TO THE PRESS CONVENTION
The editor of THE DEMOCRAT takes this week to attend the meeting of the North Carolina Press Association at Charlotte. It is a personal sacrifice to us to be away from Scotland Neck during the Congressional convention; but the conventions conflict and it was hardly a matter of choice with us.
We were anxious to see the Congressional convention in Scotland Neck and pleaded for it. It comes, we do not see it. Our interest in the work of the convention is so anxious if we could have attended it in person.
We know our readers will gladly grant us these few days of recess from our regular duties in the office.
And now we lay down the pen and sissors and leave the editorial management of the paper to Mr. W.
C. Allen until we return.
THIRD PARTY TICKET.
The Third party convention met at Halifax last Saturday and nominated a ticket, including county officers and representatives for the Legislature. W. F. Parker was nominated for treasurer, J. H. Dawson for sheriff, G. H. Skinner for register of deeds and for coroner.
W. E. Bowers was nominated for the Senate and J. A. White and J. R.
Hervy for the House.
Candidates Dawson and Hervy are well known republicans in the county, while the other nominees have heretofore been democrats.
The convention selected a colored man as a delegate to the State convention.
HARRITY CHAIRMAN.
At a meeting of the National Democratic Committee in New York last week, W. E. Harvill, of Pennsylvania, was nominated for chairman of the National committee, and there being no other nomination, he was elected by acclamation.
Resolutions were passed thanking Ex-Chairman Bruce for the able and dignified manner in which he had served the national committee as their chairman.
The national committee will have plenty of work to do, and they would just as well get it out at once.

A BLOODY DEED.
Last Saturday the scores flashed the news from Pittsburg, Pa., that H. C. Frick, chairman of the Carnegie company, had just been shot and stabbed in his office.
A crank, calling himself Burkmann, had been about the building three days, the elevator boy said, and he had asked to see Mr. Frick.
Not being suspected of foul play the elevator boy pointed out Mr.
Frick's private office to him, and sent in his card. Mr. Frick said he would see him soon meantime the crank rushed into Mr. Frick's private office where the attempted assassination occurred. Mr. Leishman, a business partner of Mr. Frick's, was in the office.
Before they were aware of danger, Burkman had fired and shot at Frick who took effect in the back of the neck and passed down below the scapula. Frick sprang up and a second shot was fired entering the left side of the neck and lodged in the right ear. Leishman threw him off upon the assistant and wrested the revolver from him.
He instantly drew a dagger and attempted to stop Leishman. Frick though severely wounded by the two balls that had taken effect in his neck, seized the assassin's arm.
The latter freeing himself plunged dagger into Frick's right side twice.
The office boy and deputy sheriff rushed in and crushed the culprit, and the sheriff was in the act of shooting him when Frick remonstrated, saying that they had him safe.
Upon examination it was found that he had dynamite cartridges in his mouth and had evidently intended to commit suicide.
Mr. Frick's wounds were dressed and at last reports he was doing well.
This is one sequel to the Homestead riot. Every one said that the Pinkertons had no right to come down to Homestead and shoot down the mill men like beasts. But whatever sympathy that has been shown and extended for the Homestead strikers, this dastardly deed of the fellow who said he lived in New York, will greatly modify.
The would be assassin when asked why he had tried to kill Mr. Frick would give no definite answer but said, "You ought to know." The people of the town were highly indignant and it was with difficulty that the public authorities kept Burkman from being mobbed.
SPEAKER CRISP.
A Washington telegram to the Richmond Dispatch, dated 23rd says of Speaker Crisp:
"As it is generally conceded that Speaker Crisp will have a walk-over in his district for re-election to Congress, and practically will have no opposition, his services will be much in demand during the campaign this year. He will be asked to make a number of speeches in the more doubtful States, and will doubtless respond to many of the invitations. He is in fine health again, having fully recovered from his severe illness of last winter. Few public men are so strong on the stump as the distinguished Georgian, and it can be depended on that he will do his full share of the hard work expected of all true Democrats this year.
A GREAT SUCCESS.
As a presiding officer the Speaker has not only been a great success, but he is personally and officially popular. He has not tried the one man power as Speaker, nor has he had around him a small clique of men such as has been the custom in times gone by. The consequence is that today the Hon. Charles F.
Crisp has the confidence and respect of the Democrats controlling the next House he is certain to be a great speaker. Gentlemen who opposed him a short time ago now declare him to be a candidate whom no one can be sound on the tariff, the currency, and all the leading issues, and he has proven himself a Democrat of Democrats."

Congressional Convention.
F. A. WOODARD NOMINATED.
Large Crowd. Much Enthusiasm.
