Under the Stars.

BY HERBERT THORNE. or the "Democrat." Under the beautiful stars alone,

Lord, I feel nearer to Thee, breeze Over the woodland and lea, Up to the beautiful portals of heaven,

I long to be borne by the gentle night

Up to the Sapphirine sea.

Under the beautiful stars alone, Bitter thoughts surge in my brain. I think of the past, of the buried past Over and over again --Think of the hours I have rambled of Solemn indeed's the refrain.

Under the beautiful stars alone. Lord I'm drawn nearer to thee, I see the sweet faces of those who have

Over the beautiful sea: Wonder are they in some beautifu! Silently beck'ning to me?
