the North. Forty years ago only 7.8 per cent. of the total number of negroes in this country were to be found in the North. Or to make it more comprehensive, 350.000. To-day 10 3 per cent. are living in the North, or 1,000,000. These figures show a remarkable tendency towards the transfer of the race problem from South to North. The people of the North in the past have been most bitter in their condemnation of the Southerners for their fancied maltreatment of the negroes." Then the News quotes exactly what the Philadelphia Ledger says about the matter and thinks it inconsistent with past contentions of the northern people. The Ledger said : "The black man is not as well regarded by us as he was a while ago. Northern opinion of him has passed from good will to suspicion and dislike. The spectre of the race question has shown its head. The figure of the negro highwayman, ruffian and degenerate has become familiar, and the disposition is generally to conclude that the black man is in the mass irreclaimable and dangerous."

THE COMMON.WEALTH has more than once given expression to the opinion that there is good reason for continuing our representatives in Congress Long Terms in Congress are good and true and able men. The Moore County News prints a clear editorial on this subject to which we give space in this column. It says: "Every Democrat in the State should congratulate himself upon the unanimity with which the congressional conventions, with one exception, have renominated our present Representatives in congress. We have an able delegation, most of whom have now been in congress long enough to wield influence with their brother representatives in the shaping of legislation, and the longer we continue them in the House the greater will be that influence with their fellows, and the more good they will be able to do their constituency and the people of the State at large. It has been said that it takes a Representative in Congress four years to learn the "ropes" so as to be able to do anything for his people. This is doubtless only too true and accounts for the little influence North Carolina has exerted on National legislation since the war, as it has been our custom almost invariably to retire our representatives at the end of four years or just at the time when they begin to become useful, and put new men in to serve their probationary period, and likewise turn them out also; hence, our State has playad a poor part in the National House of Representatives for the last forty years. What we need in congress is seasoned men, who go there from year to year, and by long experience and contact and association with great men, become great and able men themselves. Our people have evidently awakened to this fact, as they have returned almost the entire delegation, all of whom has served two terms and some three and four. And, by the way, this is a delegation of strong men-the strongest we have had in congress in a generation. And such men as our own Bob Page, Small, Thomas, the Kitchins, Pou, Webb and Patterson have grown strong in congress and the longer we keep them there the more they can do for us. The custom in the North is to keep their Representatives in office for long terms, hence their great influence with their fellows. The quicker we adopt the long term plan the sooner the influence of our members will be felt."