For the first time in the history of politics the Congressional convention of this District met in Scotland Neck on Wednesday, July 27th. The counties composing the district are Warren, Northampton, Bertie, Hall fax, Edgecombe, Greene, Wilson, Wayne, and Lenoir. They were all fully and strongly represented by good democrats.
Among the early arrivals could be seen a pretty fair sprinkling of gentlemen who had the unmistakable congressional bee in their bonnets.
This is a hopeful sign. Heretofore the nomination for Congress in this district has gone for the asking, and very frequently went begging. That is not because there was no patriotic citizen who was willing to sacrifice himself upon the altar of his country, and go to Congress; but no democrat could hope to carry the black district.
But now the number of good democrats who sought the nomination proclaim with no uncertain sound that Chestnut's day is done, and that the black district is just on the eve of a perfect redemption. The election day in November will determine how near these surmises come to being correct. Indeed, the glow of the countenances of these delegates indicate that victory is just ahead.
THE CONVENTION.
At 11:25 a. m., Mr. Y. T. Ormond, chairman of the District Executive Committee, called the convention to order in a few well-timed remarks.
In conclusion he called Mr. W. A.
Dunn of Scotland Neck to the chair as temporary chairman of the convention. Mr. Dunn made a ringing speech urging harmony in the democratic ranks. The editors of the democratic papers present were elected as temporary secretaries.
The committees on permanent organization, credentials, and platform retired to consult, and while they were out Swift Galloway of Greene was called upon and responded in a strong speech, emphasizing the democratic party, State and nation. He paid his respects to the Third party and handled them first roughly and then tenderly, saying that when they hear the whole truth they will come back one by one and fight harder for democratic principles than they did before. His speech was listened to with deep attention throughout.
The committee on credentials reported no contest in any county.
The committee on permanent organization reported Mr. Donnel Gilliam of Tarboro as permanent chairman and the temporary secretaries as permanent secretaries. Dr. R. M.
Johnson and J. J. W. Mitchell were appointed by the temporary chairman to escort Mr. Gilliam to the chair. Mr. Gilliam in taking the chair made a speech accepting the honors, and discussing some of the issues that exist between the democratic and republican parties. He said republican victory meant subjection to federal bayonets, but democratic success meant liberty and honor. He called upon every democrat to contribute every thing in his power to promote the success of the party, for that is the duty of the white people of the State. His speech was well received and elicited applause from his hearers.
He announced that the convention was permanently organized for business. The chairman of the committee on platform reported the following platform, which was adopted: RESOLVED 1st. That we reaffirm our allegiance to the democratic party.
2nd. That we adopt the national and state platform of the democratic party as the platform of this convention.
3rd. That we pledge the undivided and enthusiastic support of the democrats of this district, the support of the National, State and Congressional candidates of the democratic party.
Nominations for congress being in order, the Bertie delegation put in nomination Hon. M. L. Wood of that county, Capt. Swift Galloway of Greene county put in nomination Mr. Y. T. Ormond of Greene, Mr.
W. A. Dunn of Halifax county put in nomination Hon. W. H. Kitchin of Halifax county. Rev. Wm.
Grant of Northampton placed in nomination Capt. W. J. Rogers of Northampton, Mr. J. P. Leach of Warren county placed in nomination Mr. W. W. Long of Warren, Mr.
C. B. Aycock of Wayne placed in nomination Mr. F. A. Woodard of Wilson county, Mr. J. R. Urzell of Wilson recommended the nomination of Mr. F. A. Woodard.
On the first ballot the following result was announced: Wood 64, Ormond 27, Carraway 36, Kitchin 28,
Rogers 42, Long 30, Woodard 103.
No objection. On second ballot Mr.
Wood's name was withdrawn and the following result was announced:
Ormond 23, Carraway 36, Kitchin
89, Rogers 55, Long 12, Woodard
120. On the third ballot the following was the result. Ormond 23, Carraway 32, Kitchin 99, Rogers 36,
Long 32, Woodard 114.
The fourth ballot was as follows:
Ormond 28; Carraway 32; Kitchin 76; Rogers 84; Woodard 121; On the fifth ballot the following vote was cast: Ormond 27; Carraway 28; Kitchin 74; Rogers 14; Long 70; Woodard 123.
The sixth ballot resulted as follows: Ormond 19; Carraway 28;
Kitchin 78; Rogers 74; Long 1; Woodard 145. On the seventh ballot the following was the result:
Carraway 50; Kitchin 109; Rogers 50; Long 1; Woodard 123; Peoples 3.
The eighth ballot resulted as follows: Carraway 66; Kitchin 41;
Rogers 11; Long 102; Woodard 125;
The ninth ballot resulted as follows:
Woodard nominated, receiving 169 votes.
