OBSERVATIONS OF PASSING EVENTS.

ALL over the country the armies of children are turning back to school the young men and young women are turning their faces towards coilege, some after the sum-around the world to-day as perhaps no other living man is honored, and he justly and fully deserves it. His efforts were untiring and his zeal after the summer's vacation and rest. Also the older boys and girls and mer's rest from college studies and some for the first time. To all we wish a most successful year and we trust that efforts of both teachers and students may be fruitful of great good-and we feel sure they will. The work of the schools and colleges in North Carolina for the next ten months will

PRESIDENT Roosevelt's efforts for bringing about conditions of peace between Russia and Japan have made him world-famous. He is honored unabated when many would have given up the hope. President Roosevelt, regarded in the light of his efforts for peace and the success which has attended his efforts, is the representative of no party, but is the exponent of the noblest trait of character ever stamped upon mortal life, and that is genuine love for fellow man. All :nen everywhere honor him for the great service he has rendered Russia and Japan, and all the world as well.

We are not saying that it is not right, for we believe that it is right; but we make the observation in or to lead to what we regard an Important suggestion. And that suggestion is, that parents be careful to do their part in getting the proper and legetimate returns from the money and energy expended in the schools. They can do this in no better way than through cooperation with the teachers in their efforts to advance the pupils. What the teacher can do for the child really amounts to very little unless the parent has a keen interest in the child's success and heartily cooperates with the teacher in his efforts to instruct and advance the child. If a teacher assigns to the child a task at school, the parent is very unwise to encourage the child to regard it lightly. If the parent has criticisms to make concerning the teacher's work and management he will injure the teacher's influence very much by speaking out such criticisms in the presence of the child. To get the best results possible for the time and money invested in the effort to educate children, there must be hearty and complete cooperation between parent and teacher; and every parent can do this the subject of much press comment in the State. It was a most horrible placing the negro Moore under so small a sum as three hundred dollars.

He had committed a grave crime-assaulted with a deadly weapon a white woman. It has been given out that he was seeking her money. But no matter about that, he assaulted her with a deadly weapon and wounded her so that at the time of his trial it was uncertain whether the assault would prove fatal or not. He was placed under a three hundred dollar bond; and, as some one else has suggested, it would not have been a hard matter for a good number of his race to raise the money. Another says that the bond was large enough to hold him and did hold him; but it could have been otherwise. We are not saying that the small amount named in the bond was any reason why he should have been lynched. Not at all, but the fact that there was complaint about the smallness of the bond and that a lynching followed, ought to be suggestive to magistrates. Whoever wilfully and deliberately violates the law and commits crime ought to be put under bond commensurate with the deed. Straw bonds in such cases of violent crime should not be considered. Heavy bonds in such cases would estop any who might excuse a lynching under the circumstance. We need every possible precaution against any color of excuse for lynching. It is to be hoped that the time will soon come, if not already here, when North Carolina will not have to bear the opprobrium which is always heaped upon people who fayor and practice lynchings.

HOW CONSUMPTIONBEGINS.

THE lynching of the negro Moore at New Barne some days ago has been affair, as is every lynching; but no one will defend the action of the committing magistrate in much in the work of educating the child.

Professors of dietetics tell us that the banana is not, as many fruits are, a flavor and nothing moore, but a food and a source of real nutriment. It is it once useful and delicious. . It not only gratifies the palate, but supplies material for combustion and the maintenance of animal heat, while it also builds up the muscles and repairs the worn and threadbare nerves.

But it is in the fresh state that the banana chiefly appeals to us. Its creamy succulence and delicate odor are inviting, and its pleasant sapor is a News. prelude to good digestion. Dependent as that sapor is in ethereal body, which the coal tar investigators have not yet been able to imitate by chemical essence, it is a subtle stimulus to all subsequent elementary processes. And thus it is that the banana is an eminently digestible food. No sense of oppression of drows:ness follows a meal of it, and a meal of it may be bulky
