claimed it was dishonest.

The subcommittee is studying charges made last August by Sen. Bill Benton (D., Conn.). Benton requested the investigation with the idea of having McCarthy kicked out of the Senate.