Mr. Woodard being called upon responded in a very appreciative speech thanking the convention for the honor conferred upon him. He is a speaker that will carry the banner of the democracy with honor in the coming election.
The nominations for elector were then proceeded with. W. C. Thorne of Halifax county was placed in nomination by W. H. Day of Weldon. Mr. N. J. Rouse of Lenoir county was placed in nomination.
Mr. W. E. Daniel of Halifax was placed in nomination also. Mr.
Taylor placed in nomination Mr. J. P.
Leach of Warren. Mr. H. C. Bourne of Edgecombe was placed in nomination.
Mr. Rouse was nominated on the second ballot, and being called upon responded to a few well-timed remarks.
Mr. W. A. Dunn offered a resolution as follows:
RESOLVED, That the chairman of the Democratic Executive committee of the several counties in the district constitutes an advisory committee with the congressional executive committee for the management of the coming campaign.
After voting thanks to Mr. Cough-lenor for the use of the grove where the convention was held and to the chairman and secretaries for the faithfulness with which they performed their duties, the convention adjourned.
It was a representative body of the democrats of the district. Much enthusiasm was manifested and some good speeches were made. It was a most harmonious convention, free from all bitterness of feeling or faction. The speeches that were made were all conciliatory and did not contribute at all to drive the disaffected farther from the party. Taken all together it was a most pleasant gathering of representative democrats, and its work was highly satisfactory.
Scotland Neck opened wide its doors to welcome the visitors and did all that it could to contribute to the enjoyment of the delegates.
The Executive Committee for the district consists of the following gentlemen: Bertie, J. B. Martin; Edgecombe, Dr. R. H. Speight; Greene, Y. T. Ormond; Halifax, Dr. J.
A. Collins; Lenoir, D. E. Perry; Northampton, C. R. Harrell; Warren, M. J. Hawkins; Wayne, W. R. Allen;
Wilson, E. Barnes, Jr.
A HIGH IDEAL.
We have striven to keep from the columns of these papers every impure line or suggestion of immorality and have tried to have them so chaste that they might be laid in the lap of innocent childhood with no fear of harm or hurt to mind or heart - no tendency to tarnish. In pursuing this course we may not have gratified the morbid taste of the vicious or pandered to the wish of the sensationalist, but we have published a paper that has hurt no home. - J. O. Foy in Winston Sentinel.
We copy the foregoing from Mr.
Foy's valedictory in the Winston Sentinel upon his severing his connection with the paper. THE DEM-OCRAT commends a like ideal to every editor in North Carolina.
When the press can have that moral influence which its opportunity makes possible, it will be more generally recognized as a means of developing noble character.

AT THE NATION'S CAPITAL
WHAT THE LAW MARKERS ARE DOING.
(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, July 25, '92.
This will probably be the last week of the present session of Congress, unless there shall be a dead lock between the House and Senate on the World's Fair appropriation, and that is not regarded by those who ought to be best informed as probable. A member of the House Appropriation bill said this morning that he did not think the attempt of the republicans to make political capital out of democratic opposition to the appropriation would influence any votes when the question comes up again on the report of the conference committee to the House, but that those democrats who had voted against it on Constitutional grounds would be satisfied with having put themselves on record and would not dilatorily in any way prevent the House receding from its previous position, if those favoring the appropriation can muster a majority, and it is generally believed that they can.
As soon as the World's Fair appropriation is disposed of, the House will be ready to adjourn, and unless the anti-option bill, now before the Senate, shall prove a stumbling block, the Senate will raise no objection. The supporters of the anti-option bill in the Senate say that they are in a majority and that they intend to pass the bill before adjourning, but the opposition is a very determined minority and they say they will talk all summer, if necessary to prevent a vote being taken on the bill. There is a good deal of "bluff" in both statements, and if the World's Fair appropriation be disposed of the very warm weather will do the rest, adjournment may be looked for at once.
Col. Oates, chairman of the Pinkerton Investigating committee, has only one arm, but he has nerve enough for a man with a dozen arms, and it was not surprising therefor that when John Devlin, one of the Knights of Labor executive committee, intimated to him that he had favored the Pinkertons in their examination that he should have responded with language which always means fight in Col. Oates, section, and he would have followed it up with a blow had Devlin not been taken away.
So much has been said about the opposition to Mr. Cleveland among those democrats who favor free coinage and of threats being made by them of bolting the ticket, that I went to Representative Bland, of Missouri, who during the several silver contests of the present session was everywhere recognized as the leader of the silver democrats, just before he left Washington. He said in answer to questions: "Yes, we silver democrats were disappointed, and we are still a little mad, too, about our second defeat; but not one of us has ever had the remotest idea of bolting the ticket of our party.
