Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

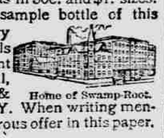
How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton. N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.



Home of Swamp-Root.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Beauty of a Tolerant Spirit.

[Medical Talk for the Home.]

IN the old days of religious intolerance it would have been an unheard of thing for two people of different beliefs to have anything to do with each other, especially of a friendly nature. They might quarrel and bicker and dispute, but any thought of companionship or friendship would have been deemed impossible.

But the world is moving and the spirit of intolerance is fast disappearing. People may differ in their beliefs to-day and yet be friendly with each other. Of course, some of the old, narrow, bigoted intolerance is yet to be found, and the fires of jealousy and envy and hatred of each other burn as fiercely as in the days of the Inquisition. But despite the pessimism of many people, the world is growing better and broader and more sensible, and we are beginning to realize that a person may differ from us in belief and yet not be wholly bad and damnable, but on the other hand be a good, honest, faithful friend.

A beautiful example of this is found in the friendship of Pope Leo and Dr. Mazzoni. Pope Leo stood at the head of a great church, the highest representative of its religion and faith. Dr. Mazzoni was a rank atheist. And yet the Pope and the doctor were the closest friends. Some of the narrow-minded people about the Pope tried to persuade him, in his last sickness, not to have Mazzoni as consultant. But the old Pope loved Mazzoni, had supreme confidence in him, and longed to have him near him. He would not listen to his advisers but kept Mazzoni by him to the end. And Mazzoni loved the Pope. With tears in his eyes he said he would gladly give ten years of his life if he could add but one to that of Leo.

We cannot help but admire the nobility of the two men who were able to rise above and shut out of their lives the narrow, foolish bickerings of contentions that usually attend a difference of belief, keeping the friendship between them strong and untainted by the least suspicion of envy or prejudice. There were so many things on which they did agree, so many good qualities they saw in each other, that they were content and sensible enough to lay aside the point on which they disagreed and simply enjoy the confidence and comradeship that was to them a lifelong source of happiness.

These are the things that make life worth living. To be broad and tolerant enough to find and enjoy the good in others, ignoring their peculiarities and narrowness, respecting their beliefs, refusing to mar the beautiful days of life by any thought of envy, jealousy or hatred. Such an attitude brings to the brain strength and energy, to the body abounding health, making life one long, gladsome day.

Some time we will reach the place where we will look in wonder and pity upon that person who is so insane as to allow his mind to be poisoned and his body injured by the narrow, intolerant thoughts of malice, hatred and envy. Such thinking leaves indelible scars on mind and body alike. Such a person is tearing down and wrecking his mental and physical structure. He is laying up for himself a life of ill-health and unhappiness.

We have no doubt it was this tolerant state of mind on the part of the Pope and Dr. Mazzoni that contributed to the healthy old age which Leo attained.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allas all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. I tried many doctors and medicines, but all failed except DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It cured me." It is a combination of the healing properties of Witch Hazel with antiseptics and emollients; relieves and permanently cures blind, bleeding, itching, and protruding piles, sores, cuts, bruises, eczema, salt rheum and all skin diseases. Sold by E. T. Whithead & Co.

It is well to profit by our mistakes, but it is better not to make any.

GOOD FOR CHILDREN.

The pleasant to take and harmless One Minute Cough Cure gives immediate relief in all cases of Cough, Croup and LaGrippe because it does not pass immediately into the stomach but takes effect right at the seat of the trouble. It draws out the inflamation, heals and soothes and cures permanently by enabling the lungs to contribute pure, life-giving and life-sutaining oxygen to the blood and tissues. Dr. Armstrong, of Delia, Texas, prescribes it daily and says there is no better cough remedy made. Sold by E. T. Whitehead & Co.

The Era of Gifts.

Youths' Companion.

It the making and receiving of gifts contributes vitally to the joy of existence, the children of the twentieth century have reason to congratulate themselves upon their good fortune. In no way has the increasing luxury of American life revealed itself more widely than in this.

Our grandmothers could often count upon their ten fingers the gifts of their childhood. The average American baby of any except the poorest families perhaps receives more gifts from admiring relatives in the first year of his life than his great-grandmother received in her first twenty. For in her day, except for the occasional rare treasure bestowed by some special kindness of fortune, there was but one time of gift-making and receiving, and that the wedding day when the friends and relatives brought their simple presents of household goods and plenishings and provisions to help furnish the new home.

Now the bride that is to be does not have to wait until her wedding day for visible assurance of the affections of her friends. The announcement of her engagement brings to her a multitude of dainty gifts, and every anniversary repeats them. Even before these, there have been the delightful tissue-papered mysteries of birthdays and Christmas and New Year's and St. Valentine's day and Easter, and once or twice the excitement of commencement, with its flowers and boxes, and frequent presents from visiting friends or other friends returning from journeys.

