SCENTING THE BLUEFISH

Valuable Information from the Wise Skipper for a Party Out Fishing.

"Ah!" said the skipper out with a party bluefishing, turning his face to windward as he spoke and at the same time throwing the wheel over and bringing the boat up and putting her off on the other tack, "I smell them!"

"You smell them?" said a member of the party in the boat. "Do you mean to tell me you can smell the fish?"

"Why, certainly," said the skipper, as he got another little pull on the sheet, "or you can smell where they are, which amounts to the same thing."

"You see," the skipper continued, "the bluefish is a voracious feeder—very voracious; he will eat about a million of the little fishes that you find around so plentiful in the water, put there apparently for the bigger fish to feed on, and when he has gorged himself on about a million, more or less, of these little fishes the bluefish will settle down on the bottom and there discharge them, and this discharged food, oily, floats up to the surface, and that you can smell, and it means bluefish; and I can smell them now, sure." And so the skipper got an inch more of the sheet and peered ahead and kept her a-going with every inch drawing, just a humming and a-boiling, keen on the scent.

And did the party come up with the bluefish and catch lots of them? A boatload of fish? Keep hauling them in till they all got tired of fishing? Well, that—as a once celebrated English writer has so aptly remarked—that is another story; scenting bluefish and catching them being two quite different things.

DRESS SUIT FOR A CHURCH

Interesting Information Given by the Groom to the Shrinking Bride.

They were on their honeymoon—he, all-important; she, timid and shrinking. He intended that she should miss none of the sights as they rode down Broadway, New York, in an open car one hot night, so he called her attention to various points of interest in a very loud voice and with elaborate gesticulation. His ideas, however, were rather hazy as to location, and she looked in vain, at his solicitation, for the Metropolitan tower clock on the Flatiron building, although she assured him timidly that she had seen it. Then the conductor, at Fourteenth street, volunteered "This is Herald square, where the new Pennsylvania station is to be." After this startling information, given in all seriousness, passengers were even more amazed to hear the bridegroom saying: "Just a minute now and we come to Grace street."

"Grace street?" she asked. "What's that?"

"Oh, that's a big church, where all the swells go. Here it is now—as the stately outline of the church came in view—and would you believe it? You can't get in without a dress suit!"

It was with real regret that an interested listener had to signal for the car to stop.

Polishing by Hot Air.

The marvels of friction are infinite. The use of the sand blast for polishing metals is quite a recent invention, and now it is followed by that of a blast of simple hot air. It is the velocity that gives the polishing power. The articles to be treated are placed in a basket in a centrifugal machine driven at a very high speed and heated air is blown from a pipe through the basket. A high polish is thus produced very rapidly.

Nickel plated articles that have become tarnished are made bright in a few minutes. Wet metal fresh from the bath needs no preliminary drying, for the current of air dries and polishes at the same moment. It is only necessary to so pack the articles that the air reaches them on all sides.—Youth's Companion.

An Awkward Compliment.

An inspector-general was relating incidents of famous national encampments.

"I remember a little Japanese who attended one of our banquets," he said, smiling, "and a queer compliment that he paid to a colonel's wife. I sat between the two and the lady said across me: 'Mr. Takashira, you compress the ladies' feet in your country, don't you?'"

"Oh, no, madam; that is a Chinese custom," said the Japanese. "We Japanese allow our ladies' feet to grow to their full size. Not that—"

"And he bowed and hissed in the polite Japanese way."

"Not that they could hope to rival yours, madam!"—Modern Society.

Russia Now Has Woman Lawyer.

Dr. Katherine Fleischer has just been admitted to the bar in Russia, and will practice her profession in St. Petersburg. She is the first woman lawyer in the czar's dominions, and she passed the final examinations with high honors. She met with much opposition when she first announced her intention of studying law. Prejudice was strong, even from influential members of her sex. She persisted in her ambition against all obstacles, however, and came out triumphant. It is her hope to fight the legal battles of women, and she seeks them especially as clients. Dr. Fleischer is an ardent suffragette and predicts she will live to see women sitting in the duma.

IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW.

What a Heap of Happiness It Would Bring to Scotland Neck Homes.

Hard to do housework with an aching back. Brings you hours of misery at leisure or at work. If women only knew the cause—that Backache pains come from sick kidneys. "I would save much needless woe," Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys.