I expect to take the stump for Cleveland and Stevenson, and I expect that every democrat who voted for free coinage will do the same.
Mr. Harrison succeeded in convincing the democratic members of the House committee of Foreign Affairs of the necessity for railroading through the House the bill authorizing him to retaliate upon Canadian vessels for Canadian discriminations against American vessels, and the same bill, after statement made by member, of the Foreign committee in executive session, was unanimously passed by the Senate, although a number of democratic Senators doubted the wisdom of placing such autocratic power in the President.
Lots of silly twaddle has been sent out from Washington during the last two or three days about the democratic Senators having agreed to aid Senators Cameron and Quay to bring about rejection of the nomination of Mr. Shiras, of Pennsylvania, in the hope that the vacancy might eventually be secured by a democrat. It is all rot. A member of the Judiciary committee said on the subject: "There has been no agreement among democrats, and the committee in deferring action on the nomination at the request of the Senators from Mr. Shiras, State only acted in accordance with precedent.
As no charges have been made against Mr. Shiras I expect to see his nomination confirmed this week."

HALIFAX NOTES.
The delegates representing the county Alliance and Peoples party met here last Saturday to nominate candidates for State and county officers. After being in caucus with closed doors for two hours, the convention was finally convened by electing Capt. E. A. Thorne permanent chairman. Mr. Holland was made secretary, with an invitation to the representatives of the press to seats as same.
The rival delegates were called and each township was desired to be represented.
A committee on credentials was selected and one from each township was chosen, as follows: J. R. Shearin, J. R.
Brown, J. A. Pope, C. A. Camp, J. J. Goodwin, C. Bradley, W. M. Martin, W. T. Harbin, M. B. Pitt, W. P. Robertson and C. D.
Hemming.
The report of the committee was that the delegates from each township be accepted and the same be seated.
The delegates to the State convention were next in order and the following were selected: Buttermore, E. A. Thorne delegate at L. A. E. Carter alternate; Brimleyville, J.
R. Shearin; and W. R. Harvey; Commonwealth, J. A. Ponderal, and J. G. Wilson alt.; Edgecombe, C. A. Camp; S. J.
P. Simmons alt.; Halifax, W. E. Barkley del, and C. Bradley alt.; Rosemeath, M. B.
Pitt del, and L. E. Griffio alt.; Palmyra, W. T. Ruffin del, and F. J. Savage alt.; Scotland Neck, J. A. White del, and J. L.
Whitehead alt.; Weldon, R. J. Mayo del, and C. D. Hanning alt.; Littleton, J. A.
Carter del, and Wm. Martin alt.; Faucets J. J. Goodwin del, and J. W. Dickens alt.
After some appropriate remarks Mr. J.
J. Goodwin put in nomination Mr. W. E.
Bowers for the Senate, Mr. J. A. White and W. R. Harvey were chosen for the House. Mr. James T. Dawson for sheriff, W. F. Parker for treasurer, George H.
Skinner for register of deeds, J. R. Sinarin for coroner and Robt. Brinkley for surveyor.
As soon as the nominations were completed each candidate was called upon to express himself and let the people know what he had to say.
Mr. Bowers said he was no speaker, but that as to voting he could "get there" and that the democratic party was trying to turn him back, but they would certainly miss it. He made use of some anecdotes which seemed to be very amusing to the P. P. That there was a certain brilliant and influential man in the county who said to him come back to the old party and that he would give him anything that he wanted. This answer was, that he had nothing to give he wanted.
Mr. White said he thought the Peoples party could expect more from the republican party than from the other.
Mr. Harvey said he would do his best, and that if he lived he expected to be elected.
Mr. Skinner seemed to be full of a speech and thanked the convention for the nomination and that it was an honor he did not expect from the grand old county of Halifax. That he attended the primary of the democrats and he saw the working of them, and some days after he took the platform of the three parties and put them to a test and he readily concluded the P. P. was the one for him. That he had letters from Ben-Terrell, Thos. E. Watson and Col. Harry Skinner who were men of note, and he looked to the P. P. and that they were looking for nominations from this party.
He pledged faithful work to the party and that he was looking for an election.
The Battleboro Recler was endorsed as the Peoples party organ and he resolved to do his part. He said he had thought out 15 years ago the same principles that are now ahead and he pledged himself to stick to the same heretofore.
Capt. Thorne said he did not see why all men could not vote for the Peoples party, that he did not think the people safe in the hands of the Democrats, and that in his opinion the Peoples party would reach the great crises sought by its followers. That the Democratic party comprehended its object, and that the Peoples party could not be driven or hounded. They may be best.