We live truly in an era of gifts.

Is the child—or the grown-up child, for that matter—greatly the happier for all these gifts? Probably not, and for two reasons. One is the grave old law of compensation, so often the leveler of unequal fortunes. A gift cannot mean so much to one who gets a hundred as it does to one who cherishes a solitary treasure.

The other reason is that the great gift of all to any life, no matter how few or how many the years it counts, is love. The child who has that can easily spare material wealth.

There is, nevertheless, one other side to the matter of giving. If luxury in living is increasing every day, as it seems to be, it is surely a pleasant thing that one phase of it is the devising of new and graceful ways of showing our sympathy with friends in everything, whether joy or sorrow, that touches their lives.

"Joints pain you this morning?" Rheumacide will give you quick and thorough relief. Ask your druggist.

"Did you see Bubble and his wife at the reception last night?" "Yes, he was about half-shot, wasn't he?" "Yes, and she was about half powder."—Boston Courier.

RECTOR OF ST. LUKES.

Ashburnham, Ontario, Testifies to the Good Qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Ashburnham, Ont., April 18, 1903.—I think it is only right that I should tell you what a wonderful effect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has produced. The day before Easter I was so distressed with a cold and cough that I did not think to be able to take any duties the next day, as my voice was almost choked by the cough. The same day I received an order from you for a bottle of your cough remedy. I at once procured a sample bottle, and took about three doses of the medicine. To my great relief the cough and cold had completely disappeared and I was able to preach three times on Easter Day. I know that this rapid and effective cure was due to your Cough Remedy. I make this testimonial without solicitation, being glad to have found such a God-sent remedy. Respectfully yours,

E. A. Langfeldt, M. A.,
Rector of St. Luke's Church.

Christmas Fixings.

What's up? 'Tis something very queer
And I would like to know
Why mamma and each little one
Persists in acting so.
Time was when I went home at night
They met me at the door;
But now they scamper out of sight
And I am met no more.

And if by chance I happen in
Unlooked for, so to speak,
Straightway there comes an awful din
And shrill staccato shriek.
Then mamma thrusts beneath her chair
The work she has in hand,
And Rena shakes her ringlets fair
And hides behind the stand.

E'en Dorothy, the little tyke,
Is acting strange and queer;
And none of them appears to like
To see me coming near.
At eve they whisper soft and low
And slyly look at me—
What's up? I'd really like to know
What can the matter be.

They shun me now, yet all the while
As they confer apart
They wink and nod and sweetly smile,
And merry glances dart.
There's something up! Exactly what
It is I want to know;
For now it seems I'm quite forgot—
Huh! Christmas fixings? Oh!

KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE.

Digests all classes of food, tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs. Cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Stomach Troubles, and makes rich, red blood, health and strength. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure rebuilds worn-out tissues, purifies, strengthens and sweetens the stomach. Governor G. W. Atkinson, of W. Va., says: "I have used a number of bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and have found it to be a very effective and, indeed, a powerful remedy for stomach ailments. I recommend it to my friends." Sold by E. T. Whitehead & Co.

"Can any little boy or girl tell me the meaning of the word 'widow?'" asked the teacher. "Well, Willie?" to an urchin who waved his hand vigorously.

"A widow," said Willie breathlessly, "is a man's wife that's lost her husband."

Ten Thousand Churches

In the United States have used the Longman & Martinez Pure Paints.

Every church will be given a liberal quantity whenever they paint.

Don't pay $1.50 a gallon for Linseed oil (worth 60 cents) which you do when you buy thin paint in a can with a paint on it.

8 and 6 make 14, therefore when you want fourteen gallons of paint, buy only eight gallons of L. & M. and mix six gallons of pure linseed oil with it.

You need only four gallons of L. & M. Paint and three gallons of Oil mixed therewith to paint a good sized house.

Houses painted with these paints never grow shabby, even after 18 years.

These celebrated paints are sold by E. T. Whitehead & Co.

Lots of people would rather die a natural death thon send for the doctor.

Sick Blood

Feed pale girls on Scott's Emulsion.

We do not need to give all the reasons why Scott's Emulsion restores the strength and flesh and color of good health to those who suffer from sick blood.

The fact that it is the best preparation of Cod Liver Oil, rich in nutrition, full of healthy stimulation is a suggestion as to why it does what it does.

Scott's Emulsion presents Cod Liver Oil at its best, fullest in strength, least in taste.

Young women in their "teens" are permanently cured of the peculiar disease of the blood which shows itself in paleness, weakness and nervousness, by regular treatment with Scott's Emulsion.

It is a true blood food and is naturally adapted to the cure of the blood sickness from which so many young women suffer.

We will be glad to send a sample to any sufferer.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.