Scotland Neck people endorse this: Mrs. Joe Allbrook, Ninth St., Scotland Neck, N. C., says: "I suffered from a kidney weakness for sometime. The kidney secretions were highly colored, too frequent in passage, and caused me great annoyance. I also had severe pains through my loins and my back ached almost constantly. I was hardly able to do my housework and at times it really felt as if my back would break. I finally learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and am glad to say that a short use banished the backache. I have not suffered from any symptom of kidney complaint since and feel so much better in every way since using Doan's Kidney Pills that I am glad to give them my recommendation."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Company, Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

In "Human Nature Under Fire"

in Success Magazine, Will Irwin tells the following story:

The fire, not the earthquake, destroyed San Francisco. Few buildings really went down, and those were old brick structures of flimsy workmanship, or wooden houses half rotted by age. In the second story of such a building slept a middle-aged couple. The house settled gently forward, and out went the bed, all standing, onto the sidewalk. The wife sprang out of bed on one side, and regarded her husband on the other.

"Well," she said, "this will teach you to wear a nightshirt in future."

"My child was burned terribly about the face, neck and chest. I applied Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. The pain ceased and the child sank into a restful sleep."—Mrs. Nancy M. Hanson, Hamburg, N. Y.

The man who can run a newspaper to suit everybody has gone to heaven long ago, says The Laurens, S. C., Advertiser. Not so; for any man who tries it will lose what religion he may have and all chances of ever getting to heaven. Those newspaper men now in heaven were from among the ones who conducted their paper to suit themselves and did not bother about the kickers.—Charlotte Observer.

We're sorry if you've tried other remedies and they failed. As a last resort try Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. It's a simple remedy, but it's worked wonders, made millions well and happy. Purifies the blood, makes flesh and muscle, cleanses your system. E. T. Whitehead Company.

A current item reminds us that the inventor of roller skates came to America in 1760. He must be dead and therefore safe by this time.—New York Tribune.

Kills Her Foe of 20 Years.

"The most merciless enemy I had for 20 years," declares Mrs. James Duncan, of Haynesville, Me., "was Dyspepsia. I suffered intensely after eating or drinking and could scarcely sleep. After many remedies had failed and several doctors gave me up, I tried Electric Bitters, which cured me completely. Now I can eat anything. I am 70 years old and am overjoyed to get my health and strength back again." For indigestion, loss of appetite, kidney trouble, lame back, female complaints, it's unequalled. Only 50c at E. T. ### Forced into Exile.

It saves thousands yearly from desperate lung diseases. Infallible for coughs and colds, it dispels hoarseness and sore throat. ### Fifty Bushels or a Bale Per Acre.

"I have succeeded in getting my land up to a yield of 50 bushels of corn or a bale of cotton per acre and now I am going to add some convenience to my home, such as, telephone, water works, etc.," said a Cleveland county Farmers' Union man the other day. By a well devised system of rotation, sowing soil improving crops and deep plowing, it does not take many years to bring land up to a degree of fertility that will produce 50 bushels of corn or a bale of cotton per acre, and no farmer should be satisfied with less yield than this. The secret of success is soil improvement. The wise farmer makes his money by investments in the soil, by spending money to improve the soil. Some young farmers who have adopted the new way are making as much corn on two acres as their fathers made on a two horse farm. By all means spend your money to improve your soil and keep on spending it till you reach a yield that will make farming easy and life on the farm worth living. Let the minimum be "Fifty Bushels or a Bale Per Acre." —Union Farmer.

Teddy, after having a drink of plain soda water, was asked how he liked it.

"Not very well," he replied. "It tastes too much as though my foot had gone to asleep in my mouth."—Success Magazine.

She—Why, the gas bill was only half as large as usual.—St. Louis Times.

"Why does that man look so unhappy?"
"He married for money."
"Does marrying for money bring unhappiness?"
"It did in this case—the girl was disinherited when her people heard about it."—Montgomery Advertiser.

Women Suffer Agencies from Diseased Kidneys

And Most Women Do This Not Real Cause of their Condition

These poor, suffering women have been led to believe that their misery of mind and body is entirely due to "ills of their sex." Usually the kidneys and bladder are responsible—largely so. And in such cases, the kidneys and bladder are the organs, that need and must have attention.

Those torturing, enervating sick headaches, dragging pains in back, groin and limbs, bloating and swelling of the extremities, extreme nervousness or hysteria, listlessness and constant tired, worn-out feeling—are almost certain symptoms of disordered and diseased kidneys, bladder and liver.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills have, in thousands of cases, been demonstrated as remarkably beneficial in all such conditions of female organism—affording the most prompt relief and permanent benefit.

As an illustration of what these Pills will do, Mrs. P. M. Bray of Columbus, Ga., writes that she was very ill with kidney trouble, and that she is now well—and that these Pills are what cured her.

They are very pleasant to take, and can in no case, produce any deleterious effects upon the system—as a syrupy, alcoholic, liquid preparation.
