

Stanley's Gold.

Stanley News.

Only about a month ago gold was discovered on W. S. Ingram's land, and at once Mr. Ingram allowed parties to commence prospecting for the same. As a result in about ten days the entire neighborhood became greatly excited. As many as fifty men began search at once, and an extraordinary rich find has been the result. Last Saturday a nugget weighing 93 dwts. was found and a great many others ranging from 1/2 of a dwt. to 30 dwts. and the farm of about 200 acres that could have been bought for $1,500 has suddenly been increased in value to an extent unknown. Some say $5,000 has been offered for it and others $12,000. As to the manner of working the mine, the old-fashioned rocker is used, but often the gold is clearly detected without the use of the rocker. Mr. Ingram does not want the mine developed any farther. It bids fair to rival the Tebe Saunders mine.

To Protect the Souvenir Coins.

Exchange.

The World's fair directors find themselves in possession of some 25,000,000 souvenir half dollars which they have been unable to dispose of at $1 each. They feel that it would be an injustice to the people who have paid their dollars for souvenirs to issue these at their face value and have decided rather to have them coined over in ordinary halves paying the expenses of so doing at the mint. Notice to this effect will be sent to Washington in a few days. The directors are determined that there shall be no glut of the coins on the market, and people who have paid $1 for them will probably soon find their value above the cost price.

Confession of an Editor.

Marine Journal.

Following is the confession of an editor, clipped from one of our marine exchanges. He says, in making up his yearly statement. "Been asked to drink, 11,326, drank 11,326; requested to retract, 416; retracted, 416; invited to parties fishing for puffs, 3,383; took the hint, 83; didn't take the hint, 3,300; threatened to be whipped, 170; been whipped, 0; didn't come to time, 4; been promised whisky, gin, etc., if we would go after them, 5,219; been after them, 5,219; been asked what is the news, 3,000,000; told 23; didn't know, 201,902; lied about it, 90,806; been to church, 2; changed politics, 32; expect to still, 58; gave to charity, $5; gave for a terrier dog, $25; cash on hand, $4."

Turning the tables on Mr. Depew.

Charity and Children.

"Some years ago," says a writer in the Detroit Free Press, who might have been imagining and might not, "I was in a small town in New York State where Chauncey Depew was billed to make a speech that night, and it happened I stopped at the same hotel he did. Just after supper the editor of the local paper dropped in to see Mr. Depew and the distinguished gentleman proceeded to have some fun with the country journalist. He had, too, and every now and then he rounded up a sentence against the editor by saying: "Oh, you can't believe everything in the newspapers," the editor, having used newspaper matter very largely in his argument. "After the speech making was over the editor met Mr. Depew in the hotel office again, and there was a big crowd present. "Well, my friend," inquired the genial Chauncey, "what did you think of my speech?" "The editor hesitated a moment. "Are you," he asked solemnly, "the genuine Chauncey M. Depew?" "Certainly, why not?" "Are you the one that all the newspapers have been saying was the finest speaker, the greatest talker, the sharpest stumper and the brightest wit before the public?" pursued the editor. "I guess I'm the one," blushed the gentleman. "Why?" "Oh, because you can't believe everything there is in the newspapers," and Depew shook hands with the editor and called it square."

A Puzzling Question.

Exchange.

A small boy in Maine, who brought home a mud turtle from a pond a quarter of a mile away, noticed that whenever let free, the turtle set off in a bee line direction to the pond. The boy tried to confuse the turtle in every way he could devise, but the turtle was too smart for him and always started off in the right direction as if he knew where he was going and was bound to get there in the quickest time possible. And now the boy has puzzled the whole township by demanding to know how that turtle knew in what direction his ancestral pond lay.
